

10 Things Kids Say They Don't Want Their Parents To Do...

by Darrell J. Burnett, Ph.D.

1. Don't yell out instructions. During the game I'm trying to concentrate on what the coach says and working on what I've been practicing. It's easier for me to do my best if you save instructions and reminders for practice or just before the game.
2. Don't put down the officials. This embarrasses me and I sometimes wonder whether the official is going to be tougher on me because of my parents yell.
3. Don't yell at me in public. It will just make things worse because I'll be upset, embarrassed, or worried that you're going to yell at me the next time I do something "wrong".
4. Don't yell at the coach. When you yell about who gets to play what position, it just stirs things up and takes away from the fun.
5. Don't put down my teammates. Don't make put-down remarks about any of my teammates who make mistakes. It takes away from our team spirit.
6. Don't put down the other team. When you do this you're not giving us a very good example of sportsmanship so we get mixed messages about being "good sports".
7. Don't lose your cool. I love to see you excited about the game, but there's no reason to get so upset that you lose your temper! It's our game and all the attention is supposed to be on us.
8. Don't lecture me about mistakes after the game. Those rides home in the car after the game are not a good time for lectures about how I messed up. I already feel bad. We can talk later, but please stay calm, and don't forget to mention things I did well during the game!
9. Don't forget how to laugh and have fun. Sometimes it's hard for me to relax and have fun during the game when I look over and see you so tense and worried.
10. Don't forget that it's just a game! Odds are, I'm not going to make a career out of playing sports. I know I may get upset if we lose, but I also know that I'm usually feeling better after we go get a pizza. I need to be reminded sometimes that it's just a game.

What does sportsmanship mean to you?

"Sportsmanship is poise and courage in the face of adversity. It is about respecting the opposition, gaining a love of competition, and, above all, understanding the value of trying your best while learning how to win and lose graciously."

- Middletown MAC./Captain's Club/Athletes

"Sportsmanship is a major emphasis in our district and I feel that it means, recognizing other team members' attitudes and actions and responding in an appropriate and positive way. Sportsmanship requires respect, honesty and gratitude"

- Ashley Weiermiller, Athlete, Elmira CDS

"Sportsmanship means representing your community, school, team, and self in a positive manner. You can do this by being respectful to the opposing team, officials, teammates, coaching staff, and fans. This attitude is constantly demonstrated, no matter if you win or lose."

- Alyssa Balfe, Emily McDonald, Jenna Napolis, and Christina Graziadei, 2011-12 Varsity Club Officers, Oriskany HS

"Sportsmanship means conducting yourself with pride, and acting in a respectful manner, whether winning or losing a sporting event. Sportsmanship is not "acting out" and it requires controlling your emotions, no matter how difficult the situation."

- Roger Wangelin, Athlete, Olean HS

"I believe sportsmanship is when someone gives 100% following the rules both on/off the field and respecting everyone involved in any sporting contest."

- DeVante Harrell, Athlete, Ossining HS

"The ability to show intensity for a sport you love and to play the game without putting people down."

- Kathleen Boyle, Athlete, Beacon HS
