Annie

Fall Musical

- "Whale talk" -John Randle
- "A drunk AND a liar" -Heather Hooker
- "BAH!" -Peter Matthews
- "Champagne!!" -Heidi McAuley
- "Maybe they're young, maybe they're...dead"
-Olivia Doig

Rooster cuddles up to Ms. Hannigan right before the stage-stopping Easy Street trio.

Peter Matthews belts out "Tomorrow" with his fellow politicians and Annie.

Bert Healy, played by Dan Ziegler, sings while putting on a smile during his radio show. Dan enjoyed playing this character, as well as his other character, Drake.

Grace Farrell graciously endures Ms. Hannigan's snide remarks.

Mr. Warbucks and Grace Farrell share an awkward attraction moment.

Student directors Jenna Stech and Megan Kaszuba pose with choreographer Paula Barclay and directors Mr. Wolterstorff and Mr. Lindloff.

The orphans snicker and make faces at Ms. Hannigan's futile attempts at flirtation with Mr. Bundles.

Dan Denby and Andrew Cunningham pose for a pre-show picture. "The hobo dance was my favorite part of Annie," says Dan.

Mr. Warbucks and Annie celebrate being together at last!!

Annie optimistically looks forward to tomorrow in spite of an ever elongating list of losses.

The awesome orchestra pauses to pose. Director: Mr. Schoenbach. Accompanist: Mrs. Meigs

Daddy Warbucks serenades New York City as he heads to the Roxy with Annie and Ms. Farrell.

Ms. Hannigan rampages with her ready supply of rum at hand. "It was a lot of fun to play Ms. Hannigan, but as too frequently told that I was PERFECT for the part!"
-Heather Hooker

Grace, Oliver, and Annie finish the musical with a bang as they sing about the New Deal for Christmas.

Lily St. Regis steals the stage for a moment of glory in Easy Street. Forward Leanna recalls her time singing, "I loved being a character so different from my natural personality!"

Octoberfest

OctTRAVELfest

Sophomore girls take us back to the fifties as they sing about waiting at the bus stop sign.

The sophomores put on an exciting performance that engages the audience. Their energy really pumps up the spirit in the song Walk. "I had to run out as fast as I could in order to get to the front row!" -Jeff Vander Kamp.

- Worst "Goodnight Irene" EVER!
- Copper Clapper Caper- Mr. Roeloff's and Mr. Snoeyink's tongue twister
- Chad Voss dancing on his crutches
- "Push try to pump pour the patch in the place"
- Moon's Korean Writing
- Junior Guys blowing manly pixie dust
- Dan Miller falling during "My Bonnie"

The junior boys decide to spice things up and wear VERY short shorts during their song. "Those legs have CLEARLY never seen the sun before" -Rachel Embry

Juniors Becky Kim and Jacquelyn Iwema take a moment to snap a picture amidst the typical Octoberfest chaos right before scrambling to the stage.

For their first Octoberfest performance ever, the freshmen enjoy dressing in crazy clothes and showing off their grooviest dance moves.

Dan Miller, Joel Sytsma, and Ryan Evenhouse flood the stage as the "Sea of Green" in the choir song Yellow Submarine, sporting the latest trends from the local thrift store. "Some lady actually really wanted that green dress but I didn't let her have it. I felt kind of bad afterward." -Ryan Evenhouse

The sophomore guys combine their evening workout with singing and dancing during their performance of the song Rocket.

"It's an amazing time to act goofy with your friends and dress really dumb. I can't wait 'til next year!" -Meghan Jensen

This year's Fine Arts Co-Chairs smile in relief that all of their hard work has paid off. Caroline Hays, Dan Ziegler, and Courtney Bobko spent many long, tedious hours directing each song.

During their song Back of the Bus, the seniors remember the years of actually having to ride the school bus. "It's kinda sad that it was our last Octoberfest, but I'll be coming back next year to watch the underclassmen perform." -Karyn Weglarz

As the senior guys' song says, Speed Racer, a.k.a. Nathan Rivera-Melo, "jams the pedal down like he's never coming back".

Mr. Hersey goes Flying in an Airplane during the sophomore girls' song.

"Yeah, we totally went to Oberweis dressed like that after the show. It was crazy. We got some pretty weird looks." -Heidi McAuley

Cross Country

- Go, kick, kill!!!
- Katie making it downstate
- Singing on Friday Morning Runs
- Michigan Trip!
- Screamo Version of Soulja Boi
- Kansas, Kansas, Oklahoma
- Jeff and Bruce make it to Sectionals
- Life Savers sparking in the bathroom
- Pasta Parties!
- Catch Phrase at Mini Camp
- Scavenger hunt downstate

Kristin finishes a strong race at the PSL relays. "My four years of cross country were awesome. I love racing and most of all pasta parties before races!"

The girls do stride-outs before a tough race at the PSL relays. They had to endure a strong wind, but all had very strong finishes.

Senior, Anna, quickens her steps as she heads down the hill. She was a steady and strong senior leader for the team.

The team had a lot of fun this year. They enjoyed being with each other and encouraging each other everyday.

Leah leads the pack and paces herself early in the race. She would return to this spot two more times before the 3 mile race was done.

The girls pray to calm their nerves before the big Regional Ra. This was their routine before each race throughout the seas

Before running, the boys huddle up and get ready to compete in a great race. They pumped each other up and tried to settle each other's nerves.

After competing in the race downstate, Katie thanks her fans for encouraging her during her run by posing with them for a picture.

Jon and Jeff pace each other along the course. Both boys had a very strong season for the Trojans and look to build on that next year.

Bruce smiles through the pain as he hits the home stretch of a hard race.

"Cross country has been an awesome part of the last four years for me. The team and people are always so much fun and it's the best sport because it's co-ed! Everyone should run cross country because it is amazing!"
- Mark Zylstra

Candace focuses on finishing the back stretch at a PSL relays that took place at Bridge Park. She improved greatly over the course of the season.

"Cross country was mentally tough, but it was a great experience. I loved being on such a supportive and fun team!" -Candace Wieringa

Katie was a great addition to the cross country team this year. "I had a lot of fun running cross country and I had a great experience running downstate, too."

Jeff lengthens his stride as he separates himself from the large pack following behind.

Football

Senior vs. Faculty

- Jon Sytsma snagging a deflected football from Mr. Tameling's shoulder.
- Breaking Mr. Gesch's wrist.
- "Take it easy, Logan."
- Chris Liefeld's fake punt for the Hail Mary to Joel.
- Sacking Mr. Roelofs
- Faculty wins

As Mr. Roelofs looks for a receiver downfield, Mr. Tameling practices his karate skills on Joel Sytsma.

"Somebody should give that ref. a telephone manual because he doesn't know how to make any calls," complains Josh Pegman.

Joel works hard to maintain his balance while outrunning his opponents.

Fans come to support their fellow seniors through the cold and the bitterness. Looks like they didn't do much good. Better luck next year, seniors.

Even though his team is probably losing, Josh Svec cheers on his fellow seniors from the sidelines. The seniors put up a good fight this year, but they couldn't compete with age and experience.

Mr. Bluinier tries to sneak away from the seniors but they are too smart for that.

It was a father son moment as senior Mark Zylstra shook hands with his dad, Timothy math teacher, Mr. Z. "Now he won't leave me alone about how I lost to him," drones Mark.

Mr. Hersey and Mr. Hackert lunge for Mike Marshall's as he pushes past them for an attempted touchd

If you think that David Dodgson made an amazing catch here, you would be wrong.

- "That's a lot of Gold Bond!"
- Justin Barak stepping on everyone's feet
- Overall fun season!
- Season Record: 8-6-1

Keeper Blake Engelsman makes a big throw while John Bowman runs up the field.

Corey Phillip sends the ball to the back of the net. The keeper didn't even have a chance.

John Bowman clears out the ball before the opposing team gets a chance to attack.

Kyle Anderson, who anchors the defense, chests the ball.

Nathan Middel passes the ball up the field for the offensive attack.

Mike Pizzello goes up for a header.

ad Wieringa anticipates a pass and ans to trap it. "This season was very fun! ur coach did a good job during practices preparing us for games."

Varsity Soccer

Side to side with his defender, Josh Pegman clears the ball up the field with a perfect pass to his teammate.

