The American School in London is an independent, college-preparatory, preK-12 day school, providing an exceptional American education to an international student body in the heart of London. Innovation and individuality are celebrated, and outstanding academic success is applauded. Students thrive amid high expectations and the joy of authentic learning experiences. Committed to creating courageous global citizens, we inspire students to engage with others across lines of difference in a changing world.

Message from

Coreen R. Hester

I am delighted to present the Annual Report 2021-22. The caring generosity of the entire ASL community was evident in multiple ways in the past year. Although challenging, it was a year that brought us closer together. Your engagement with our school is terrifically important—as donors to the Annual Fund and other special initiatives, and as volunteers, giving selflessly of your time to benefit ASL. Thank you, one and all, for everything you do to make our school an outstanding learning community for our students and for our adults.

Many of the aspects that contribute to the excellence of an ASL education have been made possible by donations to the Annual Fund. Whether your gift was £5 or £50,000, your participation helps us to nurture the growth and development of each student in our care. During the 2021-22 school year, 690 donors contributed a total of £1,454,132—a remarkable achievement. Thanks to the deep and thoughtful generosity of parents, alumni, trustees, parents of alumni, grandparents, faculty and staff, in addition to the outstanding and selfless commitment of our team of volunteers, ASL has once again been able to provide unparalleled programming to develop the intellect and character of our students, who engage with others across differences in a changing world.

Other philanthropic gifts topped £2.1M in support of special projects, including crew, computer science, the Eagle Scholar Fund, and the Security Fund. It is heartening to report that total philanthropic support during 2021-22 was upward of £3.5M.

Every donation and act of kindness is a vote for ASL and indicates that you value the student experience. Your support delivers a powerful message that you wholeheartedly believe in the school's mission.

2021-22 was a time of listening and a time of learning, and in the year ahead we will continue to curate the school/home partnership to make our school the best it can be. As always, the well-being of those in our care is topmost on the list, and we will continue to live our core values and showcase in our classrooms the impact of your commitment to excellence, every day.

I hope you enjoy reading the stories within these pages of how our students are benefitting from your support. Your generosity in making ASL a philanthropic priority is critical to our success, and we thank you heartily for your participation.

See you around the campus.

