Moving Forward...

Mr. John Merritt '71
Vice Principal, Student Life

Happy May!
Lots to do!

May and June are busy months for both students and parents as we try to complete a multitude of tasks and obligations. This is a great time of year to practice the thoughtful concept of “Living in The Now”.

Class, homework, games, practices, work, awards night, Baccalaureate Mass, exams, prom, graduation, underclassmen exams, graduation parties, etc.

Looking at all there is to do in its totality can be overwhelming. Maybe the better idea is to look at each day as a single unit and do your best to accomplish something that day. It might be something simple or something complicated. It may be something hard or something easy, but it should be something.

By taking each day as a single unit, it may help make things seem less overwhelming and you will probably do a better job in completing your tasks and obligations.

Try this.

List all the things that need to get done, but do it by time and date.

Ask yourself:

What needs to really get done today?

What needs to really get done this week?

What needs to get done before I graduate?

What needs to get done before the end of the school year?

Make your list based on the answers to the above questions and begin with the first task on your list. Complete the task and go to the next and so on. Pace yourself, but keep moving forward.

The summer will be even more enjoyable when you can relax knowing you have completed all your tasks and obligations.

One step at a time!

Olympic Gold Medalist Visits DePaul

On Wednesday, May 8th, DePaul Athletics hosted Olympic Gold Medalist (Wrestling), Jordan Burroughs. Jordan was part of a photo shoot for Asics. The gym, locker rooms, weight room, and hallways were transformed into a studio. Though his day was scheduled to the minute, Jordan still found time to talk to the wrestling team about the importance of tradition and motivation. A special thank you to Coach Karsen for helping to organize this wonderful experience.

Admissions News

Mrs. Anne Brewer

Director of Admissions

The Admissions team kicked off the month of May with our Spring Open House! We welcomed prospective students and families in grades 7 and 8. A big thank you to our Parent Ambassadors who helped to provide refreshments for our guests, it was truly a TREAT! We are lucky to have such a hands-on group.

We will be hosting a New Student BBQ on June 19 at 5:30PM. All new students are welcome to come meet their peers before the school year ends.

Shadow days will continue through the end of next week, and will resume again in the fall. If you are still interested in joining the DePaul Catholic family over the summer, our Admissions team is in the office available to give tours and to meet with families every day.

We wish all of our DePaul Catholic student ambassadors the best of luck as they prepare for final exams in the upcoming weeks!

If you are in the area and wish to have a tour of the school we welcome you to stop by the Office of Admissions.

News From The Theology Department

submitted by Mrs. Bullman

Christian Service Program

All students are in the process of completing their Christian Service Program activities for the current year. After completing the required 15 hours of service each year, the students create projects and essays to explain and justify the work they have participated in. After reading some of the essays and project work, students have shared the following reflections:

“After being part of these service opportunities, I feel like I have developed skills that I never have had before. I feel more confident in my faith and am able to one day teach the traditions of the Catholic Church again. I will never forget these experiences DePaul Catholic has instilled in me and I know I will use these skills to be successful in life.” (JD)

“I will forever value this opportunity and use the knowledge I have gained from it in my future life. Working with the poor, young, or disabled enlightened me to really understand the deeper value of life. It shed a lot of light on the circumstances of those that are less fortunate than I am. I no longer see CSP as a burden or something that gets in the way, but an opportunity to grow in community with others and God especially. I am eternally grateful for the opportunities DePaul has provided me with and the touching experiences that transpired during those service opportunities.” (MF).

“Doing CSP makes you want to create change in the world. Which is a great thing. It makes me want to go and take every homeless person and bring them home. I know I cannot do that but it motivates me to be able to do something to help them out when I am older. Without CSP I do not think I would be so caring about something. I am forever grateful for the opportunities DePaul has lead me to. CSP not only made me help people, but it also helped me develop myself into a kind grateful person. Now the CSP has introduced me into a world of charity that I plan on staying active with and expanding and doing more.” (DG)

Cardboard City

The Sophomore Honors Theology students completed their preparation for the Cardboard City Solidarity Retreat. Fifty six sophomore students attended this event on Friday, May 3rd. They had fun, while also recognizing the struggle of the poor and homeless. Two junior students from the Honors program, Gwyn Crispino and Anna Soltys, came to the retreat to share their experience with Cardboard City and with the Midnight Run service events in their junior year. Participants played games, prayed and meditated, shared donated food goods, and built sleep structures as part of their activities. They woke up in the early morning and went to Mass with Fr. Julio followed by breakfast and recycling their “Cardboard City”.

After expenses, the students collected over $1500.00 that will follow them into their junior year as they go out and feed the poor with the Midnight Run events.

We thank all of the parents, faculty and staff and volunteers who helped with this important retreat. Special thanks to Mrs. Wilderson, Mrs. Farrell, Mr. Tan, Mrs. Beshada, Coach Campanile, Mrs. Haggerty, Mr. and Mrs. Long, Mrs. Dacles, Sr. Jeanne, Coach Kelsey Hall and Fr. Julio, all who assisted Mrs. Bullman in a long and busy night!

Vocations Day

DePaul held Vocations Day on Thursday, May 2nd. There were six representatives from several religious communities within the Diocese of Paterson and the Archdiocese of Newark. Each of our guests shared their stories of faith and service to the Church in a panel forum. Student wrote questions about the call to serve in a religious vocation and the panelists answered them.

"A Celebration of the Arts"

On Tuesday night, April 30th, the Fine and Performing Arts Department again hosted "A Celebration of the Arts" in the Information Commons. The annual art show has been a staple of the department for decades, but this event is only in its third year and proving to be a great success! The evening provides a venue for parents, students and visitors to view the artwork of DePaul's top visual artists in a gallery-style format, including an opportunity to meet these students and discuss their work. Additionally, the DePaul Voices performed, the cast of our recent production of Into the Woods presented excerpts from the show, and pianists provided musical interludes, all under the direction of music teacher, Mr. Andrew Monticello. Light refreshments added a festive note to the show.

Field Trip to Skylands New Jersey Botanical Gardens

The Haidian Students visited the Jewel of the Garden State. The students explored the gardens, woods and the Manor House.

The beauty of the Ringwood State Park included a tour of the Crabapple Vista and a talk about the history of Skylands. The 96 acres surrounding the Manor House has been placed on the State and National Register of Historical Places.

The group really enjoyed the natural habitats and greenery.

NHS Members Fundraise for St. Jude Children's Hospital

The senior members of the Holy Spirit Chapter of the National Honor Society once again participated in a Trivia Contest to help raise awareness and funds for the St. Jude Children's Hospital. Since these students are very involved in many after school activities and sports, both in DePaul Catholic and in their communities, they gathered at 6:00 AM to be able to participate together.

Maddie Nyhuis came away with the top score, narrowly beating out Philip Caggiano by just four points. All members raised between $50 and $100 for this worthwhile cause. Students can receive t-shirts as prizes, however they also donated the cost for those shirts back to the hospital. The total raised this year amounted to $2,400, thanks to generous family and school members.

The NHS members' partnership with St. Jude Children's Hospital has spanned 19 years, resulting in a total of $29,462.75 donated from the Trivia Contests.
