Golf Girls' Tennis

In the background
Coach Folkerts
eyed each swinging club
as bright orange golf balls
soared through the air and the Meadow Lark sun created competing shadows of Bill Smith
Mark Proeshel and Jim Allen —
individual minds,
combined in a team,
attempting to achieve
a perfect lie on the green.

My memories of tennis are people:

Betsy, who battled with the best of the west-suburban schools; Joy, well known for her rifle-shot serves; Laurie and Amy, the (almost) unbeatable, (very) inseparable team; Dawn, and her marathon sets; Miss Vandenberg, the substitute coach, who took us all shopping with left over time; Dr. T., and his carry-out dinner (dried fruit, Hi-C, and peanut butter crackers); and everyone, we all became friends. Maybe our wins were pleasant surprises, but, without fail we always had fun.

Girls' Cross Country

The Girls' Cross Country Team
minus Janet Boettcher (knee injury)
peeled off sweats and wind breakers and raced through a drizzly Miller Meadow morning
and lost
their first PSL
in four years.
but somehow effort —
(Veldhouse's exact words)
there were three
"outstanding performances"
by Tricia, Beth, and Karen — team unity
and across-the-finish-line hugs
helped make the fifth place finish
a victory.

In the PSL finals after running the entire Miller Meadow course side by side with John Vargo and debating whether to end the race side by side (team spirit) he pulled ahead by a little and regained the PSL championship he won as a sophomore because "individual goals are important" and so it was a disappointed Pat McNamara that — burned out from close to 1000 miles this summer, a near marathon run of 25 miles, working incredibly hard all year (including leading the team to victory in the Calvin meet) and "outside pressures" — finished eighteenth in state competition, three places behind John Vargo and sixteen places behind his second place goal.

Freshmen Initiation

At 7:50 freshmen initiation began (illegally) on bus 17
 and the grade school girls giggled
 as their every-other-day-of-the-week tormenters
 sat helpless
 with elastic rubber bands
 squeezing little brown and blonde tufts of hair straight up
 and two (now-ex) friends,
 forced to hold hands
 and cuddle cheek-to-cheek thrust the same-gendered lips together —
 the ultimate humiliation.

Octoberfest is . . .

Down-to-earth Harkema-prayers,
diapers and dollies,
pink paint splatters and
enchanted front-row smiles,
electrifying Saturday-weary singers,
stinging apple cider,
shoebox cookies,
and balloons.

Fall Play

Not just reading lines,
but "getting into character,"
Mr. Day's "Come on people . . ." lectures and daily dinners of "Cheeseburger, fries, and a coke, please,"
trying to catch fly-away lines
before they flit out of reach,
the desperate panic of a butterfly ballet
on the opening night,
and the empty finality
of the last bow.

Varsity Girls' Basketball

A team that began its tournament warm-ups with Miriam Barnes shouldering a ghetto box belting out Amy Grant Christmas music, and had two players (Beth Ramey and Janet Zaagman) gullible enough to bow down to Michael Jordan and the Byrd repeating "O what a goose I am," and then ended its existence at the team party blindfolding its coach, painting her finger and toenails hot pink, dangling hot pink earrings from her ears and gifting her with a hot "Forenza" Shirt from "the Limited" has to have been the "funniest" ever.

HOMECOMING GAME

What's it like
when the whole season boils down to this split-second fraction of a lifetime —
one minute and light seconds of the Homecoming Game?

What's it like
when the coach calls a time-out at 19 seconds left,
and you know you've gotta win,
but the score is still tied at 35-35

What's it like
when the clock is your prime opponent, and you have the ball
you hold the game —
but you're just so far from the basket?

What's it like
to see the ball fall through the hoop,
to hear the buzzer, the roaring crowd,
and know that you've won the last home game of the season?

Eric Ratliff and Jon Kuyers know: it's ECSTATIC!!

Varsity Cheerleaders First Row: Sue Anderson, Annette Beyler, Shari Ronda, Celeste Vriesman, Sally Marquardt, Wendy Okkema.

There were up-on-counter practices Wednesday after school, and eating Jackie's skittles was the only learning tool.

There were silent front-seat bus rides to Saturday morning meets and breakfast stops after weigh-ins and "Eat and Sleep defeat!"

Then eight cheerleaders sat Indian style adjacent to the mat, chanting, "Take him down for two, Big Red!" or "Pin his shoulders flat!"

