

Bleats From the Bleachers: No Dummies at Marian

Dear John:

I recently read an article written by a woman who said she is fed up with college football on TV. She said the players are overgrown men with small minds. We know better, don't we?

Did you know the Marian high school varsity football team has four National Honor Society members? They are Mike Wilczynski, Kevin Daney, Shawn Janus and Tony Mitchell.

Three started in their junior year and all are outstanding players this year. All have played other sports at Marian. At least three were selected for "Who's Who Among American High School Students." One is a lifeguard and scuba diver. Two participated in ballet classes for Bob Voss in Richton Park. Three started school together at St. Agnes, receiving honors in sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Two played football and basketball there.

One plans to study law, one pre-med, one accounting and one is undecided. All have received much mail from colleges, including the Ivy League.

With so much talk about teenagers, don't these boys deserve a mention in your column before they go on to college and their careers.

PROUD

Dear Mom:

Indeed these young men deserve a mention and you have done the job splendidly.
