"Octoberfest" 2005

octoberfest

Food, Fun, & Friends!

- EVERY song applying to the theme
- Missing verses of "Goodnight, Irene"
- Excitable freshmen pop their balloons too early, and the Saturday night co-chair solo is skipped!
- Zero cross-dressing tolerance (with the exception of Dave Voss the Ballerina)

"The freshmen want a feast! The babysitter's sleepin', she won't mind in the least!" Once they finally got the difficult, list-like lyrics down pat, the freshmen really enjoyed performing this song. It was a great way to kick-off the evening!

The junior girls loved the song "Lollipop" and weren't satisfied until all the notes were perfected. The girls argue that they beat the junior guys in the "dance-offs" after practices...but the guys' opinions strongly differ.

The co-chairs Jenni Groot, Jorie Ellens, & Aaron Bardolph sing the final and finest song of Octoberfest, "There's a Pea on My Plate". After hours upon hours of hard work and planning, our lovely co-chairs pulled off yet another successful Octoberfest!

The basketball champions cheered, "YEAH for us!" The seniors' favorite song was "Homemade Lemonade." It was a smashing hit with the class and the audience! Solos were given to some seniors for the roles of the Scuba Man, Shirley & Sue, and Tatiana the ballerina; each senior performed fantastically!

After Katrina Denny was stranded on stage for about five minutes, her duet partner, Alex Origiano, finally decided to show up and they performed a wonderful rendition of "Beans, Beans, the Magical Fruit". The question is: are beans "magical fruit" or "musical fruit?"

Aaron Mitchnowski and Peter Hegel stole the show with "Eat It". Not only was the song hilarious, but these two actually had inflatable suits. When they started they were normal-sized... by the end of the song they had blown up like balloons! It took the audience a little while to realize what was happening, then everyone roared with laughter.

Mr. Roleofs once again portrayed the amazing "Captain Vegetable" and did a great job in convincing "Andy" (Mr. Snoeyink) that veggies are indeed better than candy. This Octoberfest classic never fails to be a huge success.

Not only do the girls use the entire band room for changing, but these sophomore girls have resorted to battling the crowds in the girls' bathroom to get dolled-up before the show. The guys only get two choir practice rooms to get ready in. No one is technically allowed to keep their clothes in the bathroom... but everyone does.

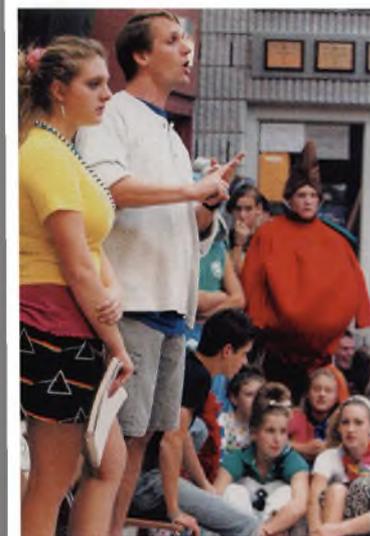

The freshmen class perform an Octoberfest classic: "A Peanut Sat on a Railroad Track". The Napoleon Dynamite fluttering move was a big hit!

Goofy sophomore guys just LOVE to smile... or not smile...for the yearbook camera. You can just sense the anxiety rising up inside of them...they can't wait for Octoberfest!

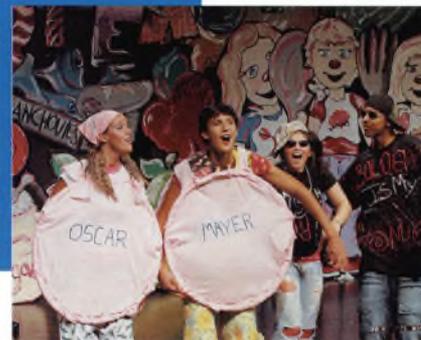

Timothy's newest teachers, Mr. Taming and Mr. Hersey, received the "honor" of singing like babies in the teachers song "Fried Ham." The audience got a kick out of watching the two of them playfully whack each other over the head with their toys.

Mr. Hackert and Jenni Groot give out "Goodnight, one" solos to the very picky seniors. Verses were given...and no one was volunteering; they all had their hearts set on specific verses already. And EVERYONE wanted Saturday night solos.

The Fine Arts members show off their hard work from the Paint Party; and what fine work they did! After painting food items for a few hours everyone left craving their favorite snacks!

The "Bologna Rap" was a HUGE success! Everyone loved it! A small group of seniors re-vamped the lyrics of the Oscar Mayer B-a-l-o-g-n-a jingle. The smooth-moved background dancers boasted shirts saying "Bologna is my Hamie". A favorite lyric was: "keep me fresh to def, don't leave me on yo' shelf!"

The junior guys looked super spiffy in their unique suspenders. "Eat Your Fruit" always managed to get stuck in everyone's head. Hank Iwema played the delicious, shiny red apple while Peter Hegel and Jason Boomsma wowed us with their tenor-talents.

Costume changes aren't always easy... Here Ryan Holtrop puts his muscles to the test trying to get his comrade, Colin DuBois, out of his 'form-fitting' Octoberfest garb.

Early Saturday morning, Fine Arts members swarm the art room preparing to paint! The fun really started after students got a little rambunctious with their paints...within an hour everyone was covered creatively, and often intentionally, with splatters of bright colored paint. Everyone had a good and messy time!

2nd row: Jon Denny, Daniel Woldman, Bradley Groenewold, Mark Zylstra, Benjamin Dykema
Last row: Coach Zylstra, Anna Swierenga, Alexis Euwema, Leah Bosman, Kristen VanKampen, Anna Boo Samantha Goedeke

The boys stampede down the path. "If I was Ben Dykema I would be in the front of the pack, too. But I'm just the 8th grader."
-Jon Denny

Alexis pulls through the race with strength, thinking, "Am I almost done?"

Before the last sprint, the girls huddle together for prayer before a long race at Lisle.

Tom and Jon battle out the race. Who's going to win?

The team takes a charming picture in front of Running Central, a favorite store for the athletes in training.

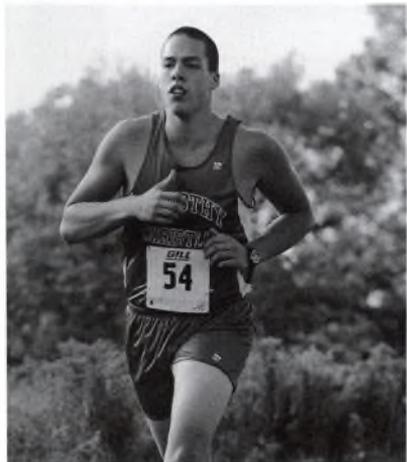

The girls stay focused and ready as they wait for a shot to begin the race.

Ben gets interviewed by our favorite reporter, Bill Stone, after the tough race in Peoria downstate. "Elmhurst Does today, Chicago Tribune next year." -Ben Dykema Coach Zylstra and the state runners take a picture in front of the I HSA Cross Country State Finals sign. Alexis' and Ben's legs are dead, from a hard days run.

Bradley Groenewold runs his race strong. As a senior, he comments, "Four years ago, when I joined the team, if someone told me it was going to be easy, they would have been lying, but if they told me it was going to be worth it, they would have been right on."

Samantha Goedeke runs down the trodden path waiting to see the finish line in sight.

Alexis Euwema is being interviewed by our favorite reporter after a long race.

the sound of music

With songs they have sung for a thousand years

Max tells Elsa that she and the captain have too much money for their love to survive. Max played by Andrew Ziegler and Elsa played by Alyssa VanStaalduinen were stupendous. They always lit up the stage when they stepped on.

Our Favorite Memories

- Amanda Hays
- Max having to pick Mother Abbess or Liesl to marry in the telegram
- Friedrich stuffing his bow tie down his pants
- "Louisl"
- The nuns getting fat and playing cards with Nazi soldiers
- The von Trapp family cheer
- Franz not showing up on stage.
- "Oh Captain, My Captain"

Rolf, played by Ben Schemper, explains to Liesl, played by Leia Vos, that some people think they should be German. Mr. Wolterstorff made Ben cut his long hair for the show which he didn't like. On Friday night he and Amanda Hays wrote in the telegram to Max, "We both want to marry you. Pick one, Mother Abbess and Liesl." Max was surprised but covered it well on stage and eventually picked Mather Abbess.

The Pit Orchestra: Adrienne Searer, April Fiedler, Marielle O Zonny Escudero, Jan Denny, Sarah Cram Natalie Mulder, Nate Meyer, Nate DeJon Will Roelofs, Ellen Angelica, Matt Veselsky Mike Capozzoli

Mother Abbess played by Janelle Schuurman sings, "Climb every mountain, ford every stream, follow every rainbow till you find your dream," to help Maria decide to go back to her captain.

After dancing, the party goes listen as the children sing, "So Long, Farewell." Believe it or not, hardly anyone practiced waltzing in from a mirror like they were told to. There were not enough boys to dance with all of the girls in rehearsal so some girls had to dance with another girl. Kate Dylong and Nora Kieker made up a dance for the Laendle and did a great job teaching it to us.

Aaron Michnowski, the butler, grew some extra arms that might come in handy to help with the seven children. He liked to mix things up and one of his favorite lines to change was, "Oh captain, my captain," when talking to Captain von Trapp on Saturday.

Captain von Trapp sings "Edelweiss" for the last time with his children before he is taken to his new command in the Third Reich von Trapp family ran away over the mountains to hide. "We had a great time and became like a real family," said Caroline He. They are going to have a von Trapp family reunion if they can

"Oh, please, Captain, love Gretl, love all of them. They need you!" said Maria played by Amanda Bulhuis. Amanda did an outstanding job with her captain, Peter Hegel. A few weeks before the performance Amanda was stuck in Mexico and everyone worried that she might not make it back in time.

Our two wonderful directors, Mr. Day and Mr. Wolterstorff, before the musical. Mr. Day said, "This was one of the only musicals without the sleepless night syndrome the nights before the musical because I felt that everyone was prepared."

"You're quite an experience for me, too. Somewhere there is a fascinating man. Occasionally I catch a glimpse of him and when I do, he's exciting."

Sister Sophia, Mother Abbess, Sister Berthe, and Sister Margareta always pray before going on stage. On Saturday they decided that they wanted to become fat using pillows half way through the musical. Mr. Wolterstorff told them that they were going on a crash diet, but the sisters couldn't stop laughing when they went on stage.

Maria sings a song about a lonely mother finding his love to comfort children when they are afraid of storm.

Nicole Canton playing Mother Abbess sings about her favorite things before breaking the news to Maria that she must leave the Abbey.

"Jon Voss heads the ball, in the process losing approximately 6,000 brain cells, causing permanent damage to the cerebral cortex, which could lead to a negative impact on his Honors Biology grade."
-VK

Ryan Hoff tries to maneuver his way around his Hinsdale Central opponent. "It's great playing midfield because I get to sprint with the ball and try to score."

Dane VanReken prepares to take the ball from his opponent after a battle down the field. "One of the funniest things that happened this season was Jeremy Hoving getting a yellow card."

Josh Hjelmgren, in the air, fights for the ball. He was known his team as the "hairy one" because, rumor has it, he shaves to 3 times a day.

Justin Groenewold prepares to strike the ball. He has learned his skills from watching his older brother, Jeff, play the past years on Timothy's teams. Jeff is now a junior on the Varsity Soccer team.

Kent Dixon marks his man. "My favorite thing about soccer is when we play well together and as a team. I love to play defense and pass the ball, because it is fun."

Peter Tameling takes a goal kick, sending the ball half-way down the field. He split his time between the freshman soccer and JV soccer teams.