"My knees are purple." "Well, my tooth hurts."

These were phrases that we lived through because wrestling cheerleaders have a spirit basketball cheerleaders can't compare to.

Trumpet

I write for the Trumpet:

I
get assignments
when I have the most homework,
interview teachers
while my stomach wages war against battling butterflies,
use my study halls
deciphering notes scratched in
hurry-up-ese,
write it over
so everyone can understand,
write it again
because Miss Vandenberg says so,
wait and see ing my effort
my words
and my name in print-
somehow, it's worth it.

Saga

Dear Mr. Harkema,
You've succeeded at your task and accomplished
your aim
cuz I've sat here for hours just confusing my brain.

The words just won't flow and I'm dealing in rhymes,
so please deal with me and give me some time.
I know it's not fair to do this to you cuz your deadline is nearer and you're worried too.

When I took this job, I'd never have dreamed that I needed perfection, but without it, it seems that I'm just wasting time and my thoughts won't be clear

and the people won't relate (my ultimate fear).
Thanks for all of your help and your encouragement too

cuz without it, I doubt that I'd make it through the pressures that "Golf" can put on one's mind.
So thanks for everything and all of your time.

Lanette Sellers (according to Mr. Slager) could have been an all conference outfielder, but instead (to help the team) she pitched and played third and some times, coming in after a good defensive play, the little girl in her would come out and she would leap enthusiastically into the air; but mostly what came out was side-line pep talks and pre-game exercises, and Lanette emerged as the much needed team leader for this year's young team.

As a Freshman Tricia DeBoer set the school record in the mile run with a 5:26.3, and that record still stands because Tricia ran the mile in 5:34.2 as a sophomore, 5:40.5 as a junior, and 5:56.1 as a senior, proving in girls' track AS UP THEY GROW (into young ladies) DOWN THEY SLOW (as athletes); but from the frustration of knowing she was working as hard as ever but running slower times, Tricia salvaged second place finishes in the PSL this year in both the mile and the two mile runs. ## ACADEMICS

Chapel

Every Tuesday, every Thursday there's a time (we call it Chapel) when we don't rush back to our lockers, forget about books left behind, sit, being more-or less quiet. It's when we listen: "Stupid Effort is changed by Love and Faith." "For 50¢ I'd let you touch me." It's when we sing: basses belting, "Bu-bubba-bubblin," sopranos screeching, "Wonderful grace of Jesus reee-ches me," concert choir trying to please Mr. Wolterstorff.

It's when we pray: "Lord, help Heidi. Hold Mrs. Landman in the Palm of Your Hand. Be with the Beylers, now and forever. May the words of our mouths And the meditation of our hearts Be pleasing in Your sight."
— Mary Emshoff

1. For once, everyone is listening. 2. One of the many chapel speakers. 3. Readers Theater gives chapel. 4. A singing quartet.

English

One day in English, we sang (off key)

"Happy Birthday to you,
Happy Birthday to you,
Happy Birthday, dear ..."

Missy Klein (feeling very small) sat at the front of the class, hiding her cherry-cheeked face in her hands —
"... Missy, Happy Birthday to yooooou!"

"Sweet sixteen and never been kissed!" yelled a 'friend' who has since paid the price.

"Well," smiled Mr. Day, "We'll just have to solve that."
— and her stomach sank into her shoes.

Now, as a rite of passage into sweet sixteen-hood, Michelle, Diane, and Missy Klein, have all been kissed (on the cheek, of course) by the new Richard Dawson —

Mr. Day.

— Mary Emshoff

2

1. Mr. Day tells his English class stories. 2. Yes, another paper! 3. Matt listens intently. 4. Kevin loves his English class.

Latin

1. Seniors try very hard not to fall asleep in Latin. 2. Da mihi basiam!! 3. How come Mr. Harkema is the only one excited about the Aeneid? 4. The sophomore Latin class.

German

Sixth hour, April 1, Mr. Harkema found (quid agiter?) ten German students in room 7 and Mrs. Raley found (was ist das?) eleven Latin students in room 66 and so for one period the German students were hic-haec-hoc-ing instead of der-die-das-ing and Mrs. Raley discovered she had digitoes among other things because it was April Fools.

1. Man lernt hier Deutsch. 2. Please don't ask me, I don't know it, I have no idea! 3. Schüler lernen. 4. The Frau teaches German with Italian hand signals.

