

Marian Can Even Score

Playing Joliet Catholic in football once during the season is a tough task.

But twice?

Marian Catholic will get its chance for revenge today (1:30 p.m.) when the Hillmen will host the Spartans in Joliet's Memorial Stadium in the Chicagoland Prep Bowl tournament.

THE SURVIVOR of this rematch of Illini-8 schools will face the victor of the Weber-Loyola tilt this afternoon at Hanson Stadium in Chicago, as the season goes on and on for even those who didn't qualify for the state playoffs.

Today's game will mark the first time that Marian has played 11 games in one season and the first time that the Spartans have met the same school twice in one campaign. All four Catholic teams take 7-3 records into the semi-finals.

While Marian was advancing to the clash via a 14-6 win over Holy Cross, Joliet Catholic was whipping St. Viator 34-0.

When Marian and Joliet Catholic met six weeks ago, the Chicagoland Prep Bowl was a fantasy. The Hilltoppers won that struggle, 28-0.