- Josh Pegman getting his foot stuck in the fence
- Kris Liefeld's spectacular foot save vs. Wheaton Academy
- Great team play

Tim, Ryan, and Dave make a wall against an Illiana goal kick. Ryan and Dave are preparing to jump, but what about Tim?

Joel Sytsma recalls one of his most embarrassing moments, "One time I scored on my own goal. It was a corner kick and I actually headed it in."

During the game against Illiana, David Dodgson squints and tries to head the ball correctly. "Getting hit in the face with the ball is one of the most embarrassing moments in a soccer game."

Josh Pegman tries to steal the ball with his mad skills. He comments that, "One of my favorite things about soccer is getting assists."

Taylor taps the ball so that Tim can get in stride and take it up field. "My favorite thing about soccer is the bond between the team."
-Taylor Slager

Kris Liefeld, who has more than seven years experience as a goalie, stops the ball and gets ready to punt it.

For Dave Voss, putting on his right shin guard, sock, and cleat is key to his pre-game ritual. He doesn't know why, it's just how he's always done it. Perhaps we should all give it a try!

Raul Tamez, with a back injury early in the season, and Dan Bolt, with a sprained ankle, support the team from the bench.

JT Sterenberg's quick skills "wow" the crowd. In order to thrill the fans, JT eats a cinnamon roll Power Bar for the games, as well as a purple Riptide Rush Gatorade.

With a powerful throw delivered by Jan McGrath, Jeb Nash, shows the opposing upper classmen how it's done.

Underclassmen strike a pose. (They're not just soccer players, they're models) Tanning is a high priority for the boys. They have to stay in tip top shape for their screaming fans.

Ben Schemper punts the ball to help the team move towards a goal. Ben sported his "goldie locks" throughout the season to attract a few more lady fans.

Dan Waldman and Cooper Venema bump chests as the starting line-up is announced.

"I kicked the ball out cause the player was injured."

Natalie Kuick hits one over the net. So far, she is the only Kuick girl out of her three older sisters to play volleyball for Timothy.

The coaches look on and watch Lauren receive a serve with excellent form. Jenna Stech wondered later on in the season, "Lauren, do you have coyotes in the cornfields in your neighborhood?"

Meghan Leach had a very effective serve during the season. Her teammates often said, "She's a bullet!" Her older brother Ryan, a junior, often made appearances at her games.

freshmen thought it would be super cool and rebellious to t.p. for Courtney Van Reken. So at 3 a.m. in the morning Courtney woke to the familiar thumping of rolls of toilet paper hitting the ground. She thought that it was her brother Dane's friends up to no good. But alas, it was her they were t.p.ing. Here's the best part: their coach drove them.

Candace Wieringa gets ready to slam the ball with her killer serve. She recalls, "We worked team work this season by holding onto ropes."

As Chryssy attacks the ball, Ashley and Lindsay work to cover for her. All season long the girls worked hard to learn how to improve their covering skills.

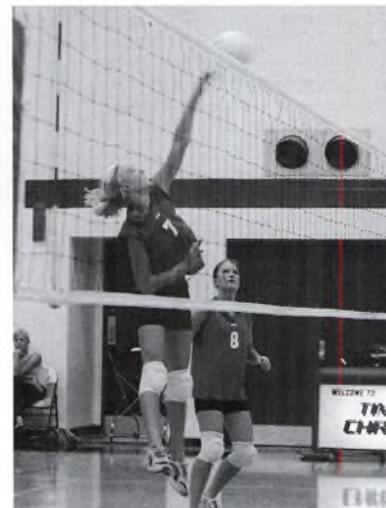

This year the JV team had two setters, Lindsay VanderBrug and Emily Vos. Their talent, hard work, and knowledge of the game aided in the success of the team.

Lindsay and Jamie go up for a big block. As always, Timothy had a great height advantage over most teams they encountered, allowing them to block with ease and consistency.

senior/faculty football

Seniors Dominate, 21-8!!

- End of a 24-year drought
- Jon McGrath's three interceptions
- Dave Voss scoring the first touchdown on return
- VK ripping Evan DuBois's shirt
- Tom Marshall tackling DK
- Dominating defense, high power offense

Fans enjoy their time at the annual Seniors Faculty football game. Friday, October will forever go down in history as the day seniors creamed the faculty. "It was the perfect storm of forces," Roelofs says.

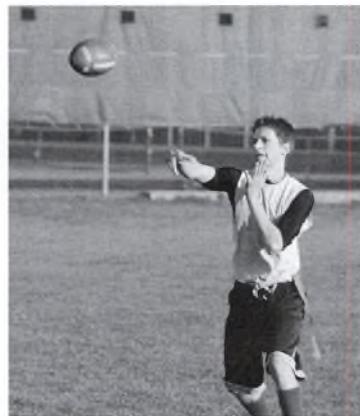

The faculty plans the next run. The classic "ramming the ball down the seniors' gullet" is a favorite of Mr. Roelofs.

Are you ready for some football?! In addition to breaking a 24-year losing streak, our senior boys manage to hold our teachers to a single touchdown.

SENIORS WIN! SENIORS WIN! 21-8

After a brilliant game of football, the drought is finally over! Class of 2006 proves they have what it takes.

Senior Evan DuBois throws a pass. Later, Mr. VanderKamp would proceed to rip the shirt off Evan's back while he scored a touchdown. Unfortunately, the play would later be nullified due to movement after the set.

Senior Povas Miknaitis dominates over the faculty's offense. Though Mr. Anderson had stellar passing skills, (due to his collegiate experience) he was unable to run the ball as much as previous years because of a knee injury.

Dave Voss runs for a touchdown, avoiding the faculty defense. In the end, Dave scored a total of two touchdowns.

The senior boys show just how serious they take football with their collared shirts and ties. They held practices more than any other class before them to prepare for the ultimate game.

Though the game contained several controversial calls, the boys kept it clean. The seniors "weren't too concerned about the calls," according to DuBois.

Showing Christ's love through action

Nick Smith, Ji-Su Kim, Rebekah Procter, and David Zigterman take a break to take a picture in front of a house that was destroyed when Katrina hit.

"Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world." James 1:27

Tony Iwema spends a few minutes on the ground with some kids in Mexico. In one of the skits the group put on, he played the Jesus character showing the love of Christ through acting instead of words.

I was driving along the coastline and I saw a sign that said 'Katrina big, but God is bigger.' That showed me that even though something had caused this much damage, God still had everything in His control."
-Courtney Babko

The group below went to Pearlington, Mississippi with Mr. Dekoekkoek and Mr. Hull during spring break.

Ruth Dodgson went on the trip to Ensenada, Mexico. They spent a lot of time working with kids and got really attached.

"It was an awesome experience that really opened our eyes to the things that we so easily overlook in our daily lives."
-Dawn Wieringa
Toronto, Ontario, Canada, Summer 2005

"The trip to Mexico was my first missions trip. I realized that I take for granted all that I have and the people there had less than I do, but they had so much more joy for the Lord."

Ensenada, Mexico with Mr. Hersey, Spring Break 2006
-Jessica Mitchnowski

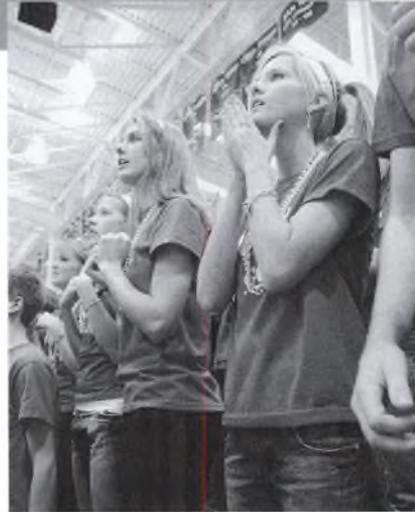

Ly Geelhoed and Katrina Denny spent time with the English camp pastor's daughters in Husinec, Czech Republic. While teaching a ten day Christian language camp, the girls befriended the girls and were able to share their testimonies.

Since Pearlington, Mississippi had very few volunteers, the team that went down had a lot of work to do. Julianna Faber and Jamie Bosman helped paint a church that they had helped clean out for two days.

The Snowball was an empty dance, besides the snowman and his date. But the few that were there (mainly the varsity girls basketball team) came with glowsticks which were supplied by Liv Garcia.

The last back to school dance was enjoyed by senior girls as they looked back on their high school dance experience. "Freshman year through senior year, Back to School Dance was the best always."
-Alyssa Van Heukel

Chrissy and Kristen were thrilled with each other's company at Turnabout.

Nikki, Amanda, Jorie, Abbie, Nora, and Kate experience their third of four turnabouts. They danced the night away with each other as well as their dates.

Matt, Kevin, Bob, and JD provide the entertainment for the Upperclassmen Barbeque before the Back to School Dance.

Upperclassmen cook it up in the school parking lot at the barbeque.

Liv, Cori, and Brad chill during the Snowball. They were laughing at Courtney Van Reken knocking over a speaker during "Cotton Eyed Joe."

Who called the police?! Mr. Rinsema was left to explain why so many teenagers were hanging out in the parking lot.

Maribeth, Brittany, and Cori smile big at their first Turnabout.

"Turnabout was a blast! We went to Hacienda for dinner and were promised a free dessert if we ate all our food. It was a challenge, but after much stuffing we definitely earned our free dessert!"
- Jenna DeWit

Q & A
with Candace Wieringa

1. Who was your date for Turnabout, and how did you ask him?
Joel Sysma. I asked with Rachel Embry, who asked Ryan Evenhouse. We took pictures of the words "Will you go to Turnabout with ME." "To" was from a STOP sign, "Will" was shaped out of french fries, "Turnabout" was written in sand, and "Joel" was a Jewel sign. We held up an 'M' and an 'E'. The boys were called to the office to receive their mysteries. Joel recalls trying to read the words in the sand, "it was kinda hard to read. Turn... Turnabout?"

Jared shows off some of his sweet dancing skills at this year's Turnabout.

Brandon takes his eyes off of Bethany for a second so they can take a quick picture.

Kaitlin gets down with some friends. Wait, where are her friends?

Joel helps Jon Voss out by showing him the way to the dance, just in case he might get lost in the high school.

neke is definitely my favorite freshman besides my brother, but he's family so it doesn't count."
- Katrina Denny

A circle of love formed when Meghan Leach and Adam Bulthuis began to slow dance as freshmen.

Jenni and Carly douse their hair in the sinks after a long night of sweating and shaking their groove thang. The air conditioning was turned off for the night. "We just decided that we were too hot for the dance. We had to cool down a little."
-Jenni Groot

"No more pictures or autographs please," comments Bob as he refuses the paparazzi.

humboldt dinner

- Twenty kids and their families
- Donation dilemmas
- Abundance of food
- Pepperidge Farm bread
- Kids bustin' through our piñata
- Quick gift reversal before Santa arrived
- Thanks to all the committee members who gave 100 percent to the evening and gave their time for the event!

Amanda Rychtanek serves the food family style as Katie Kearney looks on. The meal included roast, turkey, vegetables, mashed potatoes, and rolls.

Set in tradition, Mr. Weiner shares the Christmas story from the book of Luke with the kids. Ranging from two to sixteen years old, the kids thoroughly enjoyed the Christmas celebration.

Naomi Rivera passes out the presents to the kids. Each Student Ministry member was given money to purchase a child's gift, knowing only their name, age, and gender. Sue Kim bought a laser tag game for her little boy, and his mom remarked afterwards that that was exactly what he had wished for.

Ellen Angelico and Natalie Kuick play Christmas carol as the families eat their dinner. Members of the choir sang later on in the evening.