Bible

Rev. Reitsma
leaks a muffled "Sssss"
that smothers
the bleak-eyed 1st hour Bible class.
The overhead is
tooled to center stage
and students
let their fingers do
the walking through Paul's Second Missionary Journey.
— Jenny Voortman

1

1. Now how did that verse go? 2. Miss Allen, are you doing Bible? 3. Ethics can't be that boring! 4. Typical Rev. Reitsma stance.

4

Math

the mirage of whole sensible numbers
dangling right outside the limits
of human conception,
doing two assignments on one page
to help Mr. Veldhouse save the trees, Fred's frustration,
Mark's verbal agony and peevly
front-row whines,
definitions that memorized for only one known purpose — irreversible brain-strain,
and spending precious review hours
calculating how many times a bee will bounce between two oncoming trains.

— Chris Allen

1

1. Mr. Huizinga, a new addition to the math staff. 2. Mr. Veldhouse showing his unusual side. 3. Mr. Geometry himself. 4. This guy really knows how to take notes. 5. Jeff is reluctant to hand in his three page useless computer program.

Social Studies

1. Another day, another President. 2. The desk-top teacher. 3. Mr. Slager's infamous multiple-guess tests. 4. More folder padding.

The snap crackle pop
of a projector
slices the
filmy bubble
of silence,
lights jump on,
Jeannie turns to me
straight-faced
and confused,
"Did only ugly people go west?"
— Jenny Voortman

1. I knew I should have studied. 2. History on the overhead. 3. "Nice laugh, dude!" 4. Psychology.

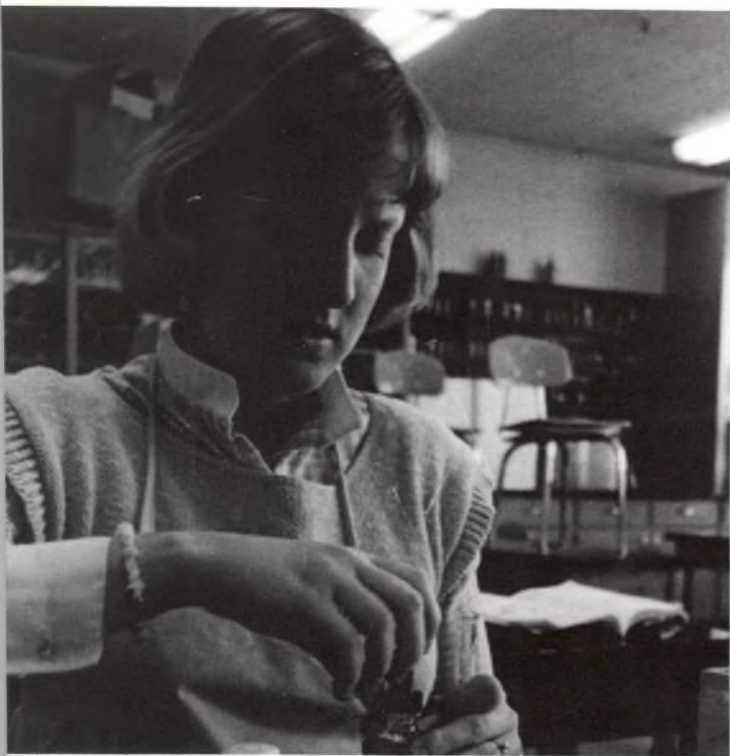

you are now entering the PHYSICS ZONE
 WATCH FOR FALLING ROCKS
 and birds, millimeters, film loops and everlasting gobstoppers dribbling from Voortman's pocket
 across the linoleum
 SLIPPERY WHEN WET
 (the ripple tank is activated)
 DON'T WALK, talk or gawk
 NO PASSING ZONE
 to get a C (or above) you must break the law — Newton's law of inertia that is.
 — Chris Allen and Kevin Van Kanegan

Science

1. Relaxing in physics with Dr. T. 2. Sam and Tom show us the proper lab technique. 3. The annual Vandenburg field trip to the forest. 4. That's some frog you've got there, Eric!

1. Dina Doig in deep concentration. 2. Julianna and Debbie debate their Bunsen burner. 3. Balance precision. 4. The Biology class at Starved Rock. 5. Only one drop!

