

EPISODE 6

We have lots going on this summer at MU!

For instance, every summer, our students who participate in the Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) program work on a research project along with a faculty mentor. Hear what Caitlyn has to say about the program and her research involving Schwann cells.

Our Physical Therapy students have been hitting the pool this summer conducting research with the visually impaired. During an 8-week collaboration with Northeast Sight Services, the students are seeing how swimming impacts people's balance, strength, and function. Check out this video on WNEP.com and learn more about it.

As you can tell, our students are doing great things even in the summer! Check us out virtually to see everything that we have going on at MU.

Stay tuned for more fun in the next Happenings@MU email!