Welcome to the

Annual Report 2021-22

Dave Novak P '18 '20

Chair, Board of Trustees, 2011-22

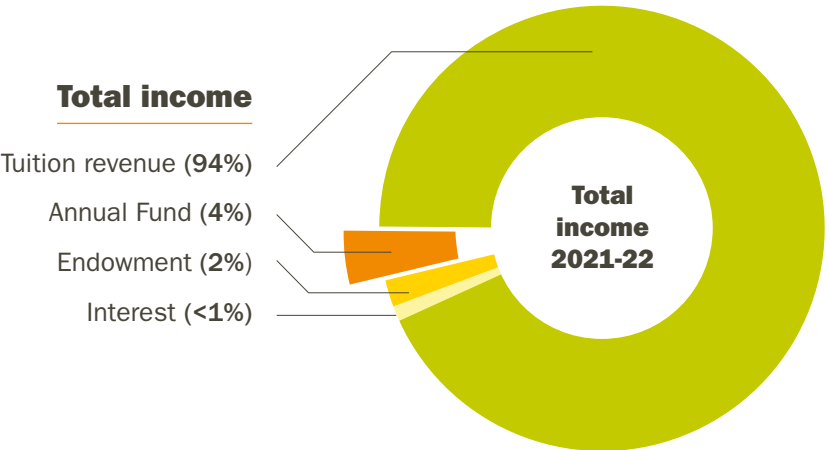

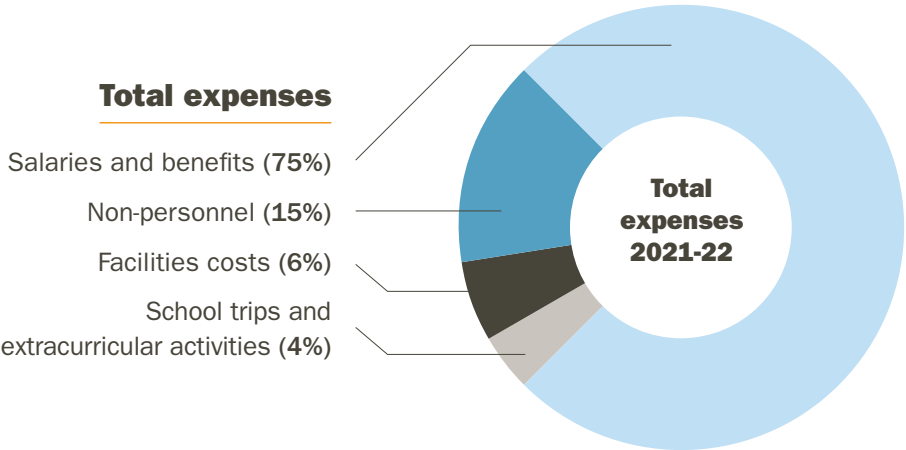

Thank you all for your contribution, support and engagement with ASL over the past year. In hard times and in joyful times, the spirit of this incredible community shines through. Your impact on this extraordinary institution, for which I care deeply, has had a profound effect on our students. It is their unique perspectives, developed under the care and commitment of the ASL team, that will form them into the international citizens of tomorrow. As I step down from the Board of Trustees, I am reminded what a privilege and an honor it has been to serve ASL and work with so many bright, hard-working and committed individuals, who are dedicated to our students and the school's mission. Thank you for your generosity and for being an active part of this dynamic, caring and inspiring community.

Finance

Operating budget 2021-22

Through careful financial controls and agile management of multi-year financial projections, the School uses a combination of tuition and donations to create exceptional learning experiences for our students.

Computer science

“The program will create authentic opportunities and increase students’ exposure to specialized fields.”

Computer science gets a boost!

Thanks to a generous donation from Lisa and Rick Noel P '17 '19 '21 and their daughters, Claire '17, Lily '19 and Eva '21, computer science has been given a substantial boost at ASL.

The expansion of ASL's computer science program will create authentic opportunities and increase students' exposure to specialized fields, such as artificial intelligence, game design, cyber security and virtual reality. Funding from this generous gift will not only significantly improve and deepen the high school computer science department, it will also allow the program to be expanded K-12. The growth of computer science will provide a gender equitable pipeline for all of our students.

Lisa and Rick Noel shared their thoughts behind their generosity to the ASL computer science program: “Following the girls’ graduation from ASL, we wanted to recognize the positive impact the School had on our children. Computer science is a subject that we are passionate about as a family, and in collaboration with the School, we came up with tangible ideas of what was possible. We wanted to support a program that would be attractive and accessible to all students, and able to expand to include the lower grades—creating multiple opportunities for future computer/data scientists. If successful, we envision ASL becoming known for its computer science and computational thinking program.”

A fast-growing area of study

Computer science has been offered at ASL for decades. Since its humble beginnings, offerings have blossomed from two sections of electives attended by a handful of students, to 10 courses covering not only coding but also engineering design, art and code, game design, digital electronics, and much more. Supporting this growth now requires the coordination of five different instructors, which has led to the designation as a new academic department in the High School for 2022-23. What's more, the department is working to support computational thinking and computer science awareness in the Lower and Middle schools.

Getting with the program

More than just coding, computer science involves the study of computation and its application in the world. Aspects of computer science include the study of programming languages, the design and analysis of algorithms, the development of intelligent systems, and the design of electrical hardware on which computation is to be performed. Learning to break down really big problems into manageable chunks (problem decomposition) is a major component of computer science and a key skill. Thinking through the necessary steps needed to complete a task and the order in which they need to be performed (algorithm development) is a second learning outcome. Recognizing patterns in solutions to problems and applying those solutions in new contexts is a third skill students develop. Finally, thinking at the right level of detail needed to solve a problem (abstraction) is a lasting benefit from computer science education.

21st-century thinking

Intelligent systems and the algorithms that drive them pervade our society, influencing the news we see, moderating our connections with loved ones and friends, managing public health, transportation and logistic systems, and more. Our view of the world is shaped by these algorithms and the way they collect and process information. Having a basic understanding of algorithms is therefore critical knowledge for effective citizenship. Furthermore, computer science provides insights into how we might design technology to address the political, cultural and ecological challenges of this century. Even if a student completes just one programming course at ASL, they will leave thinking about the world a little differently.

Head of Computer Science Livia Piloto enthuses, "We're very excited about computer science becoming its own department because we can now focus more on curating our courses to be as relevant as the ever-changing technological world. We will also learn how to best fit the needs of our students with regard to university choices, and have them feel confident and prepared to go out into the world."