- 14-6-1
- Bringing Wheaton Academy to shootouts after 2 overtimes
- Scoring against the championship team in the Pepsi Showdown, and holding them to a tie at half
- Heart breaking loss to Earlville on a windy day for the sectional semi finals
- Team sleepovers/halo parties
- Dropping the R-bomb
- Slip'n slide on the grass after practice
- Our good friend Pele
- Daylan, the MVP ballchaser
- The Big 84

Tim Veldman, a senior captain, anchored the solid defense this year. Everybody would ask, "Hey Tim, you wanna know what's ironic? That Timothy goes to Timothy!"

Joel Sytsma uses his head to clear the ball away from danger. Joel was very exceptional at using his head and played stopper for the defense.

Taylor Slager steals the ball. "I don't try to hurt the other people, it just happens sometimes."

John Voss fights for the ball. "One of my favorite things about the season was visiting blast city during practice."

Justin skillfully dribbles the ball up the field as the crowd looks on from the stands.

Jeb sends a beautiful pass upfield. The team went through an intense training program during the summer that included a lot of running, situps, pushups, squat thrusts, and sprinting.

Freshman Volleyball

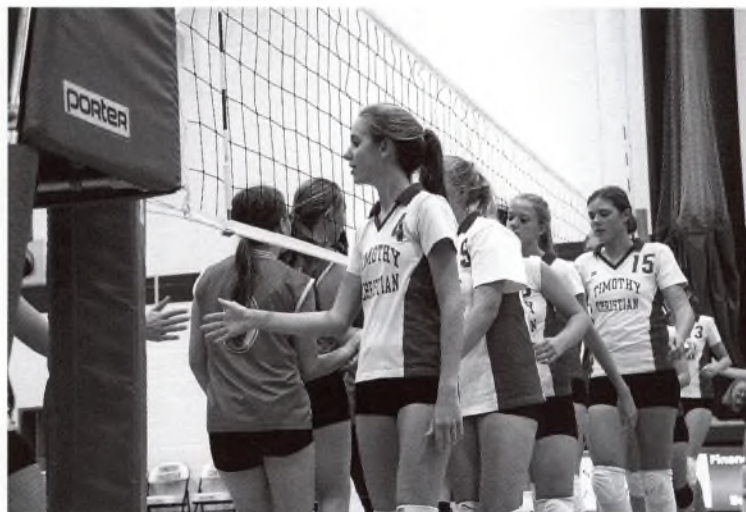

- Beating Hinsdale Central
- Lauren sliding on her knee pad
- Dancing to the Jonas Brothers
- Learning Soulja boi as a team
- Pre-game scrimmage
- Dancing lessons at Aurelio's

Colleen Griffin works her vertical as she jumps up high to spike the ball back at the other team. She comments, "I thought this season was really fun because our team did really well."

Amanda Muhlena works her height as she jumps to block a spike from the other team.

The girls shake hands with the other team after a tough game. The team was proud of their winning record this season.

Ashley Barak makes a great pass to the team's setter. The girls worked hard on perfecting bump-sets-spikes this year.

Coach DeWit and Nicole Hopp watch the game intensely hoping for a Trojan side-out.

Lauren LeDay shows good form as she makes a great pass. Her theme song for the year was "Lip Gloss".

JV Volleyball

- Teaching Ms. Eastway the Soulja Boi
- Suicides
- Noodles & Shopping
- Tournaments and Bus Rides
- "Why does it say NL?"
- "Are we doing initials?"- Janna Strodman

Niki Pizzello and Janna Strodman go up for a block. "Bagels and the bus rides were my favorite part of the season," says Niki. "Suicides and controlling emotions were the worst."

Coach Eastway pumps up her team before the big game. They had great team bonding and passion for the game.

Freshman Elise Biesbor makes a perfect pass to the setter. She loved playing up with sophomores.

Lisa Gregerson tricks the other team with a tip and puts an easy point on the board.

The team worked on getting on the floor with good form. Elizabeth Powers dives for a hard spike and saves the ball from hitting the floor.

Chelsea Bardolph passes a perfect set to the spiker.

Bethany Hoving receives a serve as her teammates look on.

- Freshman initiation
- The "Yah" game
- "Let's do pancakes"- Jacquelyn Iwema
- "Claudia!!!!!!!" (the name drill)
- Meghan Leach and Jacquelyn Iwema's laugh attacks on the bench
- Bethany Hoving laying on top of Anneke Stremmer during the Westminster game

Brittany Buikema reaches out for a perfect set to one of her three hitters.

The team pumps each other up through prayer before the big game. "I really enjoyed having a close relationship with all the girls on the team this year. I have lots of fun and crazy memories."

Kimmy Vos made some awesome plays at the net this season.

Bethany Hoving and Lindsay Vanderbrug back each other up to make sure the volleyball makes it to the setter.

Lindsay goes up for her killer lefty spike. She received the PSL All-Conference award this year.

Anneke Stremmer shows perfect form. The team went from being 16 volleyball players to one volleyball team."

Golf

- Getting 2nd place in regionals
- Dane cheating on Kyle
- Clint making fun of them
- It's Tiger Woods, yo!
- Dave and Andrew making it down state

Trevor Gorman works the kinks out of his putting on the practice green.

It's frustrating when you can't make a putt.

Dave does a good job keeping an eye on the ball. Dave was the only senior on the team and one of the leaders.

Thomas watches as Kyle sends the ball to its home.

Andrew follows through on his shot under pressure. He shot a match-winning 33 at Oak Brook.

You can hardly tell it's Peter's first year from the way he sinks this putt.

Thomas tries to blast one out of the bunker.

Girls Tennis

- All the kids on the court
- Toweling down the courts... what bonding!
- Pool party at Amanda's
- Pasta Parties
- Hittin' them balls through the fence
- Being more excited to see soccer balls than tennis balls
- JV Tennis wins the PSL

Junior Lindsey Holtrop warms up during practice, hitting a high return to her usual practice partner Brittany VanderNaald.

Junior Laura Vanderveld makes a skillful return.

or Connie Snyder expertly serves to a teammate. Connie reminisces about last season saying, "I will miss being on tennis next year. It was a lot of fun, will always remember picking up balls for the lazy JV members."

Coach Mills gives a pre-practice rundown to the girls, telling them what they need to work on for the day. His talks would usually include reminders for the forgetful players to bring their uniforms.

Sophomore Lauren Troxel was a newcomer this year, but adjusted to the varsity team with great ease.

Junior Mary Beth Langkamp quickly runs to save a ball.

Service

Showing Christ's love through action

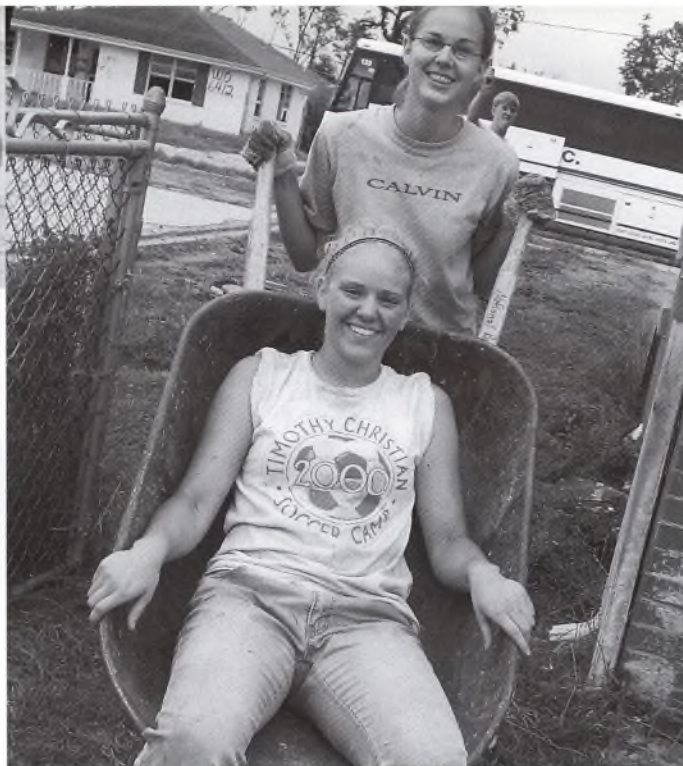

I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.

Matthew 25:40

- Mmabato
- Dominican Republic
- El Paso, Texas
- Latvia
- New Orleans, Louisiana
- Bowling Green, Kentucky
- Tijuana, Mexico

Susan Meulink displays her newly found favorite drink in Mexico- Manzanita Lift. (that means apple for all of you non-Spanish students)

Rachel Holtrop and Candace Wieringa take a break from pulling weeds and gutting a house hit by Hurricane Katrina.