Home Economics

Why would a guy take Foods class?
 To learn how to make ice cream?
 Because he's fallen in love with Mrs. Stulp?
 To come late to his next period class
 on an average of 2.5 times per week?
 To get a taste of food before it's fallen into the hands of his mother?
 Why does a girl take Foods class?
 To watch six-foot, muscled hunks
 get covered in flour from head to toe.
 — Mary Emshoff

2

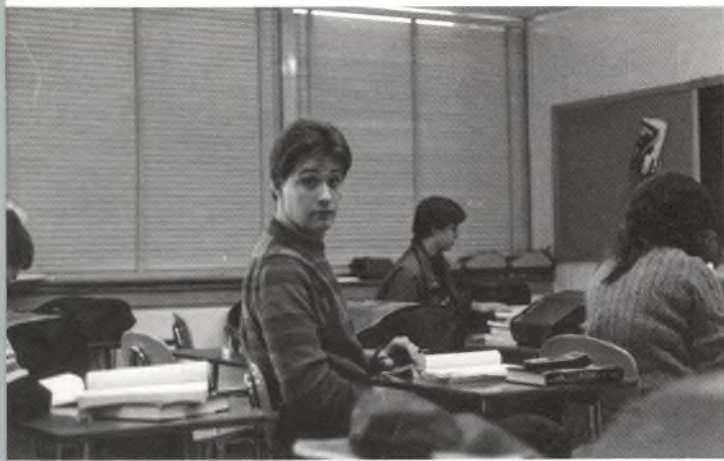

1. Foods class celebrates the end of the year with a candlelight dinner. 2. Andrea uses all her might to stir the dough. 3. "Don't give up girls, it's not that bad!"

Business

4

1. Good form, Karen. 2. Got a problem, Art? 3. Business games. 4. Is this letter a "u" or an "a"?

Band

Four Ways of Looking at Band

1. A worthwhile walk from harsh chalk-boarded classrooms
to the soft yellow gym.
2. Walking down the hall
by myself, hidden
by hundreds of bodies,
I'm tapped on my shoulder
"Hi, Mr. Landman."
3. "Any band can play loud;
it takes a good band to play soft."
4. Rules for band:
#1) The conductor is
always right.
#2) If the conductor
is wrong, refer back to Rule #1.

— Chris Allen

Physical Education

Welcome to Basic Training or
May I Introduce You To Mr. Folkerts
Okay, girls Every body has a limit,
the maximum extreme when you can't breathe any harder,
sweat any more or ache any sorer.
We'll find that limit and by the end of this unit, we'll break it.
You have never been pushed as relentlessly as you will be,
and this summer on the beach you'll thank me for it.
— Chris Allen

The Librarian's Song

Where has all of the library gone?
 Magic-making addition builders
 Subtracted it here,
 and (poof!) Room 6 appeared.
 Where have all the books gone?
 They are hiding away in brimmingful
 boxes locked up and waiting Someday, my room will come,
 Someday, they'll get it done,
 Books full of wisdom
 and unexplored worlds
 will be let loose at last!
 Our shrinky-dink cubby hole
 has seen better days, but someday . . .
 . . . Someday, they'll give me my library back.
 Lord, give me patience.
 — Mary Emshoff

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 85!

Even youths grow tired and weary,
and young men stumble and fall;
but those who hope in the Lord
will renew their strength.

They will soar on wings like eagles,
they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint.

Take a Closer Look at Trinity Christian College

What makes Trinity special? Above all else, Christian is our middle name, and that makes everything about Trinity different from most other colleges.

- At Trinity, all of learning and life is approached from a Christian perspective.
- Trinity's comprehensive, Christ-centered curriculum helps each student find God's purpose for his or her life.
- With access to the metropolitan Chicago job market, Trinity prepares each student for service with solid Christian principles and a semester-long professional internship.
- Trinity's faculty are committed Reformed Christians, and 57 percent hold a doctorate or comparable degree. With a 12-to-1 student-to-faculty ratio, every student benefits directly.
- With chapel services, Bible studies, dorm life, classes, and extra-curriculars, Trinity gives students a caring, Christian atmosphere in which to grow.

CHRISTIAN LEARNING
FOR CHRISTIAN SERVICE

At Reformed Bible College, you prepare for Christian service not only through solid courses that you complete. You also participate in a unique "hands-on" program of serving others while you study. RBC's focus on both classroom fundamentals and practical Christian service in the field, leads to a high job placement record for our graduates. Add the benefits of quality student life, a dedicated and caring faculty, a diversified curriculum, and adequate financial aid resources — and you have Reformed Bible College.