We extend our heartfelt thanks to the Noel family for their generosity and foresight. If you have questions about the computer science program at ASL or are interested in getting involved, please contact Director of Advancement Siofra Rucker.

“Computer science provides insights into how we might design technology to address the political, cultural and ecological challenges of this century.”

Eagle Scholar Fund

Growing the program

For some years, the Eagle Scholar Fund has supported talented, enthusiastic students from UK schools local to ASL, who had potential to thrive in the challenging and nurturing environment of the American School in London. Generous donors have lent their support to this expendable endowment fund over the years, allowing dozens of students to flourish in our programs by bringing their intellect and creativity to ASL. Eagle Scholars are supported, often with a significant scholarship, from the time they join the School, normally in the Middle School, through graduation. All students learn and grow from working alongside those with a differing outlook on the world. We are proud that students are admitted to ASL, and supported, based on their talents and not their financial situation. We thank those who have supported this program, and look forward to seeing the Eagle Scholar Fund prosper in years to come. To learn more about the Eagle Scholar Fund, contact Director of Advancement S  fra Rucker.

“All students learn and grow from working alongside those with a differing outlook on the world.”

“ASL has such a strong commitment to financial aid, and the Eagle Scholar program allows us to extend the opportunity of an ASL education to even more students. It brings me so much joy to know that these students have the chance to grow and develop as they travel on their ASL journey.”

Jodi Warren (ASL 1988-present)
Dean of Admissions

“Our respect for the pedagogy and culture at ASL made funding the Eagle Scholar program a no-brainer. It is reassuring to know that students from the local area can benefit from an ASL education. Not only do the scholars benefit, but as important, the whole ASL community benefits. We hope this initiative becomes much more popular over time.”

Trips

Ticket to ride!

ASL's founder and first head of school, Stephen Eckard (ASL 1951-71), famously decreed that all ASL students should take a field trip at least once a week. And every venue that has housed our school since its founding in 1951 has been perfectly situated to allow our students to explore the UK's capital, taking in all the culture and diversity that London has to offer. In those early days, Mr. Eckard was known to drive the bus himself! Today, our students enjoy field trips aplenty and take advantage of London in all its historic glory, as well as embracing the farther reaches of the UK and beyond. In 2021-22, trips returned to our students' schedules, and were welcomed with gusto! The Annual Fund provided the margin of excellence that enables our students to grow by experiencing life outside the classroom. Here we share photos from the plethora of trips, both near and far, that took place in 2021-22.

“Students take advantage of London in all its historic glory, as well as embracing the farther reaches of the UK and beyond.”

PE

“Students develop an appreciation of the value of physical activity, not only for its health benefits, but also as a unique setting for social interaction, challenge and self-expression.”

Active in body, mind and spirit

Our goal at ASL has always been to offer a comprehensive physical education (PE) program that encourages fitness and the mastery of physical skills, which instill confidence in our students both in and out of the classroom.

It was this aspiration that brought about digging below Waverley Park to add our state-of-the-art Aquatic & Fitness Center as part of our New Frontiers capital campaign. This first-class facility, with its 25-meter, six-lane swimming pool and flexible gym space, enables us to offer all five strands of PE and, most importantly, gives us the flexibility in the schedule to make our students' academic experience the best it can be.

“These flexible spaces are also used for athletics, assemblies, robotics competitions, community service days, PCA events, community partnerships, and by friends of the School, such as London Sports.”

The PE program at ASL is designed to provide a framework for students to pursue lifetime fitness and physical activity. In preparation for adulthood, students enhance their skills in a variety of physical activities. Students are expected to acquire knowledge of training principles and methods, and apply their understanding in the development and review of a personal fitness program. Through participation, students develop an appreciation of the value of physical activity, not only for its health benefits, but also as a unique setting for social interaction, challenge and self-expression.

At ASL, students participate in PE every other day, and take full advantage of the Farmer Family Gymnasium, the newly refurbished Blue Gym (complete with a blue floor once more—freshly poured this summer), and Multipurpose Room 2. In addition, we've enjoyed six wonderful years of our Aquatic & Fitness Center, made possible by the generosity of those who gave to New Frontiers; six years of students enjoying this top-flight facility right here on Waverley Place. How lucky we are. These flexible spaces are also used for athletics, assemblies, robotics competitions, community service days, PCA events, community partnerships, and by friends of the School, such as London Sports. The upkeep of these spaces is supported by our generous donors to the Annual Fund.

