

We've Got Skills for Success

Alumni Spotlight: Jacob Kerber

2017 West Shore & Bay Village High School graduate Jacob Kerber found success while still in high school. His senior capstone team in the Electronic Engineering Technology program developed a camera for use on police cruisers that was endorsed by local police departments and eventually was purchased by a foreign investor for production.

This early success motivated Jacob to further pursue electronic engineering as a student at Cleveland State University. To offset his educational expenses, Jacob used the skill set he developed in his West Shore program to get a part-time job at Best Buy. Impressed with his performance, Best Buy offered to pay his college tuition while also working as a full-time supervisor of the car sound and computer departments. Jacob continues to work at Best Buy, is currently completing his 3rd year at CSU and serves as a member to West Shore's Electronic Engineering Technology advisory board.

Jacob's Electronics teacher, Andre Bruwer, says that "Jacob was always a focused, goal-driven student. There was never any doubt he was destined to go on to do great things. This is only the beginning of this young man's success story."