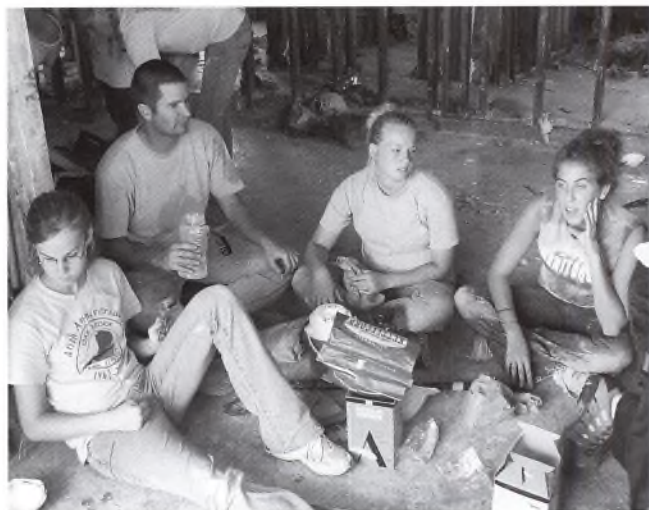

In their camp in Louisiana, Lindsay Holtrop, Brittany Vandernaald, and Corrine Wieringa befriend the animals before heading out for a day of demolition.

Josh Pegman poses with Abram and Isai, two missionaries in Mexico, after going to see a movie with a group of orphans.

Joel Sytsma builds a deck in El Paso. Reflecting on the trip he said, "It was great to see how God showed up in unexpected ways."

Sitting in the house they were gutting, students Rachel Holtrop, Brittany VanderNaald and Corrine Wieringa eat their lunches after a hard morning of tearing out the house. "It was a great experience getting to work with a lot of different people to help a community in need." -Rachel Holtrop

The whole group stops and takes a break from a long day's work repairing houses for underprivileged families in Kentucky.

Colleen Griffin and Lauren Couture show their TC basketball spirit with their Lowe's tool belts at the project in Kentucky.

"Working with kids through missions in Mmabato was a life changing experience. I know that's where God wants me to be."
-Jessica Michnowski

"Helping people in Kentucky really made me feel blessed because of what I have, and what I can give others."
- Josh Folkerts

Faith CRC's Youth Group went to New Orleans to do clean-up for Hurricane Katrina. Two years after the storm, some houses still hadn't been touched by clean-up crews.

"On the missions trip to Bowling Green, KY, I was in a group that built a deck for a family. It was so amazing and fun to see God's work through service."
-Alyssa Tammeling

"We worked VBS and worked on a church and playground while we were in Dominican Republic."
-Amanda Rychtanek

Juniors from Faith CRC enjoy a surprise Pizza Hut dinner during their trip to New Orleans after a hard day of scrubbing mold off of a playground.

Heidi McAuley plays in the worship band from her youth group for a group of kids in Latvia. "I almost didn't play because they had much more experience on guitar, but in the end I jumped right in and it was very rewarding!"

Amanda Rychtanek's joyful spirit radiates as she shares God's love through painting nails and talking with young girls in the Dominican Republic.

Isai (a missionary in Mexico), Christy Frees, Meghan Jensen, Tori McBride, Rachel Embry, Bri Milazzo (Lisle High School), Kara Marshall, and Corrie Weber pose for a picture as they drive up a gravel road to their worksite where they built a house. It was a long and bumpy ride in their legendary van TP-10.

Amanda Dykema shows her enthusiasm for helping others in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

Turnabout

"An Asian Occasion"

- Signing the "contract" to dance appropriately
- The Dance being as over-populated as Asia
- Ryan Evenhouse doing the worm
- Asian themed dance
- DJ Steve rocking the cafeteria

Junior Elizabeth DeGroot shares a dance with her date Maxwell Baumbach. She asked him to be her date to the dance by stealing his Reformed Perspectives book and writing in it. Everyone in the class thought it was a comedic but clever way to ask him.

Sophomore girls having fun at the dance; laughing about stories of their last slow dance or debating who has the best dress, perhaps?

Senior Nathan Rivera-Melo dances into the circle to show off his moves.

Junior Samantha Goedeke and sophomore Jeff Vanderkamp decided to go to Turnabout together after having shared an enjoyable cross country season as teammates.

While stepping out from the dance, Josh Cook, Peter Tammeling, Brandon Buikema, Zack Woldman, and Josh Folkerts strike a pose for the camera.

Even after dancing the night away, junior girls Lindsey Holtrop, Corrine Wieringa, Mary Beth Langkamp, and Brittany VanderNaald still look lovely.

Trend setters, Kyle Hawkins, John Randel, and Jaaron Holmes are looking fly at the dance.

Kelsey Kaczynski and Jenna Stech enjoyed their time at the first formal dance of the year. They celebrated the end of a great night with a hug.

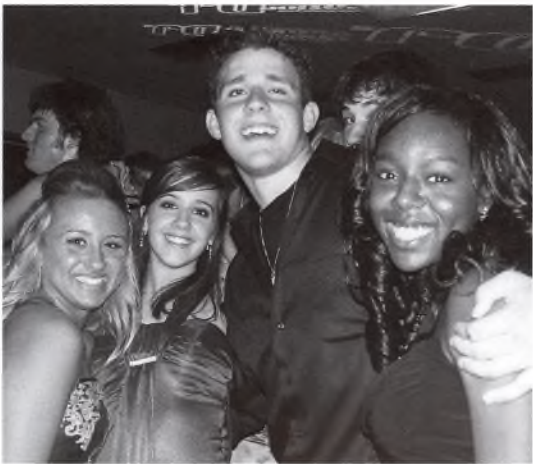

Josh Pegman and Kelsey Kaczynski share a slow dance. Kelsey asked Josh to the dance by putting together a scavenger hunt with many tasks for him to perform. One task was for him to dance and sing on top of a table at Ed Debevis.

Brandon Jackson and Angela Miles show off their gorgeous dresses. Like most girls do, they kicked their heels, but they still look stylish bare-footed.

Junior ladies Allison Bouma and Rebecca More flock to Brad Wieringa and Aaron after seeing them sweat it on the dance floor.

Seniors Trevor Van Dahm, Mark Zylstra, Dan Miller, Courtney Bobco, and Dan Zeiglar, "get down" to the "Cha-Cha Slide," along with everyone else at the dance. DJ Stevie D. loves to get everyone dancing by playing this song.

Senior Ryan Evenhouse showing off by doing "the worm." While performing this stunt Ryan accidentally injured his chin; but he didn't let it ruin his evening.

Senior couples Carrie Weber, Zack Woldman, Josh Cook, and Lauren VanDrunen stop to take a quick picture before entering the dance.

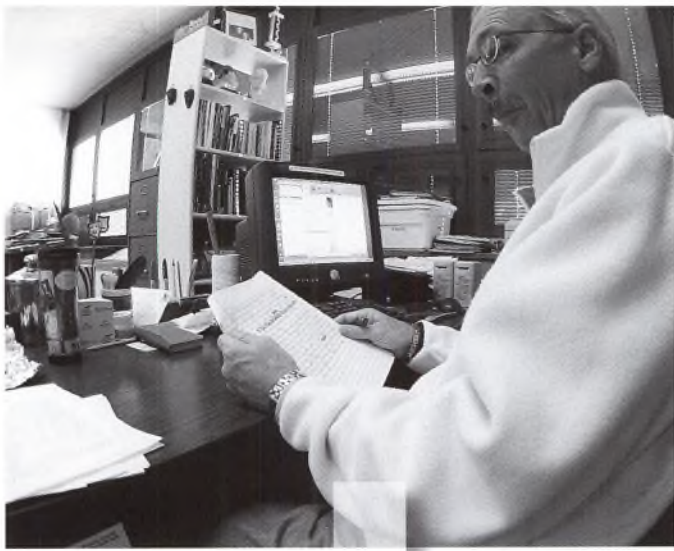

Everyone's favorite guest, Peter Parenti, smiles for the camera with junior friends Amanda Rychtanek, Christen Everett, and Shannon McNeil. Christen asked him to be her date to Turnabout because she knew they would have a fun time together.

Josh Thomas takes a turn in the circle to show off his amazing dance skills and impress the crowd of onlookers.

Seniors Kristen Caruso and Josh Pegman dance in "the circle" in front of their peers; soon getting everyone else dancing as well.

Humboldt Dinner

- First black Santa
- The coffee mix-up
- Soulja Boi dance with the kids
- Piñata Fun
- Courtney's quick thinking on the fireplace
- GFS donates 4 10lb turkeys
- Making a lot of new friends and having a successful dinner!