Crew

An 'oar-some' year for crew!

Our ASL crew program is a rapidly expanding sport, supported not only by tuition and the Annual Fund, but also by additional gifts as part of our special initiatives program. These special initiatives often provide short-term (1-3 years) financial support to new or quickly growing programs.

The crew program was bolstered last year by the generosity of nine families who lent their backing to our rowers and enabled the purchase of much-needed new equipment. The new boats and blades will benefit students for many seasons to come, and will be helpful in teaching those new to the sport as well as honing the skills of our more experienced rowers. Currently, we have a record number of rowers taking part, and with an equal gender balance.

Crew is our only three-season sport at ASL, and the boys and girls crews enjoyed a stellar year in 2021-22. Regular training sessions, both on and off the river (and often in the ASL pool!), paid dividends, with teams bringing home medals at several national competitions over the course of the year. We offer a huge thank you to those families for their commitment to the crew program. The dedication of our young crew members is inspirational, and it is gratifying to see the program go from strength to strength.

Thirty years of crew

The ASL crew program began in 1992, when a girls squad was started by Margaret Mellon P '94 '95 and her daughters, Gretchen '94 and Courtney '95. Initially sponsored by the Booster Club, as well as from fundraising, the team rowed out of Furnival Sculling Club in Hammersmith. A number of ASL teachers have lent their expertise to the teams over the decades, including Meg Bailey (ASL 1990-2014) and Judy Kisor (ASL 1994-2014). In 1995, the boys founded their own team, which was coached by Jim Guion (ASL 1995-98). Since that time, the program has flourished and generations of students have gone on to row for their universities and some have represented their countries at the international level.

“The dedication of our young crew members is inspirational, and it is gratifying to see the program go from strength to strength.”

Bruce House Society: a bequest is best

“Society members play an essential role in ensuring ASL’s mission continues to thrive in all that we do.”

Remembering ASL in your estate planning

The Bruce House Society is a planned giving program, which recognizes those who have made arrangements to include ASL or the ASL Foundation in their estate plans or have given a portion of their estate to the School. Established in 2006, the Bruce House Society is named for ASL benefactor David K. Bruce, US Ambassador to the Court of St. James’s from 1961 to 1969, who was instrumental in helping ASL acquire and develop the St. John’s Wood campus we enjoy today.

Society members play an essential role in ensuring ASL’s mission continues to thrive in all that we do—from our financial health to our tradition of academic excellence. With a planned gift, you can make an impactful contribution to ASL today and to future generations of students. All individuals who share their intentions to include our school in their estate plans are recognized with membership in the Bruce House Society.

Last year, we were delighted to welcome Michelle Cox-Fish ’81 and Bob Fish ’81 to the Bruce House Society. Both members of the Class of 1981, they were keen to give back to ASL—the school that inspired their lives and where they first met all those years ago.

Giving back to ASL: Reconnecting with a mutual understanding

In 1981, it never occurred to either Bob Fish '81 or Michelle (Cox) Fish '81 that 40 years later they would be married and traveling the world together in search of coffee farmers who are doing the right thing by their people, their communities and the planet. Bob and Michelle weren't close friends in high school and didn't keep in touch after graduation.

After college, Michelle was living in Cleveland, Ohio, working as a freelance writer, and singing with her blues band. Bob was in Lansing, Michigan, where he started BIGGBY COFFEE, a 100% franchised chain of coffee shops with 300 cafés open in 13 states, and 150 more to come. Fate brought them back together in 2006, in the form of a late-night email Michelle sent to the Class of 1981 Usenet Group. Bob answered, and much to their joint surprise, they fell in love and were married six months later.

Why a bequest is best

A bequest:

- can provide generous support without affecting your current income or cash flow
- can be directed to a specific program or for a specific purpose
- will provide a charitable estate tax deduction
- is easy to accomplish with a simple codicil
- will help future generations at ASL

To signal your planned giving and be recognized in the Bruce House Society, or if you would like to learn more, please contact Sandy Mateus in the advancement office, +44 (0)20 7449 1446 or sandy_mateus@asl.org.

“Our shared experience at ASL shaped who we are in a way that I don't think we fully understood at the time. When we met each other again, we had an instant, deep connection and mutual understanding. It's almost like a kind of shorthand between us. And we share a curiosity about the world and a desire to both see as much of it as possible, and to do as much good in it as we can. All of that was first ignited during our years at ASL.”

