

The Class of 1993 Selects...

Daniel A. D'Aniello (Class of 1964)

D'Aniello is managing director and one of three originating partners of The Carlyle Group. Formed in 1987, The Carlyle Group is a Washington, D.C. based investment firm concentrating on the acquisition of both public and private companies. The firm has completed acquisitions of companies with a combined capital value in excess of $3 billion, revenues in excess of $4 billion, and a work force approaching 40,000 people.

D'Aniello currently serves on the board of directors of four major companies including CB Commercial Real Estate, the world's largest real estate services company, and Baker & Taylor, the world's largest book, video, and software distribution company. Prior to forming The Carlyle Group, D'Aniello was Vice President of Finance and Development at Marriott Corporation. A Distinguished Naval Graduate at Officers Candidate School in 1968, D'Aniello went on to become a magna cum laude graduate of Syracuse University.

He received his master of business administration degree in 1974 from Harvard Business School. D'Aniello has served on the President's Commission on White House Fellowships, the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Foundation, and the Fight for Children, Inc. He resides in Vienna, VA.