Zach Fuka, Naomi Rivera, and Katie Kearney help transform the cafeteria into a winter wonderland. The evening revolved around the theme of snowflakes. Michelle Benisek and Elise Kuick planned the entire night's decor and events.

Abbie DeVries stuffs the Christmas stockings that would later hang on the fake fireplace. Each had the child's name on it and was filled with small toys, goodies, and stuffed animals.

Later in the evening, Santa Clause made his fated appearance. Matt Rogalski played the chubby gift-giver, and sat patiently as every child took their picture with him.

The lovely ladies on the the Stratford trip pose for a picture while waiting for LIBRinsema to get the bus. They had just seen and greatly enjoyed the play "Into the Woods." There were mixed reviews among the group, and no one could get the title song out of their heads...it was the perfect little song for irritating LIBRinsema.

"We had to stand in the freezing cold with Bill, aka William Shakespeare. He had the creepiest eyes EVER!" - Leia

Aaron, Brad, Greta, Naomi, Alyssa, and Peter pose for a picture before a late night dip. "We played 20 questions in the pool because it was so cold. Then, Brad pushed in Leia, and I had to avenge her, so I pushed Brad in." - Alyssa

Some of theaterfest's ladies having a great time. Rebekah Proctor said, "The best workshop was about surround sound because the instructor recommended that we illegally download things from the internet."

Zoe shows off her war scar from Stratford. She fell, cut her chin, and had to go to the emergency room to get 8 stitches. "The worst thing was waking up covered in blood. It was gross."

While waiting for the performance of "As you Like It" a group of buff statues drew the attention of the girls. Greta made a special friend in this metal man. "He wasn't very comfortable and it was very cold out, but I couldn't resist sitting on his lap!"

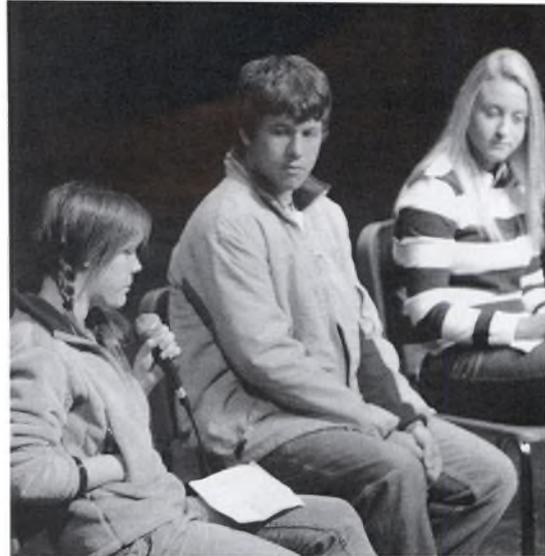

Naomi and Leia flex their macho muscles and threaten all boys who come knocking on the wrong windows late at night. They also intimidated boys who threw buckets of water at them.

- Pechanio's Masterpiece Theater
- The documentary on Tom
- Movies with Matt and John
- The "profound" paddle or whatever it was Katelin Jones, Andrew Ziegler, and Amanda Rychtanek participated in a worship panel discussion earlier in the year about their spiritual life. The students discussed and answered questions about their personal faith and what they do to keep a strong relationship with God.

Mr. Contant, who heads up the praise team for worship, helps lead the student body in a variety of worship songs. Mr. Contant said, "It's been great to see God work in mysterious ways, especially when you think you're in store for a flop."

Bob Voss and Dani Johns talked about lies, swears and a little bit of sarcasm. Danielle said, "I think having student panels during chapel was a great idea. It was hard to be honest in front of the entire student body. I knew I was saying things that might not be socially "acceptable" but since the topic was lying, I knew I had to tell the truth."

Mr. Slager and Mr. Wolterstorff help their former colleague Rev. Jeff Klein demonstrate the negative things that get in the way of our Christian life by placing signs listing some of them on the teachers. He talked about the disciplines that you need to build a strong relationship with God.

Pechanio's Masterpiece Theater presents the annual Christmas production Uncle Jim brings the kids of the Shoenpark family some rulers with Bible verses on them while Dave Voss enjoys his nice new flower print shirt.

Ed Skowron from New Tribe Missions talked to students in chapel about the tools needed for being a missionary. He had Melissa Tameling and Dan Sourile put on some clothes that a typical missionary would wear.

Manny Mills shared his personal story along with his cool collapsible cross podium. He gave a tribute to Mr. Stremler who worked closely with Manny at Koinonia House Ministries, a program to help people recently out of prison put their life back together.

The Student Body gathers together in small groups to pray together about things going on in our world and for the people around us dealing with struggles.

care convention

"Cast all your cares upon him because he cares for you"

1 Peter 5:7

- You put the "care" in Care Convention
- Brad: "Sorry, wait, can we just start over?"
- Small groups getting off topic
- Some amazing bonding
- Really, really intense Tunnels of Love

Emily Geelhoed: (in an Arabic robot voice) "Silly teenAger. How cOULD ANYONE be TEMPtEd by FieEtinG PoPuLARitY aNd FuN?"
Dave Voss: "We ArE NOt HUMan, wE aRE ANdrOiDs."

Support staff isn't all fun and games. Here, some (and Mr. Bosman) are working hard on writing care notes for all the 7th graders. The notes ranged from silly phrases to very meaningful notes of encouragement and care. They tried to keep the notes unique, but after the first thirty or so...fresh ideas started running low.

Dawn Wieringa smiles alongside her cheery small group. Each small group modeled and decorated colored bandanas and paper bags for care notes. Not only did the Support Staff members write notes to the youngin's but they got a chance to write each other notes as well. These notes were even more encouraging and impacting because they came from their peers. There's nothing like a "Hey you're really cool and smart!" from a high schooler to make a middle schooler's spirit soar.

Rachel DeGroot and her small group of girls take a moment to pose while singing worship songs led by Mr. Bosman. The 7th graders had to show the high schoolers how all the cool motions were done.

Mrs. Schuurman, Timothy's middle school counselor, is amazing. She helped keep all the Care Convention volunteers on schedule, organized, and well-fed during the day.

Before everyone could stuff their faces with pizza, the entire group gathered in Faith Church's sanctuary for a group photo. Everyone smiled nervously as the photographer proceeded to lean further and further back on the mega-ladder to fit everyone in the shot. Katie Kearney and her friends' cheeks were tired from all the smiling. All they wanted was pizza!

crazy junior and senior support staffers are pumped about their Tunnel of Love. They can hardly wait to greet the 7th graders. Though they will admit, their intense enthusiasm was a little bit frightening.

ivia Garcia and Dani Johns enjoy a tasty pizza lunch and some good discussion with their small groups. The pizza man was greeted with equal enthusiasm by the graders. Support staff left a heartfelt care note in the pizza man's vehicle. We're assuming he loved it.

amous "Because I Wanna Be Loved" skit was a smash hit once Hunky Dave Voss struggled with rhythm while the loud clown, arcia, terrified the nerdy Jenni Groot who was busy kissing the (Ruth Dodgson) shiny shoes. Erica Heavner, the stoner, wandered sily past the ditzy cheerleader, Leia Vos, who was competing for m with the huggable flirt, Alyssa VanHuekelem, as the b-ball jock, Boroski, dribbled skillfully around them.

Julianna Faber "gets big" against Proviso West. She uses excellent form with her hands straight up in the air, thus avoiding the foul.

As she throws the ball, Liz DeGroot hopes that she doesn't hit Ibie in the head as she did two days earlier in practice.

1st row: Becky Kim, Jenna Stech, Meghan Leach, Kelsey Kaczynski.
2nd row: Liz DeGroot, Ali Groot, Julianna Faber, Cristin Everett, Ibie Hart.

Oh, star! "We would always insert words after "Oh" instead of snap. We would always use words like moon and planets and stuff- basically whatever we felt like saying."
- Jenna Stech

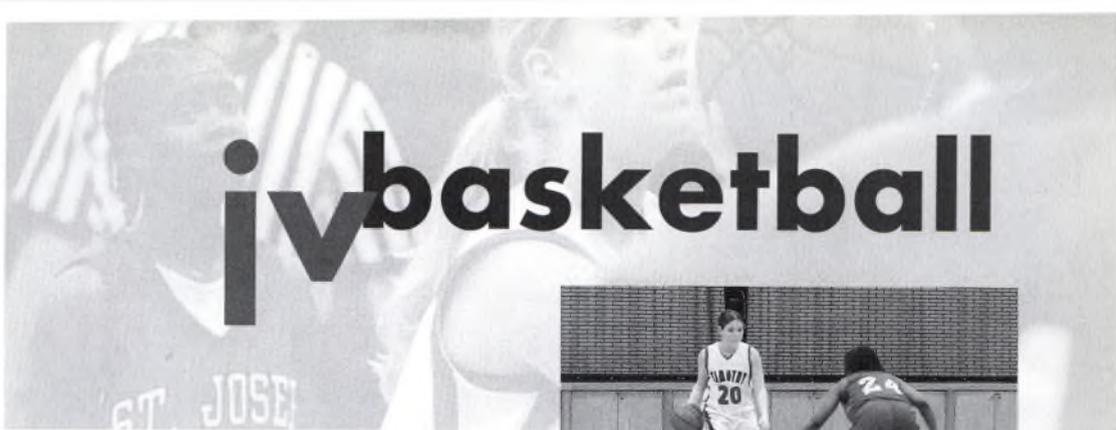

As star player, Kelsey Kaczynski, sprints down the court. The team hopes she doesn't get injured. The team this year was known as the crippled team, with the injury list including Jenna's shoulder always popping out, Meghan's purple finger, Julie's thumb, Ali's ankle, and Cristin having mono.

Meghan Leach takes her time dribbling down the court, frantically trying to think up a play. The play will most likely be the usual, BAMA.

Coach Woudstra was able to take some time out of his busy schedule as athletic director and dean to coach the freshman girls. He often used the motto: "It's not WHAT we do, it's HOW we do it!"

- Look of death
- You're running like a flock of zebras
- Drop it like it's... Hot or Not
- Dan's car rides
- Puff, the Magic Dragon
- Oh, great one!
- DK falling flat on his face
- Big Red
- Always go to the bathroom in 2's

Kristin Steinberg takes the ball swiftly down the court, dribbling like it's a fast break.

1st row: Katie Dirkse, Courtney Bobko, Kristin Steinberg.

Coach DK focuses on the guard play during a timeout. Katie Dirkse was one of the two freshmen on JV and provided excellent dribbling skills. She comments, "DK was a very hands-on, demonstrative coach."

With oncoming St. Joseph defense, Emily bends her knees, perfects her form, and gets ready to take a winning shot.

Courtney gets down and dirty as she plays hard defense against Luther North.

Anneke Stremler, the other freshman on the team, listens to Coach DK during one of the timeouts she participated in. "I hyper-extended a tendon in my finger early on in the season, so I couldn't play for the rest of it. It stunk because I had to wear a splint all winter."

"DK was a very intense coach. We did a lot of team bonding activities with Dan (DK's boy). His horrible driving scared me."
-Candace Wieringa

Before each game, the girls pray, put their hands in the middle and say, "For Him." "It was a great way to start out each game. The girls were reminded that they were playing to glorify God."
-Coach G

Grace, Katie, Jessica, and Shannon gathered on the bleachers before their game. "It was awesome being the manager for 3 seasons. I loved getting to know the girls each year."
-Liv Garcia

Ashley Biesboer, co-captain, was no stranger to playing a high-level game. She was on varsity for three years. Her aggressive play brought her much respect and recognition

After coming off of an injury from volleyball season, Katrina Denny was anxious to contribute to the team. "My favorite game was when we played against Sterling Newman and I had to guard a girl who had a full D1 scholarship."

