

Cal Q. Leight

The coach was one of those cocky little Irishmen and he had a bad tooth and rushed to the dentist. The dentist said he was all out of Novocain and asked, "Coach, you will have to drink this pint of whiskey as I'm out of pain killer."

That didn't bother the coach. He downed the pint and got up to leave. "Where you goin'?" asked the dentist. The coach said, "I'd like to see anyone try to touch this tooth now."

Well, I'm really aching after last week, 10 right, 10 wrong, my worst ever. I'm down to 62 percent for the season, 49-29. Here goes for a comeback.

RICHARDS at Thornridge: The Falcons stiffed Bloom, the Bulldogs didn't. Thornridge 20, Richards 8.