"I have been on Humboldt for four years and every year has been a new and different experience. Each time we thought we were there to bless the under privileged families, but every time we left more blessed ourselves."

John Randle was an excellent Santa this year. All the kids loved him. Many of them could be heard saying, "I didn't know that Santa was black!"

Becky Kim and Katie Dirkse take a break from playing with the kids long enough to take a picture of a lasting memory.

Becky Kim, Heather Hooker, Heidi McAuley and Jenna Stech set the mood for the dinner with some great Christmas caroling. By the end of the dinner, kids were gathered round the piano joining in.

Rita Clousing leaves her kitchen duty to serve the food family style. The meal included beef, turkey, corn, mashed potatoes, and apple sauce.

The tables are set by Christy Frees and Aly Trapp before the guests arrive. "After we had finished setting up, there was a lot of downtime. It was nerve racking waiting for them to arrive."

Amanda Rychtanek holds an 18 month old girl named Heaven. Everyone at the dinner wanted to hold her. "Can I keep her?" asked John Randle.

The whole group pauses from the festivities long enough to take a picture. By the end of the night everyone was tired, but it was worth all the hard work to be able to spend time with such great families.

Stratford & Theaterfest

Casey Fazio, Caroline Hays, Heidi McAuley and Ali Cirignani sleep on the way home.

- Romeo has a lisp!!
- Dan spilled chocolate milk and Cheetos in the bus
- "What's es-car-go?"
- 10 fingers
- "Her name is..Heidi?! Does she milk goats and wear pigtails?"-The Fan
- Mr. Lindloff's favorite part of the performance..
cough cough
- Rachel's croissants
- Hairspray boot camp
- "Your bass range should be four octaves because there are four beats in a measure"

Students pose during their fancy dinner before going to see another performance. Rachel Groters recalls her time, saying, "I loved the costumes, modern take, and funny moments in Merchant of Venice."

Casey Fazio and Caroline Hays contemplate Shakespeare's metal literature.

Rachel, Christy, and Heather pose in front of the Circus Room in the Bone Center at the University of Illinois.

Dan, Dan, Katrin, and Eric show their prizes and scores from playing cards for sugar packets on the bus ride home.

Everyone smiles for the camera after the theaterfest trip.

Could Dan and Heidi become trend setters with their flamboyant new clothes?

Worship

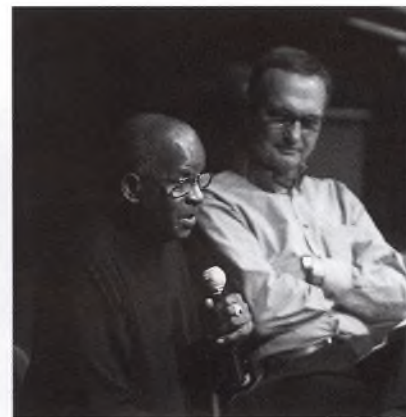

Growing in faith and community

- Valentine's Day skit – Mr. and Mrs. Hersey's kiss
- Dave Dodgson: "Philipines" instead of Philippians
- "You gots to get yo own threads!" Brian Hunt in a skit
- Contant's surprise appearance
- Great singing and heartfelt testimonies
- Meeting God on Tuesdays and Thursdays!

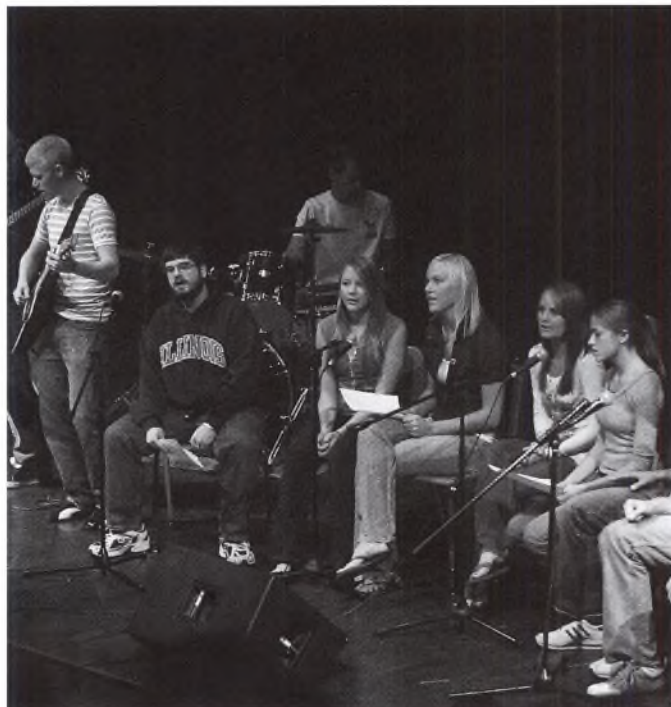

Heather Hooker sings with Ben Calhoun, a professional musician from Judson College. He sings several of his own compositions and shares stories from his faith journey.

Steve Ridolphi, Dave Stremmer, and Joel Sytsma perform in a skit with other students. Steve is a nerd bullied by Dave. This is one of the first skits of many throughout the year written by Chapel Committee.

The Bishop, who came out of high security prison as a Christian, visits Timothy to speak about his experiences and faith journey. He is interviewed in chapel by Mr. VanderAa, who helped him in his release from prison.

A group of juniors and seniors sing in front of chapel. These students shared their musical talents during worship many times throughout the year.

In the beginning of the year, students had the opportunity to go outside with their chapel seating section. This was an opportunity to meet new students, build community, and talk about what was happening in their lives.

Many students participate in the praise band with Mr. Schoenbach this year. Here, a group of students lead us in worship.

Mr. Wiener leads a chapel about getting in the Word for the new year. The cheerleaders, a Bible class, and others help him to show his excitement about the importance of God's Word in our lives.

This year students had an opportunity to text their questions to a panel of teachers. Mrs. David, Mr. Adamski, and Mr. Hersey answer anonymous questions sent in by the students about faith or any other concern.

Care Convention

JESUS ROCKS

- Early morning breakfast at Simons
- Chicken Fight Hug difficulties
- Peter Tammelng bringing bunches of bananas
- Joel, the Hunk, benchpressing every little kid in the audience during the "Because I Wanna Be Loved" skit

Some students enjoy writing care notes to the 7th graders. The whole day is intended to have the students leave feeling loved and cared for. One way this is done is by writing kind and caring things and putting them in their care bags.

"It was really great getting to know and interact with the kids!" says Nikki Blamey. The day is always beneficial for all and such a fun break from the regular school schedule.

Jeff Klein gives an inspirational talk during one of the four sessions of the day. After his talk, the 7th graders split off into their small groups and discussed issues that were brought up.

During a chapel held for the high school students, the skit "Acceptable Hugs" is shown. Along with the Spiral Hug, the Chicken Fight Hug, Awkward Side Hug, Barbie Hug, and a few others.

The support staff takes a break to snap a picture. They put on fun skits for the students and keep the energy high the entire day.

After lunch the group goes outside to play an exciting game of "Simon Says". Both the high school and 7th grade students had to do fun actions as quickly as possible. Here Emily Vos tells one student to sing "I'm a Little Tea Pot."

Girls Freshman Basketball

- Discussing the Human Dignity Policy
- Covering Coach Allie's car in Bee Movie posters
- "Coach, I'm diggin' the vibe!"
- Dinner at Portillo's
- Roughing it up with Chicago Hope Academy
- Three-point showdowns
- The Maker and creation.
- Placing 4th in the Lisle Christmas Tournament and second in the PSL Tournament
- Singing "What Hurts the Most" on the bus
- Coach Allie was the bombdiggy

Ashley Barak searches for an open teammate during a home game against Luther South.

Kacey Wierenga rises above her opponents with a striding leap to score two points during the Trojan's victory against Walther.

Krista Lodewyk gives an example of her hard work and smothering defense in an intense game against Walther Luther.

The team gathers around Coach Alli Baumbach for some quick pointers and advice during a team timeout.

The players waiting to get in the game take some time for rest and refreshment while encouraging their teammates from the bench.

Renata Harris finds an opening and passes the ball off after a baseline cut.

Girls JV Basketball

Girls JV Basketball 1st row: Kari LeGrand, Crista Wieland, Jenicka Johnson. 2nd row: Janna Stradman, Amanda Dykema, Coach Woudstra, Lauren Troxel, Liz Powers.

- Kari's lucky make-up and injuries

JV Basketball

- Kordel's pregame dunk
- 8-0 in conference
- The goat boy
- Barak "no hugging" and "that's a foul!"
- Playing a "near perfect" game to beat Illiana Christian 59-32 and clinch the PSL championship

Will Roelofs fights for the rebound against his opponent from Luther South.

