

Women in Educational Leadership (WEL) Institute

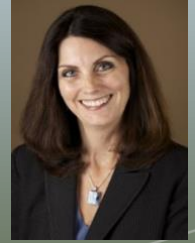

Facilitated By

Dr. Suzette Lovely & Brenda Hall

The WEL Institute grew out of a desire to see more women flourish in school leadership positions. Since 2017, the network has grown to over 320 participants from 42 school districts and colleges across Southern California.

WEL brings together female educators serving in a variety of leadership roles to fortify the strategies, connections and finesse they need to navigate their careers. We invite you to join us on this voyage of networking, confidence building and self-discovery.

Session highlights:

- Understand the nuances of inclusive thinking and leadership
- Find the right words so that people will listen to your ideas
- Pursue and align yourself with mentors, sponsors and other career catalysts
- Learn to notice, nurture and advance talent - especially in those who are underrepresented or marginalized
- Know what it takes to get ahead and drive results
- Network and grow with other thought partners from across the region

Testimonials from our 2019-20 Cohort

“I loved all the presentations! The most important part was the message that women are powerful, and that together we can be champions for each other.”

“The session on cultural proficiency and the newly learned concept of ‘non-ness’ was a well-timed call to action for all of us.”

“While I still have my inner critic, it was your work that gave me the courage to take the next step and apply for a principalship. I thank God for putting you ladies in my life.”
