Select Avon-Guest from your Wi-Fi list

A browser window should open and take you to the registration portal. You might need to enter a couple random web addresses like `cnn.com` or `espn.com`, but the Guest Portal page will pop up eventually. If it is the first time using Guest, click “or register for guest access.” This will have to happen once per day.

If returning on the same day, enter the username (cell phone number) and password that was sent to you (might be in your spam folder).

Insert email address, phone number, and check the box for “Use Mobile number as username.” Then click Register. This will create your account and email you your username and password. You may have to use cell data to receive the email.