Derek Temple looks to pass beyond an opponent in a game against Luther South.

Coach Zylstra goes over the plays and strategy with his team.

Matt Meyer gets the ball down low and powers past the opposing defense.

Mark Penczak takes the ball up and passes. Mark was brought up as a freshman because he showed great potential as a player.

Justin Peebles goes up for the layup with great form.

Varsity Basketball

Other teams fear him, his teammates love him. Jaaron Holmes: superstar.

- Winning the PSL Tournament Championship
- Winning 10 out of the last 13 games
- Homecoming victory against Wheaton Academy
- Logan's buzzer beater to beat Driscoll
- ONE HEART, ONE MIND, ONE GOAL!

With his signature look, Joel Sytsma blows past the defense for a hard earned two points.

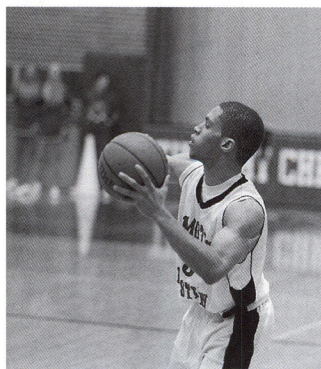

Vince Williams, a key addition to the team, shows off his substantial skills on the basketball floor.

Rob Stein skys for a rebound and shows off why he has coaches excited over his amount of potential.

Andrew Logan blurs by the defense with his mind-numbing speed and goes for an easy two.

Daylan Anderson, the senior guard, looks to add to his already substantial time collection."

Peter gets the Trojans off to a good start by winning the jump ball.

This year the pommers performed a sports themed Homecoming routine. Teachers Mr. Blunier and Mr. Hersey joined the dads for this performance.

Emily Vos and Nikki Blamey show spirit for Timothy before a performance. One of the most repeated quotes of the season, "Top of the mornin' to y'all!", was said by Emily Vos.

The pommers made their shirts and hats for their hip hop routine this year. "It was a fun thing to do to switch things up at practice - and I love art projects!" said senior Megan Kaszuba.

The Pom squad performed a flashlight routine this year. Many of the pommers enjoyed learning this routine because it was fun and exciting to have to find their spots on the gym floor in total darkness.

On Homecoming game day the pommers brought back a competition performance from the summer for the pep rally. "I was more nervous for the pep rally than the Homecoming game performance. We only did our camp routine a couple of times since competition before performing it once again." - Lauren Hansberger

Carrying on the tradition, the pommers and their mothers went to Glen Oak Country Club for a night of Christmas cheer!

Captains Lauren Hansberger, Paula Barclay, and Catherine Willis take a moment to snap a picture. "As captains, we had to spend lots of extra time making up dances but it was totally worth it!" -Catherine Willis

The Pommers link up to show off one of their favorite pom moves.

Varsity Cheerleading

The cheerleaders liked to call this stunt The Blossom. It was an original idea from Coach Aaron and a favorite after it was perfected.

- Muffiel
- Amazing sleepovers with late-night cookie dough
- Everyone looking for Greg's contact which was stuck to the door
- Really....?
- Hey Katie? P.S.? Cheerleadering - we love Laura
- Use your strong hand!
- Greg, you're so handsome ...the goodluck quote

The squad shows spirit while taking the floor. Lauren Szandzik says, "The crowd always gets us fired up before we perform."

Drop, Drop, Drop, BOOM, the cheerleaders get low in a hip-hop styled dance. First time cheerleader Niki Pizzello said "The games were a blast, and I really liked performing for the crowd. I'm glad I tried out."

Captain Katie and Mary Beth lead the squad in a cheer on the sidelines.

Susan and Katie show some love before the game.

The seniors say goodbye in their final routine. The girls learned this routine in about a week which was a big accomplishment. The routine hit perfectly and the season ended with a bang.

Winter Wonderland

- Seniors winning the Spirit Week challenge to get $5 off their HC tickets
- King Joel Sytsma and Queen Candace Wieringa
- Mr. Woudstra's long lecture about "clean dancing"
- "L-Train! L-Train! L-Train!"

Jordan Jackson enthusiastically cheers in a crowd of lethargic students at the pep rally. Way to be one of the few to show school spirit!

The four senior homecoming court girls are drilled with personal questions in front of the whole high school in order for people to get to know them better.

"Eighties Day is the spirit day that everyone always looks forward to all four years! It was pretty much the highlight of my life!" -Amy Paul

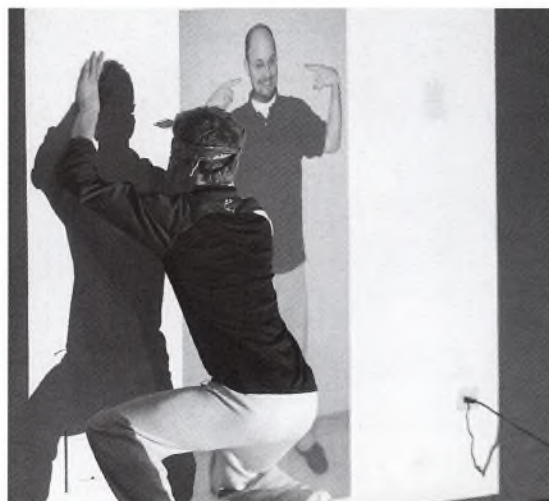

Julie Schram and Steven Barre dance the night away at their first Homecoming ever.

Josh Folkerts body surfs in the crowd before the DJ stops the music to warn against getting too rowdy.

Lindsay, Kimmy, Alyssa, Karen, Jamie, and Emily sport their Hollister shirts on Twin Day.

Jon Voss gropes a projected picture of Mr. Schoenbach in order to pin a toupe on him. It was one of the games at the Homecoming Week assembly.

For the third quarter of the guys' homecoming game, the varsity girls' team follows tradition as they perform a dance to N'SYNC's "It's Gonna Be Me".

Junior boys are enthralled by the attractive girls basketball team as they watch their skills on the court. Beauty and talent: the ultimate combination.

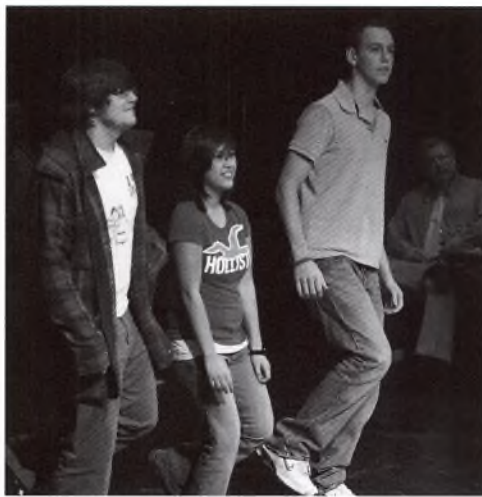

The Homecoming Court shows their competitive side as they make fools of themselves spinning around bats and doing the grapevine through ladders.

ie Smith belts out a high note in song "I Will Survive", competing against the dominant seniors in the song contest.

Jordan Jackson, Angela Miles, and Ebony Wrenn rest their tired feet after a long night of dancing at Ashton Place.

Side ponytails were a popular choice for seniors on 80's day. Emily Vos and Alyssa Tammeling join the groovy trend.

As king and queen, Joel Sytsma and Candace Wieringa deserve to represent the student body as great Christian role models.

The sophomores raise the roof as they rock out to the pumpin' music that the DJ supplies.

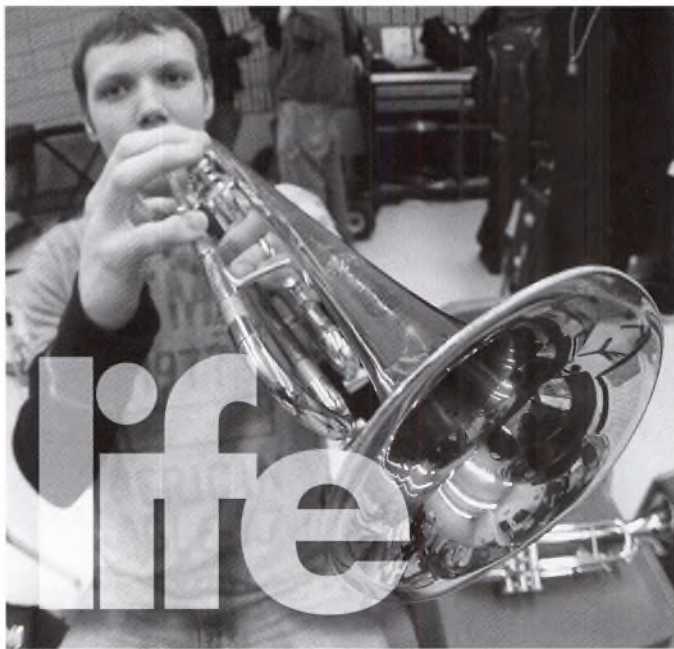

The girls take a few minutes to catch their breath as they take a break from the dance floor.

