Campus Happenings:

I enjoyed my first assembly with the Orangevale Campus last week. One of the upper elementary classes did student-written skits to demonstrate the importance of being Safe, Respectful & Responsible. Each month one class does something to represent the Value of the Month.

I held the first CAC meeting of the school year. I have moved it to the evening to get more attendance. This meeting primarily focused on the council and committee chairs bringing me up to speed on events and fundraisers. Group inquired about the status of the fencing and swings, which have been “in the works” for several years. Group also echoed what other parents have asked since my arrival: what is the plan for more space so we can have a middle school?

Our first Early Release Day professional development was a success. Teachers appreciated having a presentation then open forum with one of our behavior specialists to discuss ways to support students on the spectrum and students with behavior needs in the classroom. A “nuts & bolts” staff meeting was also held during that afternoon.

Our upcoming event for the entire community will be the Harvest Festival the end of October.
