What was your post high school education or training?

I attended Miami University for four years and received a Bachelor of Arts and Sciences in Interpersonal Communications. I attended the University of Cincinnati for two years and obtained a Masters in Counseling.

What was your favorite high school course?

I loved my Communications class because it was so different from the other curriculum. We were able to be creative and have fun.

What do today's students need to know?

That you do not have to have it all figured out right now, but work toward something! Set small goals, and then move on to the next one. I had no idea I would end up where I am today, but continuing to focus on learning new things and completing each class I took successfully slowly pointed me in the right direction.