Fine Arts Week

- The endless search for the salamander
- Shirt flying onto the stage
- The awe-inspiring opera duo
- BAM!
- Dance workshop
- The Jewish Band

In a varied performance by BAM, the tap dancers mix upbeat rhythms with traditional and contemporary music to create a highly entertaining show.

Green Room Improv gets into their show. Many laughed uncontrollably at the actors' spontaneous actions and reactions, while others were not impressed by a few violent references.

One of the Maxwell Street Klezmer Band members plays his clarinet like a pro. Their performance (especially the clarinetist/saxophone player and the fiddler) was considered to be amazing by many.

New student Abbie Newell introduces an original song at a Fine Arts assembly. Abby sang "Fallin' into You" and accompanied herself on the piano.

Courtney Bobko performs a piece on the clarinet. She was very involved in Fine Arts, performing regularly with Jazz Band along with various small group and solo performances in concerts and assemblies.

Ali Cirignani sings "Beauty and the Beast" for a Fine Arts assembly. Ali has been taking voice lessons for several years and loves to praise God through her voice.

Mr. Nestor, the art judge, speaks to students about his winning choices. Students learned what it takes to make a quality piece of artwork.

Jamal Sarikoki, Samantha Goedeke, and Ben Wagner play strings together during the final performance.

Hillary Hemple once again wows the crowd with her violin performance. Hillary has been playing her whole life and her seemingly effortless ability to make her music amazes the audience every time.

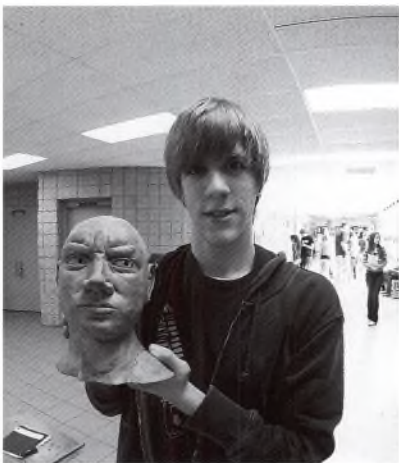

Julie Speulda plays her 2nd-place piano piece. She performed the 3rd movement of the "Moonlight Sonata" with the grace and ferocity needed to make the piece memorable.

Katrin smiles in front of her prize winning painting, "Don't Drop me." Katrin obtained various other awards in drawing and photography.

ie McKay is caught in the middle of a graceful ice move as she performs her award winning ce for the final Fine Arts program.

Jeff Stein holds up his prize winning ceramic head. The art judge told the students that this piece was a winner because it expressed a strong specific expression.

Abbie Helmus and Julie Schram perform a clarinet duet for the final program.

Paula Barclay twirls beautifully for the audience. Paula spends many hours a day training to follow her dreams into college.

Mr. Rinsema speaks during one of the many Fine Arts assemblies and performances. Thank you, Mr. Rinsema, for all of your hard work towards making Timothy's Fine Arts program truly excellent!

Marielle Osling poses with her prize winning picture of her little brother. Marielle expressed that the reason why she painted her brother was to show her brother's perspective.

Heidi McAuley plays the winning piano piece, a sonata by Schubert. "I felt like I totally bombed the performance that mattered," Heidi related later, "but someone told me afterward that they loved the piece anyway."

Trevor Gorman and Katie Vanderveld perfect some pottery during a special Fine Arts chapel. The audience was slightly confused at the beginning of the chapel, but most became appreciative of the art-making as the chapel progressed.

The players concentrate on the game as they watch their teammates bat.

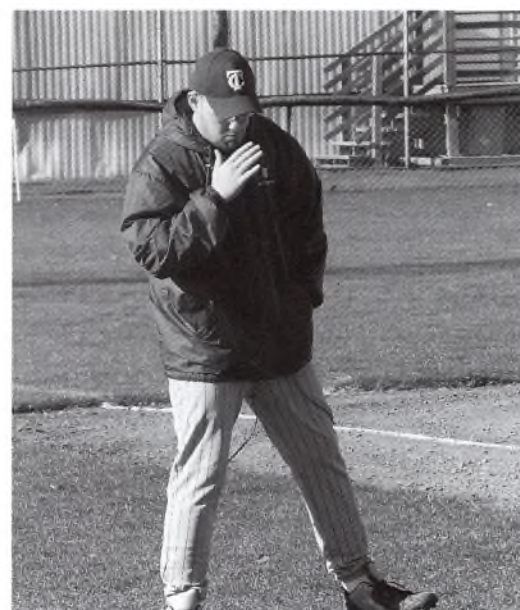

Freshman Peter Matthews anticipates the pitch.

Matt Meyer gets down to make the play at third.

Mark Penczak, who is a freshman starting pitcher, fires the ball over the plate for another strike.

Mr. Schoenbach is either whispering something to the chipmunks or giving a sign to his batter.

Varsity Baseball

Johnathan Van Byssum throws the ball to first during warm-ups.

Johnathan and Thomas try to catch the high throw from the plate before the runner gets to second.

- Thomas- put a red helmet on!!
- Dane ... "What hand am I?"
- Getting slaughtered and slaughtering.
- Beating Chicago Christian in the last regular game of the season.
- "Peg"ging Josh's car with a foul ball... dead center.
- 3 homeruns in one inning... White, VanByssum, N. Tameling.
- Josh's aggressiveness on the basepaths

Dane VanReken crosses home plate and scores another run for the Trojans!

Taylor Slager... "One of the hardest things to do when you're pitching is to keep the ball down low at the knees."

Josh pokes it through the infield for a base hit.

Mike Marshall gets ready to use his amazing power and skill to crush the ball out of the park.

Mock Trial

- Caroline breaking the Hubbard guy's arm
- Thomas messing up the timing
- Heather making Chris Lyman cry
- Corey drinking jars of pickle juice
- Surprise Balls
- Amanda and Mrs. Stein's polka dot party
- The acquisition of Marta
- Ditch Day & Saturday school

Ibie Hart, Natascha Cirignani, and Taylor Bryant take a break from practice to smile for the camera. The team becomes very close after many hours of practice.

Dan Denby takes the stand. This was Dan's third year on Mock Trial.

Corey Van Dyk, Ibie Hart, and Dan Denby sit beside the B team members. This year the B team was made up of mostly freshmen and one sophomore.

As Amanda makes silly faces, Heather and James prepare for the case. The three are members of the infamous "God Squad".

Mr. Roelofs and Ms. Stein make up a great coaching team. Mr. Roelofs remarked about one of the state competition trials, "It was one of the best trials I have ever seen. Boylan had a tremendous team and we had one of the best performances against the toughest team we faced all year."

The team took first place in the DuPage County Mock Trial competition.

Variety Show

Becky Kim and Heidi McCauly moved the audience when they sang "When You Believe" from The Prince of Egypt.

- This year the money raised by the Variety Show supported Joel Sytsma and Dave Dodgson. They will be going to New Zealand with YWAM.
- 1st Place: Dan and Jeff - Drum Duo
- 2nd Place: Snow Patrol - "Run"
- 3rd Place: Senior Girls - "Love Song 78"

The Trackstreet Boys; Mark Zylstra, Jon Denny, Xavier Owens, and Maxwell Baumbach sang and danced to their rendition of "I Want It That Way."

Jon Denny, Aaron Foster, Will Roelofs, Jamal Sarikaki, Taylor Slager, and Andrew Woodhul, took second with "Run" by Snow Patrol.

Four seniors; Bethany Hoving, Lauren VanDrunen, Emily Vas, and Kimmy Vas, took third with "Love Song."

Dustin Searer performed twice in this year's variety show. He surprised the audience with his deep voice. His second performance was an Irish dance.