That recognition of the important role ASL played in who they are today is what led the couple to add a bequest to the School in their estate planning. “Of course we want to commemorate and celebrate the place that brought us together,” says Michelle. “We hope our gift will make it possible for future generations to have that same kind of world-shaking experience that we did.”

Total philanthropic support

The Annual Fund is the keystone of the ASL Foundation's fundraising efforts. It takes place every year and participation and support is encouraged from every member of the ASL community. In 2021-22 our community supported ASL Foundation's Annual Fund with 690 gifts ranging from £5 to £50,000+ and totalling more than £1.45M. Special initiatives are specific, short-term projects that facilitate program expansion or campus enhancement at ASL. Senior leadership and the Board of Trustees identify specific needs and seek restricted contributions from the ASL community that give promise of improved learning. This targeted fundraising is above and beyond revenue generated by the Annual Fund. In 2021-22, £2.1M was donated to support initiatives in computer science, the Eagle Scholar Fund, the Innovator-in-Residence program, security, and the crew program. Total philanthropic support is a combination of gifts to the Annual Fund and donations to special initiatives.

“We benefit from the financial aid program and as far as we can, we want to give something back in line with our means.”

Annual Fund

Impacting Excellence

Fundraising via the ASL Foundation's Annual Fund has provided the highest level of academic and extracurricular programs for students and resources for faculty not covered by tuition alone. All donations—regardless of amount—make a positive impact and demonstrate a belief in our mission. Thanks to past and present commitment from our community, students have been able to thrive in an innovative, collaborative and supportive learning environment. With a team of more than 100 parent and alumni volunteers, the ASL Foundation's Annual Fund raised in excess of £1.45M in gifts last school year.

Annual Fund co-chairs 2021-22, Lower School

2021-22 marked our family's fifth year at ASL and the first in which all four of our children attended the School. We feel incredibly fortunate to be a part of the wonderful ASL community. There are few places about which our children are so collectively enthusiastic. Each morning, they are eager for new adventures, the people they'll encounter and the new dimensions into which their minds will expand. The School challenges them consistently, but attends to each of their unique approaches to learning. Much of what sets ASL apart from other schools—the teachers, facilities, after-school programs—is made possible by the generosity of donors to the Annual Fund. We are very grateful for everything ASL has given our family over the past five years and look forward to our family's next 13 years at the School!

Annual Fund co-chairs 2021-22, Middle School

We want to extend heartfelt thanks to everyone who contributed to making 2021-22 a memorable year for our precious children. Last year, our students returned to their classrooms after a long lockdown period, which taught us about the fragility of humanity, and how we can overcome challenges with the support of our communities. More importantly, those days in isolation gave us the opportunity to witness and appreciate the School's dedication to the care of our kids. From the first-class teachers and committed individuals who go the extra mile to bring enlightenment and make the magic happen in our classrooms every day, we are grateful to be a part of this giving community. Thank you for all you do to support our children as they grow and learn. We look forward to another amazing academic year.

Jane and Toby Whitmoyer P '22 '25

Annual Fund co-chairs 2021-22, High School

We were honored to be Annual Fund co-chairs for the High School in 2021-22. ASL has been a transformative educational experience for our children, Saskia and Nick, and the community has formed the bedrock of our family's experience in London. Although 2021-22 was a challenging year for ASL, it was gratifying to see how the community came together to support the mission of the School. While we are turning the page on our time in London, we remain enthusiastic and committed to the ideals of the School and will always be grateful for the privilege of being a part of this community. Thank you to all of you for your support, commitment and friendship.

“First-class teachers and committed individuals go the extra mile to bring enlightenment and make the magic happen in our classrooms.”

“Our daughters joined ASL this year, and we are so thankful not only for the resources and care provided for ASL families, but also for the work ASL does for the greater community around us—through volunteering opportunities, charity drives and the sharing of knowledge. We are proud to contribute in any way to this wonderful school.”

Always ASL loyalty societies

ASL thrives because our worldwide community is loyal to our mission. We thank the parents, alumni, faculty, staff, parents of alumni, grandparents, corporations and friends who have shown their extraordinary dedication by giving to the American School in London year after year. Membership in our loyalty societies is based on consecutive participation, not amount, because every gift helps to keep ASL innovative and outstanding.