Jessica and Katrina are showing off their new shirts after they advanced to the sectional finals in the 3 point shooting competition. "Who would have thought I tallest person on the team and the one who doesn't play would make it this far?!" said Jessica.

As a junior, Kim Howard brought her skills to varsity. She stepped up her game as she scored two more points while defending the home court.

The team went downstate to watch the state competition at Redbird Arena "After an invigorating day of watching basketball, the team poses, our hair blowing in the wind." -Anna Swierenga

Mary Workman joined the varsity team after taking her junior year. She said, "It was great getting to know and spending time with Kai and Anna on the bench. They kept me sane."

- 13 game winning streak to end season
- Undefeated at home and in conference
- Brandon and Temple sprinting after the bus at Westmont
- Kris's game winning bucket against Kaneland at Christmas Tourney

Kris Liefeld, Peter Tameling, and Brandon Buikema collapse in the zone defense to cover the middle. Their tenacious defense helped lead them to a win over Walther Lutheran. Coach Z. would be proud of Peter learning that "this isn't 8th grade anymore."

Coach Zylstra gives Jaaron an encouraging word and sends him to check into the game. Whenever the team did something bad the words "Holy Cow!" would be heard.

Ross Davids helped control the offense during the season. Although the fans may have known him for his basketball skills, the team remembers him for his modeling skills.

Joel Systma holds off the defense against Luther North. One of the teams' fondest memories of the season was when Pegman sank two threes and another bucket in two minutes on Homecoming night.

Boys JV Basketball

In the Pep Rally this year, the pommers performed a routine to "Doctor, Doctor." Captain Alli Johns comments, "Being honest, pep rallies aren't my favorite thing in the world, but I guess they make you appreciate the fans during the game."

Seniors Annie, Melissa, Alli, and Britanni perform their final Homecoming. "Poms has meant a lot to me over the past four years. I think it's the girls; I get to do my favorite thing with my favorite people!" -Annie Bere

The pommers dance on the sideline during the varsity warm ups, before the cheerleaders take the floor. "Dancing with the band behind us is a lot of fun. It gets everybody pumped and the crowd excited." -Lisa VanderKamp

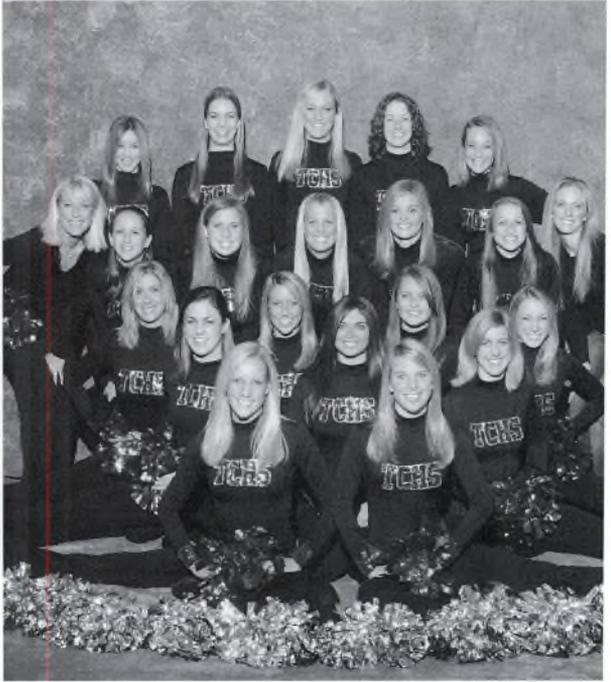

The final pose of the year for the Poms. For their fan-favorite "Daddy-Daughter" routine, they wore football jerseys with the girl's graduation year on the front and last name on the back. "My foot was sprained. I'd been wearing a boot on it all day so I could dance, and even though it was hard, it was totally worth it." -Paula Barclay

Outside the Huizinga Auditorium the pommers perfect their kickline. "Practices on the weekend can last up to four hours, but they are fun and really challenging at the same time. Our hard work paid off in the end." -Kate Dylong

The girls try to relax before their halftime performance. "We have devotions before every game, and tons of sleepovers during the season; all this keeps us really close." -Brittany Vos

Great spirit, dedication, and strength lead to great stunting, cheering, and crowd interaction.

Cheerleading makes people think differently... a liberty isn't only a statue in New York, pyramids aren't just made by ancient Egyptians, and scorpions become a thing of beauty.

- SPIRIT palm trees, disco ball, and Christmas lights
- "She is such a good base she can do the entire stunt without a flyer!"
- There is no better time and place to start stunting than the Jokich's at 3:00 am.
- Fuka, you're not flicking your wrists!
- WEEEEEE WE ARE THE TIIIIIGERS!

The crowd treated the cheerleaders well this year. "Everytime we performed the entire crowd would stand as we ran out, cheering with us and for us. It was the best feeling ever to have the whole gym support you."
-Dani Johns

Cheerleaders 1st row: Jessica Michnowski, Shonari Phillips, Carly Jokich, Stephanie Garza.

The cheerleaders had fun leading the crowd in cheers at half time and quarters. The classic "RED RED, WHITE WHITE" cheer transformed into "White White White White White..." by the Red Zone.

Thanks to Bob Voss and Zach Fuka the cheerleaders were able to perform harder stunts during the games. Becca Dirkse wowed the crowd several times as the boys threw her in a basket toss that nearly touched the ceiling!

"Our season is my favorite part of the year. This year we had an amazing basketball team to cheer for so that made it even more fun! Every season gets better so I have high hopes for next year!" -Jena Wagner

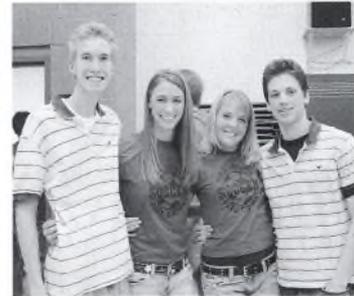

"It was my first year on cheerleading and I've already developed a love for the sport. I can't wait til next year's practices start!"
-Tara Klein

"A Night in the City"

- Seniors winning the Spirit Week challenge to get points and receive $5 off their HC tickets
- King Dave Voss and Queen Ruth Dodgson
- The basketball team dominating the Luther North Wildcats
- A junior guy manages to spoil the senior's last Homecoming by throwing bottled water on the cramped dance floor
- The first time at the McDonald's Corporation
- Singing "Goodnight, Irene" after the music stopped playing

Adrienne and Andy were the first senior couple to walk out under the lights. The crowd went crazy for the seniors. "There's no shame in losing to Dave Voss. Dave is my king." - Andy Ziegler

Varsity basketball players support the guys during Homecoming with a dance after the first quarter. "This was my first year doing cheerleading. It was hard, but it was also a lot of fun!" -Mary Workman

Kevin, Rachel, Leia, and Evan got points for the senior class for dressing up for twin day. "Homecoming week '06 was so much fun because everyone got into it and had a blast! I loved the hall decorations and the stage was incredible!" -Rachel DeGroot

Student Council decorated the stage to the theme: A Night in the City. "Walking out onto the gym was so fun. Everyone was chanting 'Fuka Fuka.' It made me feel awesome." -Zach Fuka

Jessica and Anna get all decked out for Decades Day. Jessica and the seniors dressed for the 80's while Anna and the juniors represented the 70's. "This was my mother's pretty sweet white vest, skirt, and knee socks that she wore in high school. It's coming back." -Anna Swieringa

Katrina and Bob, as Homecoming dates, shared both the dance and the Homecoming court experience together. "I think Katrina and I should get a gold medal because we had to take pictures six times! That's a lot of pictures!" -Bob Voss

Cheerleaders get the crowd riled up during half time. They showed school spirit and did an awesome routine with many stunts. "The Homecoming game was definitely a night to remember. The crowd was so good and performing at half-time was amazing. All that practice was worth it!" -Carly Jokich

Basketball players show off their jump suits on Red or White Day. "My class didn't participate very much for Homecoming Week so I had to try very hard to repre for us. I dressed up every day!" -Candice Wiering

The freshman girls decorated their hall with an "Under the Sea" theme. Other classes chose Hawaii, St. Patrick's Day, and "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory."

Homecoming King and Queen of 2006 awarded to Dave Voss and Ruth Dodgson. They will return next year to hand off the crowns.

Rob and LaDrena, one of the many freshmen couples, got to experience their first Homecoming at the McDonald Corporation.

Ben Schemper with his accomplice, Cooper Venema, haunt the halls of TC during Spirit Week. Ben's famous appearance at the Varsity boys Illiana Homecoming game featured his half-time breakdance that caused Timothy fans to chant, "Where's your Gorilla?"

Everyone cleared the dance floor to circle the people who wanted to show off. Cooper's worm propelled senior Nathan DeJong to display his video-learned break-dancing techniques amongst the perplexed students.

The Poms performed their yearly father-daughter dance during half-time. The seniors got their moment in the spotlight during their last homecoming. "It's always a blast dancing with the dads. You would be surprised at how into it some of them get! It's funny because they work so hard, and well, you've seen them..."

-Alli Johns

To gain points for their class, Ryan Hoff, Steve Ridolphi, Courtney VanReken, and Anna Swierenga had to look for gummy worms in whipped cream without using their hands. Steve won with a questionable technique that closed the gap in the point race.

The student body broke it down to the classic Cha-Cha Slide by DJ. Stevie D. The Cha-Cha Slide is the ice-breaker dance for most Timothy students, who often stand drinking the free beverages or staging pictures with their friends.

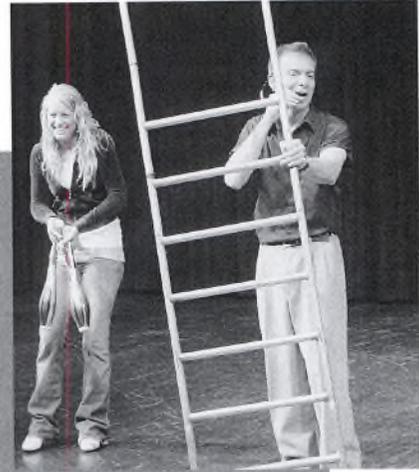

Juniors dressed absurdly crazy for Clash Day. Clash Day was pretty easy. I just took random things out of my closet and put them on." -Alexis Euwema

Senior boys, Jon, Tim, and Adam showed up to the dance wearing shorts even though it was freezing cold outside. "We're seniors...Why not wear shorts to Homecoming?"

Children's Theatre performs "Andy and the Lion" for the high school. After walking to center stage with stoic faces and complete silence, the actors burst out into their story which provided many fits of laughter.

Mike Ruiz continues to amaze Timothy Christian with his brilliant crowd-pleasing songs. His flowing hair and creative lyrics create the perfect package for a musical success.

The VanReken siblings, Courtney and Dane read an original poem entitled "Confessions of a Stallion." Moments before reading aloud, Courtney told Dane they would read in an English accent. The seemingly innate skill led Dane to the phrase "My Looord" and had everyone rolling with laughter.

Senior Adrienne Searer and sophomore brother, Dustin, perform excerpts from the "Lord of the Dance." The siblings' solid talent was enjoyed by their high school peers.

Seniors Nikohl Canton, Karen Malaca, Sarah VanderWoude, Zack Fuka, Andrew Ziegler, Matt Russ, and Bob Voss sing "Phantom of the Opera." They were accompanied by Natalie Mulder on piano, Zoe Voulgarakis on guitar, and April Fiedler on violin.