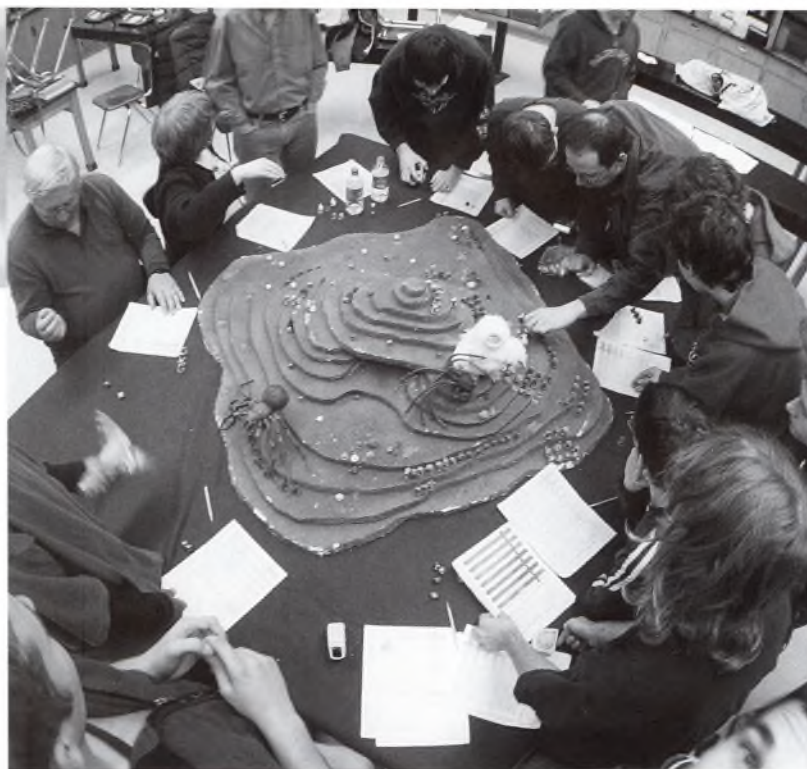

For the second year in a row drummers dominated the variety show. Dan and Jeff put the whole auditorium in awe with their powerful and perfectly synchronized performance.

Ryan and Nathan put on a skit that was both random and hilarious.... and took two acts to finish.

Gaming Club

- Mike Iwema getting his earbud stuck in his ear
- Bunny war cry- "Squeak! Squeak!"
- "Go big or go home"
- "It's like Gettysburg but with giant fighting robots"

During the Christmas game, "King of the Hill", the gamers must get past the killer bunnies and other evil villains to reach the top of the hill.

Saga

Junior Anneke Stremmer tells an embarrassing story while the rest of the group listens in. Karyn has too good of a work ethic to depart from her diligent concentration on her page.

- Morphing Faces
- Belting out "Bohemian Rhapsody" and "Oh Happy Day"
- Singing "Goodbye" in harmony... or trying to
- "Who IS this person?" "Really?"
- 55 pages in two weeks!!!
- Taylor's pregnant pictures
- Recruiting random people to help on pages
- Joel...the caption master.

Rachel Embry beats up Kent Dixon because he distracts the staff from working. Kent joined Saga toward the end of the year with his main goal being that of encouraging and keeping the group entertained.

Senior Christy Frees and junior Anneke Stremmer work diligently while eating their pizza during a long night before a deadline.

Rachel Embry, Karyn Weglarz, and Candace Wieringa laugh over some of the seniors most embarrassing moments on the senior survey page.

Seniors Kent Dixon, Taylor Slager, and Kelsey Kaczynski laugh about a picture on one of their pages.

Brittany VanderNaald pouts as she has to come up with captions for a difficult photo. "This year has been so much fun and I'm looking forward to being an editor with Corrine and Taylor next year!"

Trumpet

- Eating snacks before meetings
- Giggling over ridiculous sentences
- Mental telepathy
- Late night deadlines
- "Rachel, HELP!"
- "Ben will do it."

Dave Stremmer shows off his perfect form that he learned from his sister Anneke.

The best of the best come to play their favorite sports at the intramural tournaments.

Nate Puchalski aka Nate Dawg dives successfully for Rob Stein's flag, which led to an amazing comeback.

Robert Stein sprints the last ten yards and scores a touchdown.

The boys huddle up to plan their next attack.

Rob Stein tries to deflect John Randles attempt to snatch his flag.

Taylor Slager slams a side arm spike to win the match while Ben Zigterman covers for him.

Perfect sets like this help to win the game.

New Style

- Simon's Breakfast!!
- Bible Mad Gab
- It's the forgotten fruit!
- What if the marker doesn't come off?!

The New Style group make each Thursday morning fun. They enjoy the fellowship with each other and God.

New Style 1st row: Hillary Hempel, Rachel Embry, Christy Frees, Anna Boot, Eric Pahlman, Adam Rink. 2nd row: Becky Kim, Jacquelyn Iwema, Anneke Stremler, Candace Wieringa, Katie Dirkse, Courtney Bobko, Jeff VanderKamp, Jon Denny.

Candace and Jon write down prayer requests for the week. Through meeting every week, the group got really close and were able to share different things that were on their minds.

The fruits of the spirit was just one of the subjects that the group discussed. They also enjoyed reading through James. Whether it was quiet time, partner prayer time, group discussions, or eating delicious food over breakfast, students diligently came and found it to be worthwhile.

Becky and Katie pose for a fun picture. They always brought a smile to our meetings and always had good and helpful things to say about the discussion.

"New Style is a good way to put aside time for God in the middle of a usually busy week. It was really cool to see the community that was built. I was able to get to know students that I usually don't talk to." - Candace

Asian Pacific Heritage

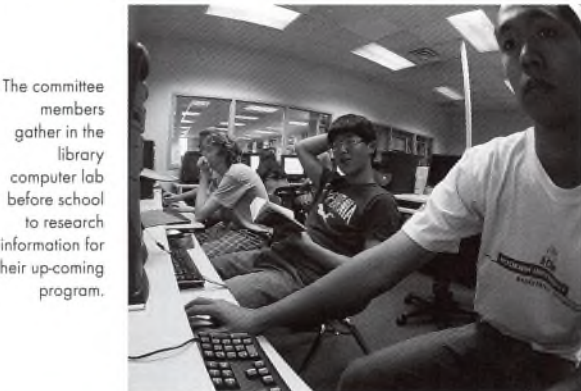

Simon Wang showed us photos of the awful devastation that was caused by the 5.2 earthquake that struck western China. A collection was taken after chapel to help the earthquake victims.

Jaquelyn Iwema and Karen Boice perform an enchanting Filipino glasses dance.

Dai Hee said he would give "amazing things" to anyone who could answer his trivia questions about Korea.

The committee members gather in the library computer lab before school to research information for their up-coming program.

The Asian Pacific Heritage Committee has a 9:03 meeting to get organized.

Rev. Kim, with his youngest daughter Becky by his side, tells about his life-journey which started in North Korea.

"I learned that my family's gift for sewing was passed down to me and I enjoy it a lot."

Ellen Hayes makes practical things from discarded items.

Band & Orchestra

- Cityscape!!!!!!!
- Trumpet tonguing competition
- Courtney screaming as if we were under attack when a microphone fell
- "Yesterday, I oiled my trumpet with cooking oil and it made it even stickier." -Andrew Arcos
"And that's why you shouldn't use foreign oil."
- Lance LeGrand

ORCHESTRA

- Jamal escaping out of the door
- Candace "checking out"
- Laura's shoulder issues
- Salv's interesting teaching methods

Sophomore Ryan Embry demonstrates his trombone skills. "I really enjoy band because we always have a lot of fun while we work on the music."

Senior Courtney Bobko leads the clarinet section as it rehearses in an entry way by the art room.

Audie Smith, a sophomore, led the saxophone section this year. The sax section was pretty small this year and other band members helped them out during certain songs.

Mr. Schoenbach conducts the band during a concert. Since the rehearsal before this concert was terrible, the band was assured that they would play well because that is a sure sign that the concert will go smoothly.

In "New Years Celebration", Hillary and Simon are featured soloists. It is played in honor of newcomer, Simon Wang.

Meghan and Aimee concentrate on the difficult rhythms and dynamics of their music. Practicing for the first three weeks makes the weeks before the concert smooth sailing.

in Sytsma, Jeff VanderKamp, Becky Visser, and Abby Helmus perform in the Pep Band during warm-ups of a basketball game.

Ben Wagner intently listens to the musicians around him in order to match his classmates' intonations. He was a strong addition to the viola section this year.

This year the orchestra did word studies on gentleness, peace, agape love, and joy. Ms. Salvatori makes sure that the students not only grow in their musical abilities but also in their spiritual life.

