Frequently Asked Reporting Questions

Why can't I see all of a student's Accelerated Reader data when I select All Time as a reporting option?

We know that teachers need to be able to quickly run reports to see their students' latest AR activity. Because of the volume of quizzes that students in a class may have (great problem to have), we will be limiting the amount of AR data accessible from reports to be the current year plus two years. This will make sure that we can ensure great performance and quick reporting.

Where can I find more information on reports not covered here?

The help files can be found by selecting the ? in the top right hand corner of each page. Here is a quick link to our summary about all the AR Reports that are available.

When selecting quiz types on some reports, what does All Reading include?

On the most frequently used AR Reports, you'll now see an option to report on All Reading. This All Reading option includes your students' totals for traditional reading practice quizzes, article quizzes and other reading quizzes. These quizzes all test your students' comprehension of what they are reading. You can also to zero in on a single type of reading by selecting a specific quiz type.

What assignment types apply to Accelerated Reader?

- If students are reading books and taking reading practice, vocabulary practice, or literacy skills quizzes, you will find that data by selecting the application Accelerated Reader.
- If students are reading textbooks passages and taking a comprehension quiz (Other Reading quiz, you will find that data by selecting the application Accelerated Reader and Other Reading.