The Denny/Schemper cousins perform a memorable and unique version of the "Little Drummer Boy." Each person took a chunk of the song to perform a talent, which ranged from a drum solo, cello playing, heel-toeing, boy-band imitating, and eating. "I'm glad that we could find something for everybody in the family to do, even Jake. Apparently eating chips is his forte." -Ben Schemper

The talented Garcia twins, Olivia and Jessica, sing Rascal's "What Hurts the Most." "When we're up there Jessica stays calm and collected, but I shake uncontrollably." -Olivia

Dave and Bob thoughtfully come up with five words to describe the oh-so wonderful Mr. Wolterstorff! "It was very funny and we should definitely have the Comedy Sportz people back next year!" -Tai Cox

Randi Lanenga winds up for a strike. She was once rumored to have pitched backwards from the mound.

- Karen and Chrissy's "yeah" dance
- "Aww YEAH!"
- First game fruit snacks
- Team bonding
- Pants being the team hand-warmers

Julie Faber sits behind home plate anticipating the next pitch. She helped her team to a great start when they won 30 to 15. "I'm not the only catcher, Randi and Christin are, too. It's exciting to be in every play, but I don't like it when fly-balls come because it's hard to rip my mask off."

Coach Sampson is an elementary school aide for the first grade, and it's her first year coaching softball. While Jenna Stech is at third base she gets a pep talk from Coach; maybe telling her how NOT to fall over first base while running.

The team huddles between innings to discuss strategies for the game. "The team had a bonding party at Chrissy's house. Her mom organized a scavenger hunt, and we watched 'Shrek.' It was good to get over some drama that we had."
-Christin Everett

Karen Boise was a double threat due to her batting and pitching skills. "I fell many times on the mound and numerous other places."

Gabby Angelico attempts to make a play at second base. Earlier in the season, Gabby and the coach had a little rift when Coach Sampson broke her cooler.

varsity softball

Elizabeth Heerdts lays down a sacrifice bunt to score Brittany DeBoer from third base.

- Shh. The coach is..Coaching
- Ellen's "Rules"
- (Tryin' to Catch Me) Ridin' Dirty
- Catch my drift? Caught it!
- Lauren has berger's in her Hans
- CVR and Christine tripping on the baselines

Freshman Lauren Hansberger takes her lead off third base and waits for the catcher to throw the ball back to the pitcher.

Senior Katie Kearney steps up to the plate to see if she can hit Brittany in from second.

Pitcher Courtney Van Reken is in mid form as she fires a pitch early in the season.

Melissa Tameling fields a ground ball at third base and looks to throw the runner out at first.

In this silent movie scene Aaron Mitchnowski is the mad scientist desperately seeking the hand of the sweet, innocent Marissa Hegel. Upon rejection Aaron releases the horrifying Jason Griffin. Jason was a perfect monster, even though he often had difficulty catching Marissa and carrying her across the stage. All Ellen had to do to get a good laugh, was to walk on stage!

Alyssa and Peter celebrate their writing creativity with the usual martini. They are casted as sophisticated, married authors who are quite the heavy drinkers. "I liked getting into my character", says junior Peter Hegel, "especially the martini part."

Zoe's murderous mind plans out a plot that's been kicking around for some time. She just described it, and the audience was able to see it!

Jon Smith and Leia Voss displayed a hilarious performance as the creepy butler and the nervous maid. Leia often looked like she had forgotten to go to the bathroom, but it was all part of the act. "Done to Death was so much fun! It was casted perfectly and most of the people in it are some of my best friends!" -Leia Vos

Amanda Bulthuis put on an excellent, scandalous performance as a floozy. "It was quite a different role from my last performance in 'The Sound of Music..!' I practically went from a nun to a stripper!"

Zoe's deductive mind created this "fantasy" scene with Danny Zeigler Dan Miller, and Katie McKay. Dan Miller pretended to be Danny Z. I being seen on a flight during the time of the well-planned murder. It was a perfect alibi. Danny Z. killed his ex-wife as planned, but the big shock came when the radio announcer said that his flight had crashed. There were no survivors.

Aaron's silly facial expressions and spastic hand motions really added to his character! "Aaron was my favorite person to watch on stage," says Naomi Rivera. He always kept my attention by doing something unexpected."

Did the butler do it? Many thought that he did until he himself was murdered by a poisoned martini.

- "What's the climax?" -Leia
- Strontium Silicon Honing Devices
- Ellen's constant eating binge
- "Goodness gracious, my, oh, my, are you sure she wasn't really baking a pie?" -Ben
- Coming out of the creaky closet
- "He just ate her face for dinner" -Peter
- Jason dropping Marissa... several times
- You're bad, all bad!

Mr. Day had a starring role as the one person who was actually murdered. It was poison...in the refreshments. He did a great job directing, and it turned out to be a big hit!

Stephanie Mildaur (Naomi Rivera), she was all good. This "Jack Club" scene was a big hit with the audience! A lot of the other scenes played off of it by using its hilarious lines and actions.

Andrew Ziegler plays the host of this hilarious murder mystery. He was the first one murdered, stabbed in the back by none other than his evil twin. Well, it certainly wasn't suicide.

There were some pretty cool special effects used during this production. Here, Ben and Aaron use flash paper that "self-destructs five seconds after touching a chaotic agent".

Knitting was Zoe's trademark during all of the practices and performances. It really added to her "elderly" character. During the thank you on Saturday night, she gave the finished scarf to Mr. Day as a gift.

boys track

"Swifter Than Eagles, Stronger Than Lions"
II Samuel 1:23

Dave Voss and Nathan DeJong smash the hurdles in this Tuesday home meet. Though there were the correct number of hurdles on the track this year, the timers failed to accurately catch the times. Dave competed in both hurdle races down state. He finished 2nd in the intermediate hurdles and 3rd in the highs. Dave's hard work and dedication paid off in his last high school meet.

"Active Stretching", a phenomenon recently brought to the boys track team by coach Phil Sikkenga, helps loosen the boys' muscles while providing an amusing display for the girls.

- Povas Miknatis kicking the goose at practice
- Kei Loerop's loose shoelaces cause him to loose a shoe during his race
- Phil's readiness to scope out butts in the blocks
- Best hurdling coaches in the state - all for our boys -Mr. VanderKamp & Mr. Sikkenga
- Jon Denny in his sister's uniform?
- The beloved Spiderman costume

Matt Russ races in the open 400 meters. Testing out his jumping skills freshman and sophomore years, Matt moved on to disc the end of junior year, and finished his career on the track.

Dale Bonnes hands off "Fransisco," the team's prized baton, to Dave Voss for the final leg of the 4 x 100. The relay broke Timothy's record by .3 seconds. The time now stands at 44.9 seconds.

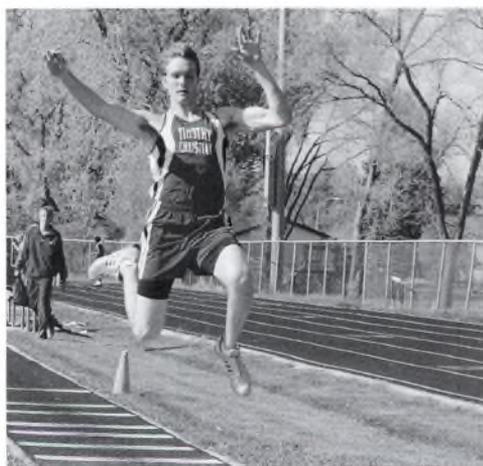

The distance crew warms up before the Tuesday home meet. The boys toughed it out through intense workouts this season and ended with a very respectable record.

Povas Miknatis hands off to Matt Benjamin during the 4 x 100 meter relay. Povas qualified for state in the 400 meters with one of the fastest FAT sectional times (50.67 secs). Though false starting at state, Mr. VanderKamp commented that Povas' 300m in practice was one of the fastest he's seen in all his years of coaching.

Bob Voss' full spin propels the disc. Bob's personal record for disc is 12 and 48' 2" for the shot put. Though after PR-ing in practice, Bob was able to throw personal best down state in the shot put.

Nate DeJong triple jumps his way to the pit. As Timothy's busiest Trojan, Nathan often competed in four events and won points in them all. Qualifying down state in the triple jump, Nathan was able to end his high school track career with the state's best.

Chris Liefeld and Steve Ross bring on the heat in this sprint. Though Chris's clenched jaw was intimidating. Steve's relaxed form is what drove him to success in his races.

"Humble yourselves before the Lord and He will lift you up." James 4:10

The girls were able to relax after finishing all their events down state. Elephant ears and hot dogs hit the spot after the blazing hot competition!

- Lindsay breaking the New Trier JV high hurdle record
- "Just drop it and run" -Senior
- Two time RB and Sectional Champions
- PSL champs for the 6th year in a row, 6 of the last 9!
- Sectional champs 2nd year in a row
- Dirkse's "This is a what?" game
- State confessionals & freshman entertainment
- "I'm not sure how to say this, but we're kind of a big deal. People know us." -Coach Hackert

Coach Anderson and Coach Hackert sport the Timothy girls' track wear. It takes solid men to work with girls. Their dedication and encouragement led the team through an impressive season, but more importantly, the coaches became respected role models for the girls.

Ashley Biesboer dominates in her "unseen events" at the Houseward Invite in Hudsonville, Michigan. Competing against several other Christian schools, Ashley was able to capture first in the shot and second in the discus.

Anna Swierenga and Anna Boot rest after their two mile race.

Monica Morrison (Ma-Mo) hands off to the third leg, Adrienne Searer in the 4x200. Though shin splints cramped their style, the girls ran solid 200's in the Michigan meet. Adrienne's shins were quite the phenomenon. Who knew veins could bulge out so far?

Anneke Stremmer shows off her Napoleonic Dynamite dance moves. The freshman skit included Liz's Mooseheart and the side-splitting Leia with her "Grey Ghost."

Elizabeth DeGroot runs the 2nd leg of the state qualifying 4 x 400. The DeGroot "sister act" was a hit in the Elmhurst newspapers.

Emily Geelhoed and Lindsay VanderBrug dominate in the high hurdles. sters through sweat, the girls were constantly swinging their trail legs over hurdles near the track fence. Though rusty, the fence played a key role in proper intimidation and, of course, preparation for future hurdle races.

Rachel DeGroot anchors the 4x800 down state at Eastern Illinois University. The team captured tenth with a time of 9:48.55.

Rebecca Dirkse shows her jumping skills at the home meet. After practice, Becca and Hackert could often be found practicing front flips on the high jump mat. She would often joke that her gymnastic "style points" in low hurdles would make up for whatever skill she lacked.

- Coach Tom saying "One more time... three more times...five more times... good job ladies!"
- Cinco de Mayo
- Whiffs - Candace & Emily
- Molly- "Just Crash the Net!!!"
- Amanda's great saves
- Candace's hair braiding salon
- "Pride! Passion! Spirit!"
- Chase the mascot
- 7 wins in a row

Jorie Ellens avoids a kick in the shins because of her fast footwork and prepares a sweet pass to her teammate Ali. The team has been working hard this year on transitioning the ball from defense to offense in preparation for the varsity team.

Lindsay Holtrop uses her great speed to get to the ball before the Westmont opponent. She prepares to settle the ball, just like they practiced, before taking off down the field.

Ali Groot stares down her competitor while deciding her next move that will win her the ball. Coach Tom can often be heard yelling, "Keep it simple!" to Ali as she works her fancy footwork down the field.

These girls certainly know how to ham it up for the camera. "There's never a dull moment on Jv Soccer. It's CrAzY!" -Courtney Bobko Team spirit and unity is in no short supply on this team! Everyone avidly watches the games and offers sideline guidance and encouragement to their ladies on the field.

Coach Tom watches his team play with Pride, Passion, & Spirit while putting together his half-time speech. Everyone's so glad that he could come back to coaching after his serious car accident.