Junior Jon Denny stepped up to the plate this year when the orchestra needed a base player. "The worst part about playing bass is that I have to stand up because orchestra is a time to sit down, relax, and play."

After four years of participating in orchestra, seniors Hillary Hempel and Candace Wieringa have developed strong bonds with their fellow musicians. "I will never forget the fun times we had in orchestra and the hard work put into every piece." -Candace Wieringa freshman John Lustrea and Elizabeth Garza helped make the French horn section strong this year.

Choir

- "A right note at the wrong time is still a wrong note"

Congratulations, Noah!

For I know the thoughts I think toward you, says the Lord, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope.

Then you will call upon Me and go and pray to Me, and I will listen to you.

And you will seek Me and find Me when you search for Me with all your heart.

Having worked at Timothy for the last 19 years, our librarian, Mr. Rinsema, and his wife will be retiring and moving to Phoenix, Arizona to be near their grandchildren. Mr. Rinsema graduated from Illiana and Calvin College. His first job was teaching English in Seattle, Washington. After teaching there for seven years, they moved to Denver where he taught at the christian school and completed his master's degree in Library Media Science. They then moved back to Washington where he was the librarian at Lynden Christian High School.

His extra curricular activities include being an athletic director, coaching baseball, volleyball, and basketball, directing plays and musicals, being the Fine Arts sponsor, and taking students on regular trips to the Shakespeare Festivals in Canada and Oregon.

Mr. Rinsema has enjoyed teaching at a variety of schools, making friends around the country, and introducing students to their own creativity.

While living in the Chicago area Mr. and Mrs. Rinsema have directed the middle school plays every year and have enjoyed attending numerous plays, as well as musical and dance events in the city. They have three children and six grandchildren. When asked to comment on their grandchildren Mr. Rinsema humbly commented that, "They are all as bright, good looking, and talented as their Opa."

We will miss LibRinsema and the energy that he brings to whatever he is involved in. We know that God will use the Rinsemas as they move to yet another new location and make new friends.

Mr. Rinsema overcame his shyness to perform with the teachers at Octoberfest every year.

The bi-annual trip to the Shakespeare Festival in Canada, led by Mr. and Mrs. Rinsema, was always a highlight for them and the students.

The transition was seamless when Mr. Rinsema became the Fine Arts sponsor after Mr. Harkema retired.

During the 1978 school year, Mr. Rinsema proved to everyone that he was very capable of growing lots of hair.

Mr. Rinsema still has that same mischievous look in his eye that makes us think he is up to something.

This family portrait includes two of the Rinsema's children and five of their six grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Rinsema love being grandparents. They are moving to Phoenix so that they can be closer to their grandchildren and get more involved in their lives.

"Intensity" is a word that has sometimes been used to describe Mr. Rinsema. In this photo from 1970 we noticed that he has stripped down to his undershirt in order to gain the competitive edge.

Mr. Rinsema takes some time away from his busy modeling career to coach the boys JV basketball team at Lynden Christian High School.

The proud grandma and grandpa pose with their newest grandson, Noah.

Mr. Wolterstorff

Mr. Wolterstorff is retiring this year after forty years of teaching at Timothy. After starting his career in 1966 and teaching for two years, Uncle Sam asked if Mr. Wolterstorff would help out in Vietnam. After spending two years in the army as a chaplain's assistant, he returned to Timothy. Besides teaching choral music, he has also taught freshmen English, Written Composition, and junior literature classes. One of his most interesting memories was reading a freshman short story about a goose that got sucked into a jet engine at 35,000 feet.

Mr. Wolterstorff has enjoyed directing approximately 30 musicals with Mr. Day as well as coaching boys JV Soccer for 17 years. He has also enjoyed being the choir director at his church for many years. One of the things that he will miss the most is working with some of his best friends who are also on the faculty, and working with students who want to be challenged.

Mrs. Wolterstorff is also retiring this year from the grade school where she has taught for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Wolterstorff have three sons who all graduated from Timothy, and they have three grandchildren. During their retirement they hope to explore God's incredible world by doing more traveling. They will also be spending more time with family and friends, as well as making some new friends. Mr. Wolterstorff's advice is "Whatever you do, give your all, don't hold back." He also suggests that we should enjoy the life that God has given us and that we should "surpass our expectations."

Our heartfelt thanks go to the Wolterstorffs for jobs well done!

A regular in Octoberfest performances, Mr. Wolterstorff hams it up with his farmer pal, Mr. Zylstra.

Mr. Wolterstorff looks forward to spending more time with his grandchildren. Here he gives his grandson Trevor a ride on his shoulders.

The Wolterstorffs pose for a photo with their three sons, their wives, and their three grandchildren.

Use your head voice, and by the way, check out these guns."

"Follow my lead."

Mr. Wolterstorff stands on a desk so that the students can get a good look at his white belt and his favorite plaid pants.

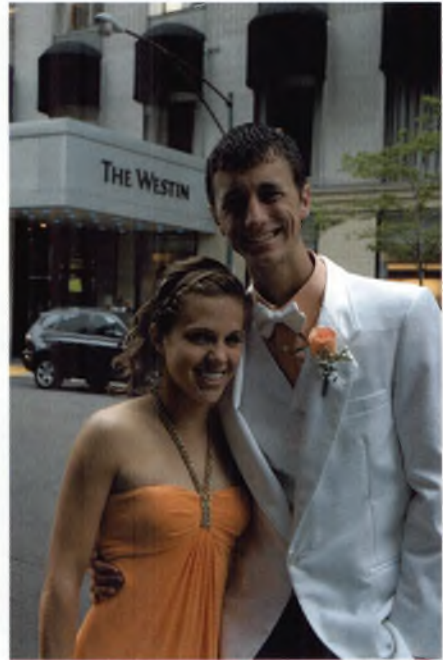

Park chop side burns were the height of fashion back in 1974.

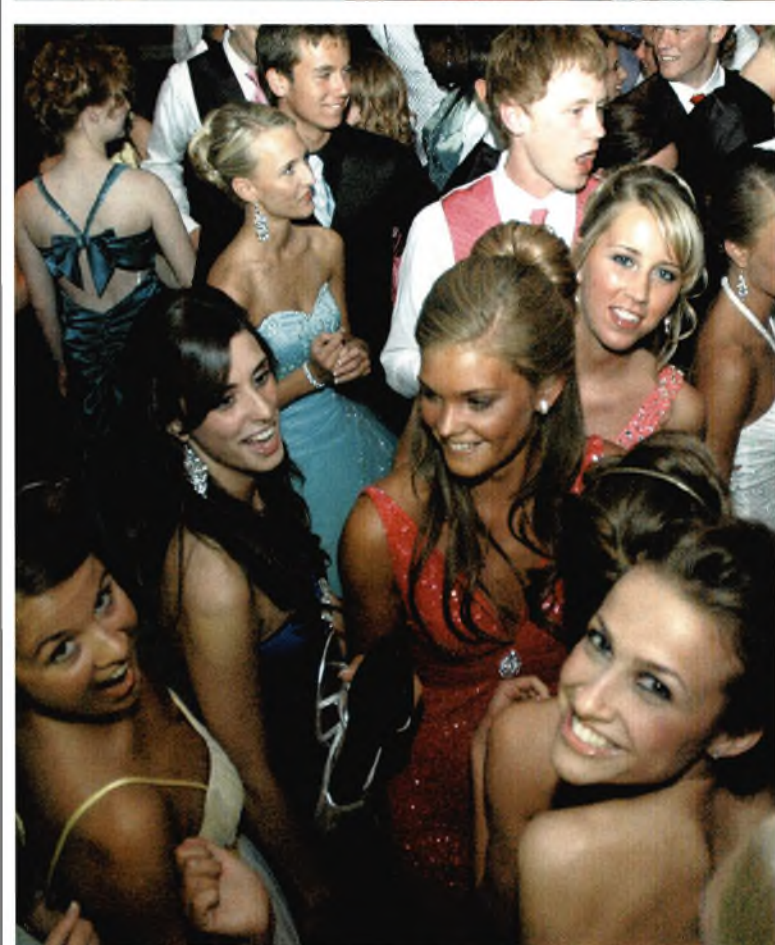

The Wolterstorffs enjoy visiting their three grandchildren who live in Phoenix.

"You tenors over there, pay attention!"

Graduation

A black and white photograph of a modern building interior. A person is captured mid-jump in the air, their body horizontal, against a ceiling with a series of parallel light fixtures. The architecture features large windows and a curved wall. In the lower right, a glass entrance door is visible with an 'EXIT' sign above it. The overall composition is dynamic and geometric.
