

Strategies to Support Children with Autism at Home

Join this online parent series to learn strategies to support children with autism at home. Susan Catlett, Ph.D., BCBA-D, LBA, will share strategies to support sensory needs, behavior, communication, and social skills. Time will be allotted during each session for questions so that participants can receive specific feedback.

These sessions are designed for parents but professionals who work with students with autism may attend as well.

Zoom links will be emailed to registered participants 24 hours prior to each session.

There is no fee to attend these sessions.

All sessions will be held from 10:00 AM – 11:00 AM.

Below are the dates, session IDs, and links to registration pages for each session. Participants will need to register for each session individually.
