Essential Questions

- How is where we live vital to how we live?
- How can something that is good for one be bad for another?

Enduring Understandings with Unit Goals

EU 1: The success of human civilization is causally related to access to water, both promoting life in ancient history and causing conflict in modern history.

- Describe the geography of the Middle East in terms of landforms, bodies of water, climate, and political boundaries and compare it to local geography
- Describe the elements of early human civilization in the Fertile Crescent and its relationship with water
- Compare and contrast daily life in water-poor locations to student life explain the relationship between water scarcity and conflict

EU 2: Oil reserves in the Middle East have contributed to both increased wealth and political power, as well as heightened income inequity and international military conflict.

- Evaluate the positive and negative impacts of oil in OPEC nations
- Critique the role oil plays in international cooperation and warfare

Standards

Daily Learning Objectives with Do Now Activities

Students will be able to...

- Construct a graphic organizer to visually display key elements of culture
 - What do you think about when you think about your “culture”?
- Investigate the culture and geography of the Middle East
 - Imagine you’re meeting someone from the Middle East for the first time. What questions would you ask to learn more about their culture and geography?
- Use close reading strategies to analyze the role of water in the birth of human civilization
 - Which human invention do you think is the most important? Why?
- Draw inferences about early civilizations and their relationship with water by analyzing technology, laws, literature, and art. *
 - The earliest civilizations existed 5,000 years ago. Do you think you’d have anything in common with them? Why or why not?
 - What are some of the ways life seemed better in Sumer? What are some of the ways life seemed worse?
- Generate predictions about life in water-scarce regions based on a map analysis and close reading
 - What would happen if there wasn’t enough water in the US for one day? A month? A year?
- Use close reading strategies to analyze the role of water in international conflict*
 - What are “notes,” and how do you take them?
- Plan, write, and revise an informative essay about the role of water in shaping human life past and present *
 - What are some of the ways water changed the course of human history AND changes life for humans today?
 - Review the feedback I left on your essay. Raise your hand now and ask me questions if you do not understand my comments.
- Analyze the impact of oil reserves on people of the Middle East through a simulation
 - How would the world be different if we no longer had gasoline for our cars?
- Evaluate and investigate the worth of natural oil reserves and income inequality in OPEC
 - List 5 natural resources you think can make a country rich
- Investigate the causes and effect of Operation Desert Storm*
 - What are some reasons countries go to war?

Instructional Strategies/Differentiated Instruction

- Whole group instruction
- Guided notes
- Paragraph frames and sentence starters
- Student-led instruction
- Student choice

Unit 2: Geography & Resources

7th Grade Social Studies

19 Class Meetings

Updated June 2022

- Written feedback
- Cornell notes
- Accountable talk
- Homework
- Anchor charts
- Small group instruction
- Conferencing
- Text and video chunking with guiding questions
- Close reading with text-dependent questions

EL Differentiation Strategies

- Word walls with visuals
- TWPS (think, write, pair, share)
- Pre-reading strategies
- Culturally responsive teaching
- Explicit teacher modeling
- Key vocabulary
- Graphic organizers
- Strategic grouping
- Non-verbal assessments

Assessments

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENTS:

- Do Now
- Student discussions and responses
- Exit Slips
- Accountable Talk Discussions
- Completed notes
- Completed graphic organizers
- Homework
- Map work
- Unit Task - “Peace in the Middle East”
 - Accountable Talk Rubric

SUMMATIVE ASSESSMENTS:

- Informative Essay: How has water changed the course of human life? (EU 1)
- Argumentative Essay: Which is more valuable, oil or water? (EU 2)
- Unit Task - “UN General Assembly”

Unit 2: Geography & Resources

Unit Task

Unit Task Name: “Peace in the Middle East”

Description: Students will work in small groups to represent one of the nations in the Middle East. As delegates representing their country, students will write a one-page proposal outlining one small change people around the world can make to contribute to peace in the Middle East. The proposal must address the cause of the problem, the effects of the problem, and a solution. Students must mention both the role of water (EU 1) and oil (EU 2) in either contributing to or improving the problem. Students will then use their proposal to create a video PSA persuading other nations to help their cause. The PSA must anticipate rebuttals and use accountable talk skills, including questioning, during their PSA.

Evaluation: Summative Assessment, Literacy Rubric, and Accountable Talk Rubric
