NOT JUST YOUR AVERAGE SEMINAR

MedReach at UCLA is a non-profit outreach organization. Through mentorship and education, our organization seeks to provide high school students with resources to help them achieve their academic and professional goals! At one of our healthcare seminars:

Learn about various healthcare careers and discover the pathways to reach your goals! Engage in a mock case study curated to highlight the patient-provider interaction! Participate in fun activities to challenge your knowledge of medical terminology! Also featuring a Q&A with pre-health UCLA college students to address any of your questions, college-related and beyond!