- "If that goalie goes unmolested one more time!..."
-Coach Hull
- Beating Illiana. Boo-ya!
- "Nice escort, Alex!"
- Comma, however....
- I am a fatty at heart.
- Humiliation, Jess
- Best record in program history (15-5-4)
- Ten shutouts
- 2nd in the PSL

Ruth Dodgson, Mary Workman, Alex Origiano, Bethany Hamstra, and Brittani Klein.... by far the best looking seniors ever. And talented, too.

Abbie DeVries beats an IMSA player with her amazing speed, the same player that Bethany hit in the face extremely hard with the ball.

Alex Origiano heads the ball towards the midfield. Playing on the varsity team all four years, Alex ended her high school soccer career with an impressive record.

"Playing goalie was a little scary, but mostly fun." Coming back from freshman year, Mary stepped up and played amazing as goalie all year. Thanks Mary!

Katie Dirkse, the lone freshman on the team, charges the goal. As a forward, Katie managed to score many goals for Timothy.

People on the bench look on as the varsity team dominates on the field. Thanks to Jake Schemper for being the girls manager.

Captain Laura Roose dribbles up the field, embarrassing the other team as she maneuvers around them easily.

- Raul Tamez qualifies for State

Kyle Lukianuk, a junior, transferred to Timothy after moving from New Hampshire. This was his first year playing tennis. He was on third doubles with Marcus VanderBrug. "Being Conference Champions for third doubles was cool, but I really didn't do much. I let Marcus do all the work while I just held my racket!"

After not playing tennis his freshman year, Marcus VanderBrug decided to give the sport a try his sophomore year and continued to play this year as well. "I'm glad I started playing because tennis is really fun."

Ryan Leach concentrates on some sweet net play. One of Leachy's favorite memories from the season was his nickname "The Red Baron". "I borrowed Ben Schemper's red Manchester scarf and the name just stuck. I even got to run through a tunnel and get announced as 'The Red Baron' before a match."

Brad Vos waits intensely for a serve during practice. Brad's second doubles partner for actual game days was Colin DuBois. "After we would win a crucial point or do something good, Brad would do one of his crazy victory dances to celebrate."

Nathan Meyer, a junior, practices his skills. During practices the tennis boys would constantly hit balls over the fence at the track and soccer girls.

Senior Raul Tamez serves it up during a match. He also was very active in Mock Trial this year and comments, "It was a challenge to find time for both, but getting third in nationals for Mock Trial and going downstate for tennis was amazing; it was totally worth all the work."

mock trial

Finishing higher than any Illinois team in Mock Trial National Competition history, Timothy's Mock Trial team finished third in the nation on Saturday, May 13, in Oklahoma City. Congratulations to the team, coach and mentor Scott Roelofs, and attorney advisers Kirsten Hauser and Cathy Stein. Team members who actually performed were lawyers Carly Cristman, Aaron Michnowski, Raul Tamez, and Alyssa VanStaalduinen; and witnesses Rebecca Haltom, Peter Hegel, and Ben Schemper.

The team competed four times, defeating Maine, Nevada, Florida and South Carolina. There were three undefeated teams—Illinois, Michigan and Iowa—with Michigan and Iowa compiling more overall points to reach the finals. The case before all teams was a rodeo murder where a bucking bronco rider is thrown from her horse and dies. A rival rider is charged with murder for sabotaging her rein.

What a trophy! After taking third place at the National Mock Trial Championship in Oklahoma City the team came home with their very own "Lady of Justice".

Raul Tamez, Alyssa VanStaalduinen, and Carly Cristman show just how happy they are moments after discovering they got third place in the entire nation! "Since we didn't even know if we'd get top ten, when we heard we got third we went crazy!" exclaimed Raul.

"We're number one!" The energy of the team after winning the state championship was incredible. Lawyers Carly Cristman and Alyssa VanStaalduinen were named state Outstanding Attorneys and Laura Roose was named an Outstanding Witness.

All their hours of hard work finally paid off. James VanDenburg, Corey VanDyk, Dan Denby, and Peter Hegel were quite happy and didn't mind smiling for the camera.

"We're seriously like a family, we are so gonna miss Mr. Roelofs; he's an amazing coach and mentor," admits senior Alyssa VanStaalduinen as the four fabulous seniors pose with Mr. Roelofs after their final trial ever.

3rd in the nation!

The nationals team witnesses pose with their lawyers. "I had the two best attorneys EVER! We had fun while working hard, and I'm going to miss them so much!" says Junior Peter Hegel.

- M-O-M!?
- Too much heat for one courtroom
- We never left
- 1st in the state, 3rd in the Nation!
- Aaron's finger snapping close at Nationals

The team shows some love to the "Lady of Justice."

Who can get the most pins? At Nationals, the team attends a Pin Exchange, where they trade pins and other trinkets with the teams from different states. "So I pretty much OWN the pin exchange. I met tons of people, got a bunch of pins, and of course, all the beads and necklaces!" boasts Carly.

Seniors are all smiles as they stand outside courtrooms in Springfield, waiting for the start of the Final Eight trials for state.

Dressed to impress, the entire Timothy Mock Trial Team poses for yet another group picture. Let's just say the team is pretty used to the camera.

The Germans continue their advance. "My favorite memories of Gaming Club are the Saturday games and the fake blow-up stuff." -Jason Boomsma

It's a Demolition Derby. The guys have all day events on certain saturday that last about 4 hours. The sign-up list fills up quickly for specific games so if you want to play, you gotta come early!

One of the games played is called Worms. The goal is to kill as many worms on the opposing team using absurd weapons. Matt Veselsky debates his next attack: super sheep or banana bomb?

Mr. Adamski's chemistry room is a make-shift battle ground. The Italian troops didn't run away? They always run away.

Acting to glorify God

- Being covered in pea green paint
- Rewriting the "Done to Death" script
- "Don't be so tasty... I mean testy" -Jason
- Mrs. Swierenga's awesome sets
- Special effects
- Constant laughter

"Sets committee this year was a blast!" says senior Alyssa Vanstaalduinen. "We worked really hard, but also had a lot of fun with paint."

Mr. Day and his co-chairs, Andy Ziegler and Greta Hays, strike up a dramatic pose. "Drama Club is lots of work but so much fun. Highlights were set painting on Wednesdays and going on prop hunts to find obscure objects, like honing devices and exploding books! It has been a great and crazy year!" -Greta Hays

By now the youngest Hays girl is quite used to the usual routine of hair and makeup before a performance. Junior Nora Kieker has had plenty of practice with applying make-up because of her long background of wearing stage make-up for her dance performances. Nora also helped choreograph the dance steps for "The Sound of Music."

Brittany DeBoer uses highlights on Jason Griffin's facial features to avoid the "sunken" look. It usually takes about 20 minutes to apply base shadow, highlights, powder and eye make-up except for old people make-up, which can take much longer.

Seniors Andy Ziegler, Jason Griffin, and Alyssa VanStaalduinen don't care about getting paint all over themselves. They just want to get this window done for "The Sound of Music" which is only days away!

Andrew Shearier, Rebekah Proctor, Bryan VanKampen, and Trevor Van Dahm are committed workers on the lights and sound committee. What would we do without them?

Isaiah Richardson and Naomi Rivera use a primer on a tropical ceiling fan that will be used in the upcoming murder-mystery "Done to Death."

"I love applying stage make-up," says Naomi Rivera. "It's a huge pain to wear. In fact, it feels like a thick layer of pasty nastiness that you have to scrub off, but it's really fun putting it on other people. I hope that I can continue to do it in college, too."

fine arts committee

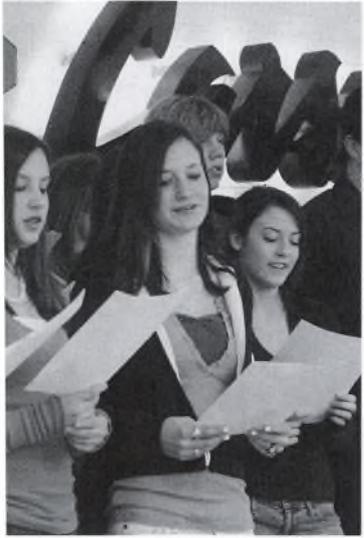

Members Jorie Ellens, Jenni Groot, and Aaron Bardolph can often be found in "The Lair" (the closet in the library). They kept all their important items such as Octoberfest cds, schedules, and scooters in messy, organized piles in the cramped space.

The teachers and chaperones attempt to socialize above the intense noise level at dinner.

- Smoked butt and spoon balancing competitions

Jackie Richert, Liz Burnham, and Kristin Kulisek sing along to sourly tuned Christmas carols. It has always been difficult to find pitches using only LIBRinsema's honky pitch-finder contraption.

Brittany DeBoer, Andy Ziegler, Ella Weber, and Dawn Wieringa gave their approval of the Bohemian themed Fine Arts dinner. The favorite menu item this year was definitely the smoked butt. There was barely enough smoked butt and coffee to go around the crowded and cluttered tables.

Mr. Rinsema directs a small portion of the group of those who went caroling at Yorktown Mall during the holiday season. These brave souls volunteered to serve as the echo as well as the round part to many songs sung in the middle of Yorktown Mall.

Fine Arts Committee 1st row: Adrena Martin, Katrina Denny, Emily Geelhoed, Dennisse Serrano, Nikohl Canton, Dawn Wieringa, Rachel Visser, Christine Scheidt, Katie Kearney, Ella Weber, Naomi Riveria, Greta Hays, Leia Vos, Rachel DeGroot. 2nd row: Alyssa VanHeukelem, Kevin Raley, Kathleen Nicholas, Alex Origiano, Natalie Mulder, Ji-Su Kim, Karen Malaca, Angela Evenhouse, Alison Dec, Zoe Voulgarakis, Sarah VanderWoude, Brandon VanDyke, Alyssa VanStaalduinen, Isaiah Richardson, Raul Tamez, Mr. Rinsema. 3rd row: Ryan Evenhouse, Dan Cross, Kristin Kulisek, Alexis Euwema, Jaclyn Richert, Liz Burnham, Christina Miedema, Amanda Bulthuis, Jorie Ellens, Emily Helmus, Holly Evenhouse, Tricia Snoeyink, Rachel Tjeerdema, Annie Loerap, Stephanie Siadek, Cori Freundt, Elizabeth Serrano, Maria Post, Lindsey Halltrap, Candace Wieringa, Katie Bannes, Aaron Bardolph, Jenni Groot. 4th row: Eric Pohlman, Erin Farney, Dan Miller, Heidi McAuley, Jason Griffin, Karyn Weglarz, Rachel Halltrap, Emily Vos, Molly McNicholas, Kristin VanKampen, Brittany DeBoer, Amy Paul. 5th row: Andy Ziegler, Dan Roelofs, Sabrina Lee, Jenna Stech, Sarah Cranmer, Erin Elgersma, Rachel Groters, Povos Miknaitis, Ellen Angelico, Kelly Buma, Joel Sytsma, Brad Everett, Christy Frees, Heather Hooker.

Courtney Bobka and Emily Vos show off their spoon-balancing skills at dinner. Soon after, initiated by Schoenbach, teachers eagerly joined in with the balancing acts. Students earn points throughout the year by doing service around the school and community. With these points, they are able to go on outings.

This group of seniors take a break from attentively watching the acting adjudications. Performances were given in by Andy Ziegler, Jason Griffin, and Daniel Denby.

One of the students' favorite Student Council activities is Data Match. Students fill out a survey with questions such as "What kind of animal would you like to be?" in order to find out who is compatible with whom. In past years there have been fake matches, such as "Pete Zahut" and "Peter Anderson", but this year "Mike Dorsey", an OPRF student, made his way on some people's matches.

