VOCATIONAL REPORT
Mr. Miller introduced Superintendent Tom Schultz from Auburn Career Center who spoke on behalf of the upcoming bond levy. Mr. Schultz stated that they recently held a kick-off meeting for the bond levy. There will be a bond issue on the ballot in May for .58 mills which equates to $1.50 per month for every $100,000 in housing value. With this money they can expand programs to accommodate the students that are being turned away to limited class room space. There will be two new additions and renovation of the current facility. We have not asked for a bond levy increase since 1965. They did a public survey and the support is there for programs related to career education. We have one of the highest performing career centers in Ohio. ACC is asking the board for their support of the levy.

Nick Dash – Culinary Arts student from Berkshire, spoke about the great programs ACC has to offer. They helped him to set career goals and presented opportunities for scholarships for further education. The Culinary Arts team received a silver medal in competition last year and had 10 gold medal winners going to State this year. The CA program runs the lunchroom on Thursdays and Fridays for the school. The kids attending ACC look forward to going to school because they have so many good programs to offer. There are good programs and it is a fantastic place. I don’t know why you wouldn’t want to support this.

Mr. Miller stated that ACC pioneered the career center 40 years ago. They are 1 of 75 model high schools in the country. They continue to upgrade and expand into science and math programs. They are clearly a leader in vocational education.

COMMITTEE REPORTS
Levy Committee – Linda Stone reported that we are Issue #2 on the ballot. We are doing a lot of community groups, home meetings are starting up, letters are going out to college students, registering 18 year olds, visiting the Amish and others. Need folks in Claridon and Troy to host in-home meetings.

SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS (PRINCIPALS’ UPDATES)
Kim Sethna acknowledged William Dunton, a senior, winner of a $500 scholarship for an essay he wrote on the pros and cons of the Ohio Graduate Tests. Basically he summed up that we are teaching to take the test.

PRESENTATION BY TROY ELEMENTARY STUDENTS:
Dr. Symsek introduced Mr. Gardner. He introduced the students who participated in the Math Survivor challenge. Kieran Wichert – 3rd grade, Kyle Kaniecki – 4th grade, Ian Moore – 5th grade, and Marie Dienes – 6th grade. As each child is learning their math facts and tables their progress is charted. When they complete a set of tables they get a sticker. Have been using the Flash Master to learn the facts and challenge the students in Math Survivor.
Each grade level has a bandana color and a drawing is held each day to see who wants to go head to head with another student. Each time they win they get points. Everyday the grade gets a challenge problem to complete. The students then passed out the Flash Master to each of the board members to challenge their math skills. Fun was had by all once they got the keys to work out.

Mrs. Sherman introduced her 2nd graders who shared their biographies they put together for class. Brandon Jones reported on George Washington, Charlie Snyderburn reported on Robert E Lee, Corrie Rockefeller reported on Anne Frank, Annamaria Hills reported on Annie Sullivan, and Samantha Hargis reported on Diana Princess of Wales.

Mrs. Symsek then reported on the 8th Grade Washington D.C. Trip. They went to the White House, the War Memorials, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, Hard Rock Café, Spy Museum, Holocaust Museum and swimming at the hotel. It was a very activity filled trip. Thanks to the parents, chaperones and teachers who made this trip possible. Some of the students shared their favorite parts: Maria Corrigan - Holocaust Museum, Allison Noble – Capital Building, John Honkala – Holocaust Museum, Megan Burnett – Arlington National Cemetery, Bryan Briggs – War Memorials, Stefan Tompkins – Vietnam and World War II Memorials, Bill Thompson – Memorials, Garret Blair – Museums, Nick Jevnikar – Holocaust Museum and Ti Larenas provided booklets outlining the activities of each day for the board members.

New Business
Mrs. Timmons mentioned that the next meeting is the night before elections and we should consider moving it to the Wednesday afterwards. All agreed, therefore the next meeting will be on Wednesday, May 9, 2007 at 6 pm.

Mr. Honkala mentioned the motion to support the Auburn Career Center bond levy. He questioned if we could legally do this as a board. No one knew for sure.
