The Board reconvened at 7:39 PM.

Travis Crytzer addressed the Board. He spoke a few weeks ago concerning the same matter and asked why domestic violence has not been addressed on all levels. Why is Administration held to a different ethical standard than other employees? If not in the height of the budget season would the response be different, is this the kind of behavior students can use as a positive role model? Professional Standards and Practices Commission standard jurisdiction is to impose against administrations, described by ethical in school and in the community, in fulfilling ones conduct in and out of school that reflects wealth in the schools. I don't believe this happens but all Federal, State and Local laws reflect equal treatment to all members in the profession. I don't feel this is done either, conduct outside of school hours is included, and what message this sends to students of the district and other districts. Teachers employed if they did similar would be immediately expelled and the student or other colleagues including those in administration and the community at large. That concludes my statement, he hopes to receive a response and hopes others are also waiting to send letters to me, take very seriously and hope you all do too as it sets a precedence to other employees.

There were no others who addressed the Board.
