

Running Record Reading Goals for Second Grade

1st Trimester : Independent J/K/L

2nd Trimester : Independent L/M

3rd Trimester : Independent M

Running records are administered to students throughout the year to determine the appropriate independent and instructional reading levels. During a running record, a child reads a leveled passage, then retells the story and answers a set of questions to determine understanding of events and characters.

The INDEPENDENT level is the level at which a student can read and understand without support. This requires a high level of comprehension, the ability to retell and converse about the story, strong decoding capabilities for that level, and the ability to monitor his/her reading and reading behaviors. The books your child brings home in his or her reading bag, are the books at their independent reading level.

The INSTRUCTIONAL level is the level at which learning takes place. The teacher provides the needed support for challenging vocabulary, concepts, structures, and phonetic work - prompting and teaching the child to employ new strategies when reading new text. Your child reads books at both their independent and instructional level during our reading workshop.

The FRUSTRATION/HARD level is when a student cannot successfully navigate the text either in accuracy or comprehension, even when support is available.

Thank you for continuing to read with your child at home!
