Campus Happenings:

Report cards are completed, and from what I read, students are making good progress overall.

Our next hurdle is the CAASPP preparation and testing. Our Dean has been in trainings in order to bring back changes to the teaching staff.

Our recent campus event was the Winter Festival and Science Fair, which was delightful.

Coming in February is our Apex Fun Run, which I am looking forward to. I know the students and staff will get much from the character development program, and the campus overall will appreciate the funds raised.

The fence and swing projects are moving forward. The District Architect has approved and forwarded his approval to the SJUSD. Once all approvals and bids are in, we can begin construction of both. It has been a long time coming, so I know the campus community will be thrilled.

And of course you know that Orangevale will now have a middle school next year starting with 12 (so far) 7th graders. This has certainly caused much excitement among the parents and students.
