I want to share a few bright spots at our school. We have our fabulous Parent Teacher Association (PTA) & our Love Dad's Club who are working to ensure we share a truly inclusive school community. Please visit their website and make sure to join. One of our goals is to connect and build on our relationships with you and to work with you as partners. Despite the challenges that the pandemic brought to our community, we saw determination and resilience in our Love community united to support all students and their learning goals every day. The talent, innovation, and creativity of our staff provided pathways to learning when it mattered the most.

This new school year, our school will continue to be a place where all children will be happy and learning. Our school vision is to ensure our students learn to think critically and be positive leaders in the larger global community.

We are committed to our mission of providing an engaging curriculum where our students' language, cultures, and traditions are reflected in what they learn in the classroom. As your principal, one of my goals is to ensure we are continuously improving to better serve our students and families. This year, I am committed to listening and learning - so we can affect change for a more just society.

Respectfully,

Tina K. Lagdamen, Principal