Student council members discuss strategies for handling the mass confusion that erupts from the excited Data-Match obsessed students. Or...they are discussing their genuine hatred of Data-Match season. This year Mrs. David helped out in policing sticky fingers, but many data-results were still discovered missing after the stampeding students had to return to class.

New to student council this year was a different Mr. Anderson, dubbed "Mr. Josh" for less confusion. He and his lovely wife, Kimberly, (at the top of the picture) came and helped set up the time & labor intensive Homecoming stage.

Thanks, Mr. Josh and Kimberly, for helping us this year!

Our trustworthy treasurer, Brad Everett (eating a carrot) decked out his precious traffic cone for selling Homecoming tickets. Yet, no matter how easy, or how much student council tells them, freshmen still don't know where to buy their tickets.

After many hours of hard & not-so-hard work on the Homecoming stage, Stu-Co members take a break to follow through with tradition: duct taping someone to a chair. This year's lucky candidate was Joel Sytsma...not out of hate, out of love.

Jenni Groot, Ruthie Dodgson, & Ali Groot meet at school bright and early to set up their newest advertising technique. "We decided to do something different this year, something to catch everyone's attention and add that 'wow' factor," says Student Council President Jenni Groot.

Homecoming court members leap-frog their way to the finish line in the pep rally relay race. This year Student Council tried to get the student body more actively involved and excited about pep rallies. "They were definitely better than in years past," says senior Alyssa VanHeukelem.

As photo editor, Olivia Garcia not only took photos, she corrected and filed photos, and she whipped the Saga photographers into shape. "I'm excited to hand the camera over to Rachel Embry, who will be the first junior to be a photo editor." -Liv

Staffers work hard to put the finishing touches on their page.

Naomi, Tai, Michelle, and Josh hurry to meet the next week's deadline. So much time is spent in the lab, the editors often wonder what it would be like to sleep overnight in it.

Josh Capleton, one of the few male staffers, works alongside Brittany DeBoer. The meetings might run long, but if Josh brings along some of his awesome chocolate morsals from Pompei, the night aoes by quickly.

Cousins, Anna and Kaitlin Swierenga, work side by side to get their page done. Both girls helped the staff out by doing more than their share of w this year. Anna will be a senior co-editor next year with Katie Voss.

Mr. H. is about ready to explode after spending several late nights at school working with his crazy editors and staff.

Han DeJong, Isaiah Richardson, and "Sticky Fingers" Roelofs attempt to acquire Saga funds through dubious means. The three accomplices solicited and/or "acquired" most of the funds for the yearbook this year. Advertising revenue pays for more than half the cost of producing the yearbook. This allows us to keep the price that students pay for the book to a mere twenty cents per copy.

Jenni Groot's frantic questioning and constant reassurance needs might drive the editors up the wall, but her diligent work, random dancing spirit, and one-sided conversations make up for all the fuss. "Emily, wait! I think I did something wrong! ...again!"

Junior editor Katie Voss and Senior Photography Editor Olivia Garcia work it for the fisheye lens. "Katie is one of those people who has a ton of funny faces, one for every occasion, while Liv just wants her glasses back." -Katrina

"H", being the gentleman that he is, supplies the hardcore Saga workers with Chinese for the nights when they're at school until around 11 pm. "We read fortune cookies and my favorite was 'You will be pleasantly surprised by an old friend...'" -Alyssa VH There was a downside to indulging in such delicacies... increased energy and thus, lack of focus (& Emily's heartburn). Members decided to listen to calm music to help them get their tasks accomplished.

Katrina, Katie, Alyssa, Katelin, and Olivia descend collectively late Thursday night in the pub. The rank cellar smell may drive away the faint-hearted, but the hardcore staffers wouldn't leave till the deadline was met.

Senior Co-Editors, Katrina and Emily take 35 pictures just to find the best one... and it's still pretty ugly. "Both these girls added many a laugh. This is probably the funniest editorial staff... EVER, if I do say so myself." -Liv Garcia

Dan can't help using his hands to describe the magnificence of his page. Zach, a newbie to Saga, works hard to compete with Dan's brilliance.

Emily and Katrina had to pass out all of last year's yearbooks at the booksale. Not only do they spend time in the computer lab, but they interact with students.

A record 10 members show up to work on their pages! Occasionally, pages require two people to work on them; for example, the band and orchestra page, which April and Ella worked on, and the "Remember When" page, that Alex and Dani did together.

The finale of "Andy and the Lion" involves everyone inviting the kids to read their books. Sundry books about jungles, belly buttons, tator tots, and tube socks spurred on the kids imaginations.

Matt, Jenni, and Emily start to create the heart machine for the story "Abigail." It is a tale about parents unwilling to splurge on a pony for their young girl, which catapults the child to an untimely young death.

Kevin Holtrop follows Mr. Day's face contorting instructions. When commanded to imitate dance movements, John Randle would quickly bust out into heel-toe and fast rhythm footwork that led his partners astray.

"...and his grandfather told him some tall stories about hunting lions. 'And every story ended with, and then I gave him both barrels! Boom!'" Performing for the high school Fine Arts Assembly, the cast sings, "You are my sunshine, my only sunshine..." to Matt Rogalski, waking him from his deep slumber. His violent thrashing often caused rambunctious laughter, even out of his high school peers.

Brian Speelman usually leads the group in singing on his guitar to open worship. Here the group joins in "Here the Precious" and "Blessed Be Your Name."

Sisters Katie and Rebecca Dirkse hug during an early morning meeting. Never lacking a friendly smile, the girls' happy personalities rippled optimism throughout the group. Beginning around 7:20, the students met until the 8:15 bell.

New Style is open to any Timothy students on Wednesday mornings. These students made the effort to come most Wednesdays.

"It was challenging to have a smaller group than in years past, but the relationships that were built on Wednesday mornings became more meaningful than I originally anticipated."
-Dave Voss

"It was great to see God work through our lives this year. Thanks for everyone's dedication! It's not always easy to wake up that early- but it's always worth it."
-Rebecca Dirkse

"See You at the Pole" is a national day where students are encouraged to come early in the morning and surround the flag pole. Led in worship songs by Olivia Garcia on the guitar and singing by Ruth Dodgson, the group of around 30 students sang, broke into groups, and prayed.

As chapel co-chair, Dave Voss co-leads New Style with Rebecca Dirkse. In addition to creating weekly devotionals for the group, Dave and Becca might find spare time to cook up some home delicacies including muffins, lemon poppy seed bread, and doughnuts.

Dave Zigterman, Raul Tamez, Katie Kearney, and Greta Hays are a few of the fairly regular attendees of New Style. They enjoy the fellowship and worship time early in the morning.

Working at the Carwash... Sarah, Alex, and Mc are working hard cleaning cars early Saturday morning to raise money for the next band trip in 2007. It was one hot summer day but at least the occasional water fights kept everyone cool.

All that practicing must pay off! Nathan, Jon, Mark, Ellen (the new trombone player), Danny, and Nathan are completely focused during the rehearsal before the concert. This year the band successfully attempted challenging songs such like, "CityScape," and "Wicked."

Basketball games only mean one thing: Pep Band! Matt, Rachel, Matt, Dan, and Nathan played their hearts out to some of Mr. Schoenbach's transcribed songs, such as "Don't Stop Believin" and "Take on Me."

Natalie, Kristin, and Stephanie play their favorite Christmas tunes during one of the passing periods. Everyone from teachers to office workers and even the students loved hearing the various quartets and quintets. The school was more festive because of this hallway entertainment.

What can't she play!? Ellen Angelico has taken every music class available at Timothy. This year she joined band as a first time trombone player. We are always entertained with Ellen's brilliant music and her humorous monologues.

Raul concentrates hard while playing "Pirates of the Carribean." Umm...why is Ed wearing a hat in school?

Jamal is no stranger to the Timothy Christian stage. He's performed many memorable pieces during Fine Arts recitals. This is only one of the many instruments he plays.

April, Leia, Raul, Alyssa, Adrienne, and Zonny strike a pose while helping out at the middle school orchestra concert. Unfortunately, Ian was not available for this picture. It was an exciting night with Dustin Searer Irish dancing to the "Lord of the Dance."

Mr. Schoenbach is conducting, without his conducting wand, just days before our Christmas concert. Thankfully he only broke his conducting stick once this year, not to mention the time that his wand just slipped out of his hands during the actual concert.

April "Fiddler" Fiedler focuses intensely the day of the first concert of the year. It was the first of many wonderful concerts.

Trevor is quickly trying to practice up for his lesson with "the Doug Stone". Many band students take private lessons during or after class, and some students even get the opportunity to teach students of their own.

Despite the frown, Emily is smiling on the inside as she expertly executes her music. She is one of four cellists this year, the largest number of cellists in last... at least fifteen years.

choir

"If the shoe fits, wear it, baby." -Mr. Wolterstorff

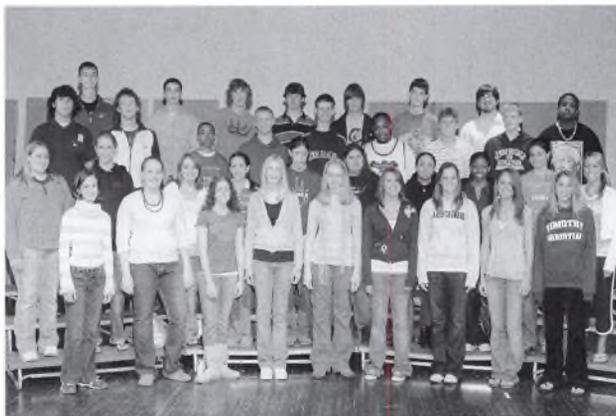

"Mr. Wolterstorff is the only reason I do choir. Sometimes I wake up dreaming about him." -Dave Voss

- At Trinity, Ben Schemper singing loudly at the wrong part
- "The Mass" by Haydn
- Mr. W. throwing his baton at the sopranos
- Lamenting Jewish Women
- Sir Christmas- tenor and bass "ale" section
- The look of death

"Oh, captain our captain. What a great leader you have been."
-A farewell from the senior basses:
Bob, Matt, Jonathan, Jon, Tony, Nick, Brad,
Dustin, Alex, and Nathan.

1st row: Erin Farney, Heather Hooker, Christy Frees, Susan Meulink, Catherine McKay, Corrie Weber, Anna Fuka, Bethany Having, Kristen Caruso. 2nd row: Samantha Harman, Heidi McAuley, Laura Nicholas, Nikki Blamey, Julie Speulda, Natalie LeBron, Amber Maldonado, Kateena Williams-Lewis, Ali Cirignani, Paula Barclay. 3rd row: Joel Horras, David Stremler, Andrew Logan, Ryan Evenhouse, Dustin Searer, John Randall, Josh Pegman, James VanDenBerg, Brian Hunt. 4th Row: Mark Zylstra, Dave Dodgson, Turner Elmore, Mike Marshall, Jeff Hoyle, Matt Clark, Dan Miller.

Joel Horras and Dave Dodgson demonstrate correct mouth formation when singing. A fundamental Mr. Wolterstorff always stressed.

