Title	Greek Mythology	Critical Problems and Design Solutions	American Indian Boarding Schools	Remarkable Accomplishments in Space Science
Description	Students meet figures from ancient Greek mythology who are placed in a contemporary setting and evaluate how stories from a different time and place continue to resonate today.	Students read the true story of William Kamkwamba in The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind and about how he used design thinking to confront the devastating effects of famine on his country, Malawi.	Through their reading of the historical fictional narrative Two Roads by Joseph Bruchac and several supplemental primary texts, students uncover an unacknowledged aspect of US history—the forced acculturation of American Indians through boarding schools.	Students learn about remarkable accomplishments in space science, specifically the accomplishments and people that may have gone overlooked. Hidden Figures by Margot Lee Shetterly tells the story of the “West Computers,” the first black women hired by NASA whose talents helped land human beings on the moon.

Common Core State Standards for ELA and Literacy Formally Assessed, by Module

- In the Curriculum Map on the following pages, any specific CCSS with a check mark indicates that standard is formally assessed in the given module.
- Some standards are formally assessed in multiple modules.
- Because of the integrated nature of the standards, even standards that are not formally assessed are often embedded in instruction throughout every module (e.g., RL.1, RI.1). Refer to the Unit-at-a-Glance in the Unit Overview to determine which standards are addressed (even if not formally assessed) in the instruction of each lesson.
- Many standards (e.g., W.2) have a main standard and then subcomponents (e.g., W.2a). Sometimes, students' mastery of the entirety of this standard is scaffolded across multiple modules. Therefore, in the Curriculum Map on the following pages, the "parent" standard is checked only if all components of that standard are formally assessed within that particular module. Otherwise, just the specific components are checked.
 - An exception to this, when assessed through writing, is that the L.1, L.2, and L.3 "parent" standards may be checked without the subcomponents, as the language skills demonstrated through student writing will vary.
 - For Language standards: Beginning in grade 3, skills and understandings that are particularly likely to require continued attention in higher grades as they are applied to increasingly sophisticated writing and speaking are marked with an asterisk (*).
