

Fisher College Library: Serials Solutions

Using Serials Solutions enables you to see if a journal is available with full-text (includes date ranges of availability) through any of the Fisher College Library's databases. This can be particularly useful if you find an article loose on the internet, but it is behind a paywall, or if you just have the citation information without the full-text and you want to find out if Fisher has access to the journal through one of its databases.

You will then be deposited on the New England Journal of Medicine landing page within the database, which allows you to Choose an issue to view, or to Search within this publication.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest interface for The New England Journal of Medicine. At the top, there is a ProQuest logo and 'Access provided by FISHER COLLEGE'. The journal title and location (Boston: Massachusetts Medical Society) are displayed. A search bar is highlighted with a red circle. Below it, there is a 'Choose an issue to view' section, also highlighted with a red circle, which includes dropdown menus for the year (2022), month (July), and issue (Jul 21, 2022; Vol. 387 (3)), and a 'View issue' button. The issue contents section lists two items: 'Audio Interview: A Look at the U.S. Government's Covid-19 Strategy' and 'Nonketotic Hyperglycemic Hemichorea'. The page also features social media icons and a 'Previous issue' link.

Happy Searching!
