Between Aug. 1 and Sept. 30?	Your school district will choose one of these two dates as the cut-off date to enroll your child in kindergarten.	1. Find out which date your child's school uses. 2. If your child's birthday falls before the cutoff, this is not Early Entrance. Contact your child's school in order to enroll. 3. If your child's birthday falls after the cutoff, follow the steps for children born between Sept. 30 and Dec. 31.
Between Sept. 30 and Dec. 31?	Each district develops its own procedures for screening children for Early Entrance in this age bracket. Contact the school your child will attend and make a request for Early Entrance. 2. Ask for a copy of the district's Early Entrance policy. * You may need to submit a written request addressed to the principal for your school to provide the assessment.	The results of the evaluation will give educators and parents some important information about the placement that is best for your child. The school will use this information to decide whether to admit your child early.