FRESHMAN CHOIR

1st row: Jenna Stech, Casey Fazio, Angie Miles, Jessica Michnowski, Lauren Hansberger, Katie Dirkse, Becky Kim, Katie Vandervelde, Allison Bolt, Emily Theiss, Kelsey Kaczynski, Meghan Jensen, Leah Bosman, Sabrina Lee, Meghan Leach, Megan Bakker, Sammy Sakolari. 2nd row: Erin Elgersma, Katharine Akre, Natalie Kuick, Anneke Stremler, Christin Everett, Amanda Rychtonek, Ariel Harris, Hanna Bowman, Jacquelyn Iwema, Rebecca DeCarlo, Ibie Hart, Shannon McNeil, Liz DeGroot, Lindsey Holtrop, Danielle Heerd, Rachel Groeters, Ladrina Stiff-Lanier. 3rd row: Gabby Angelico, Tawni Millet, Dane VanReken, Alex Vaughn, Kinny Madari, Adam Rink, Joshua Thomas, Ryan Hoff, Jaaron Holmes, Jeb Nash, Thomas Huiner, Corey VanDyk, Adam Bulthuis, Jeremy Having, Chris Gacutan, Randi Lanenga. 4th row: Jake Schemper, Andrew Woodhull, Jon Voss, Jeff Stein, Peter Tameling, Andy Cunningham, Nate Puchalski, Taylor Slager, Bruce Larkin, Kent Dixon, Max Baumbach, Justin Groenewold, Kyle Venhausen, Kei Loerop. Not Pictured: Brittany VanderNaald, Corrine Wieringa, Mary Beth Langkamp, Ali Groot, Juliana Faber, Dan Denby.

"Adijo, Adijo Kerida, Señor Wolterstorff. We will always continue to be your MoTown Mama's."
-A farewell from the senior altos:
Rachel, Alyssa, Cori, Brittany, Sarah, Liv, and Melissa.

The Honors Choir works very hard on a piece for their concert. Before concerts the choir waited to hear Mr. Wolterstorff say, "You have 30 seconds to scramble!"

"You're very old but you conduct quite well.
 You're 99 but we didn't tell. There is no 'h' before the word which, and why is your hair perfect NEVER a glitch? The prayer of the ldren... can you hear? That crazy bike how o you steer? We love you, Mr. Wolterstorff, and your lovely face, just one more thing...
 o vos omnes!"

-A farewell poem from the senior sopranos:
 Courtney, Jess, Elise, Karen, Alyssa,
 Naomi, Katrina, Carly C., Jenni,
 Carly J., Katie, Rachel, and Nikohl.

Mr. Wolterstorff conducts the varsity alto section on their solo. He is known for his desire to have backless chairs to ensure better posture when singing.

CHAMBER CHOIR

Zach Fuka examines his music. Mr. Wolterstorff would always make a point to tell each section to look at their parts while the other sections went over their own.

HONORS CHOIR

"The fries under the heater, that have fallen from the bags because they're free, and they're the freshest and the hottest! The fries always taste worse when you finally get back to your table." -Jenni Groot

"Turkey dinner, its not a meal- it's an immersion in chaos." -Nathan DeJong

What is the most random thing you did to get in trouble at school?

"Spit whip cream in Mr. Contant's face during a speech presentation about jello." -Bob Voss

"Not wanting to participate in origami day in Algebra with Mr. Anema." -Annie Bere

"Mr. Woudstra caught me charging my phone in the gym outlet during school." -Courtney Van Reken

If you could switch places with a teacher, who would it be and why?

"Mrs. McCrory... all the boys like her!" -Carly Jokich

"Z, because his name is awesome, he has the coolest son, he is the smartest math man I know and I love Z! My student id even says so!" -Alyssa VanHeukelem

"Mr. Woudstra, so I could hand out detention reminders, read the newspaper, and do crossword puzzles." -Leia Vos

"Mrs. Waldman, so I could be Chad's mom." -Zach VanDyke

"The lack of tazers to move freely through the freshman hallway." -Dustin Zwier

What is your most embarrassing moment?

"Freshman year in West Civ, Ms. Koolhaas asked me something and instead of the answer (Plebians) I said Plesbians. The whole class was laughing and I was kinda embarrassed."
-Dan Sourile

"Walking out of the locker room in only a towel after gym class after my undergarments were stolen."
-Dave Voss

"When I was unfastening my belt buckle in the bathroom, junior year, the whole clasp fell into the toilet. Not knowing what to do, I opened the stall to get help, but as the door swung open, the automatic flusher sucked that baby right up. Loose pants for Emily!"
-Emily Geelhoed

What dance move are you known for?

"Heel toe, baby!" -Katrina Denny

"The shimmy" -Dale Bonnes

"Slow dancing" -Matt Veselsky

"Standing still" -Adam Zarek

 you may know the hope to which He has called you.
 Ephesians 1:17&18

Brittani,
I am so thankful that I have a sister like you in my life. Not only a sister but an amazing friend. We have been through everything together and next year won't be the same without you. Brittani, you have been such a blessing in my life and I wouldn't be who I am today without you. I love you always and forever.

Your favorite sister,
Tara

Brittani,
I know we had our tough times as all brothers and sisters do, but through all that we have both grown. I'm very proud of you with all you have accomplished.

Good luck with the next pathway in life and remember that I am always there for you. As M.J. would say, "You fall over and over in life and that's why you succeed."

Never stop trying and always give your best.

Love, Ryan

Brittani,

What can I say about our little doll that grew up to be a beautiful doll. We remember so many times when Ryan would hold you as a baby. He looked like he was holding a doll.

Besides that, you always cared about the next person first, you sure took after your mother and grandfather. How he loved his Bittie! That's what he always called you as you know.

Your grandmother would like to thank you for all the wonderful moments in our lives that you gave us. I love when you come to visit me. Just to say hi and ask if I need anything like filling my gas tank (p.s.- that was Grandpa's job). Brittani, stay that way, don't ever change. Keep your heart and soul as large as it is now forever and remember to love the Lord always. I pray that whatever you venture on to, will lead you on the right path.

I will always love you,
Your Grandma B.

P.S.- Britt or Brittie, as Grandpa called her, could do no wrong.

Congratulations, Brittani!
We wish you all the joy and happiness that you deserve.

Love,
Uncle Brian, Aunt Nancee,
Morgan and Taylor

Brittani,

You were made for a wonderful purpose. Your father and I are so proud of you. God has blessed you with gifts you have been developing all your life.

Now it's time for another chapter in your life to train and find love. Happiness and success are yours today and always.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding ; in all your ways acknowledge Him and He will direct your path."

Proverbs 3:5-6

We love you and will always be there for you!!!
Mom and Dad

Brittani,

The changes that have taken place in all of our lives have brought our families together. Your free spirit, sense of humor and open heart have helped make this so enjoyable. The best is yet to come for you.

"Be still and know that I am God."
You have great gifts to share.

JASON GRIFFIN

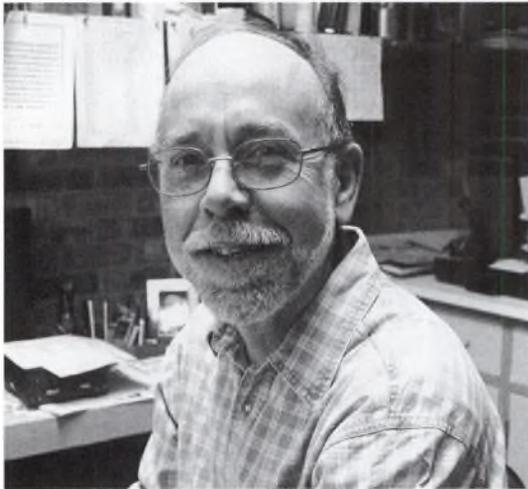

thanks mr. senti

So we are right with God through faith and not by obeying the law. Romans 3:28

Mr. Senti contributed an array of talents in his 36 years of service to Timothy Christian Schools.

Whether it was teaching a required middle school Bible class or a high school elective in computer aided drafting, whether it was coaching girls track or boys wrestling, whether it was crafting sets for a dramatic production or representing his colleagues in employment discussions with the Board. Mr. Senti always displayed a servant attitude that equally expressed care for others, a commitment to excellence, and a love for his calling.

Thank you, Mr. Senti, for your years of faithful service. You have blessed and enriched our lives.

Mr. Senti's pleasing demeanor is evident in this photo taken of him in his office. Bob, as he is known by his friends, taught 26 years in the Timothy junior high and 10 in the high school. He coached girls softball and basketball in the junior high and remembers a softball game that his girls won by a score of 55 to 45.

Mr. Senti said that he appreciates the great support that he received from the parents and school board during his years at Timothy and that "it was always fun and interesting to see the light in a student's eyes when they suddenly 'got it.' That was the greatest experience for me."

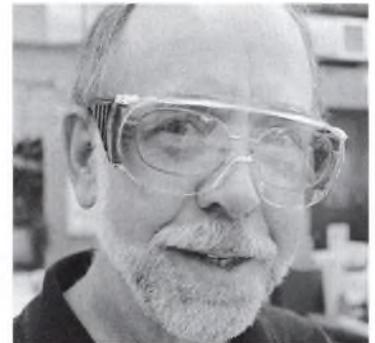

Some thought that Mr. Senti was a confirmed bachelor until he was swept off his feet by his wife.

Mr. Senti, who has a black belt in Judo, display super powers in this rare photograph.

Mr. Senti, the rookie teacher, before he sprouted his distinctive facial hair.

Building sets for the plays was fun for Mr. Senti. Mr. Day, Mr. Hartgerink, and Mr. Walterstorff always challenged him to make something that was just under impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. Senti pose for a graduation photo with their children, Rob and Rachel.

The young recruit, seen here in his Air Force dress uniform, was stationed in Taiwan in the early 60's.

Mr. Senti obviously enjoys being married to his lovely wife, Eve. His parting advice to us is to "be thankful when you have a job that you enjoy every day."

Mr. Slager poses for a family portrait on his 40th wedding anniversary with his wife Janet, his daughters Diane and Debbie, their husbands, and his four lovely granddaughters. Mr. Slager always enjoyed his daughter's friends seeing him outside of school so they could see him as a "normal guy" instead of just their teacher.

thanks mr. slager

And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. Romans 8:28

Mr. Slager, the new teacher with the great smile and wavy hair.

Mr. Larry Slager devoted his entire career to Timothy Christian High School - 39 years of dedicated teaching - providing stimulating US History, Sociology, and Government classes to thousands of students. While we recognized his appreciation for history and gift for organization and detail, his love for students was always apparent. He spent many hours after school tutoring or counseling kids who needed some personal support. He kept a vibrant intramural program alive even though students' schedules were busier and busier. He motivated so many students to excel in the Veteran of Foreign Wars speech contests. He has been recognized three times as the US History "Teacher of the Year" by the regional Illinois VFW and once as the "Illinois Teacher of the Year" by the state VFW.

Mr. Slager's parting advice is to "trust in the Lord always because He is faithful, to obey your parents, to accept Jesus as your personal savior, and to use your God given talents to serve the Lord every day." Thank you so much, Mr. Slager, for your lifelong contributions to Timothy Christian Schools and for your love and concern for your students.

From 1968 - 2006 Mr. Slager taught students to love U.S. History as much as he does. He also taught classes such as Sociology, Current Events, and Church History. Students found a new quote on his blackboard each day when they arrived.

Mr. Slager and Mr. Roelofs enjoy a chilly fall afternoon of intramural flag football in 2005.

Mr. Slager dedicated 5 years to coaching boys baseball in the late 60's and early 70's. He coached girls softball for seven years in the late 70's and early 80's and then again in 1997. His baseball and softball teams each won a few conference championships. He fondly remembers beating several larger schools the first year that he coached the Varsity Girls Softball team.

From 1969 -1970, Mr. Slager was the Student Council supervisor. He also took his advanced placement U.S. History classes on trips to Washington D.C. on four separate occasions.

Mr. Slager was the intramural coordinator for 37 years from 1970 - 2006. Year after year he relished the joy the students displayed for the various contests that they were involved in.

Spending more time with his granddaughters Katie, Brittany, Tara, and Carissa is something Mr. Slager is looking forward to after his retirement.

live

Send forth your light and your truth,
let them guide me;
let them bring me
to your holy mountain, to the place
where you dwell.

Psalms 43:3
