

Northwest ISD and Redistricting 2021

Governor Greg Abbott signed Texas' new redistricting maps into law on October 25, 2021. Following a delay in the release of the 2020 census data due to the COVID pandemic, the bills were approved during the third special session of the 87th Legislature. Congressional and state legislative district lines are redrawn every decade following the United States census. Lawsuits over the maps have been filed, but it is anticipated that the new maps will take effect for the 2022 elections. Following is an approximate illustration of the changes in relation to Northwest ISD.

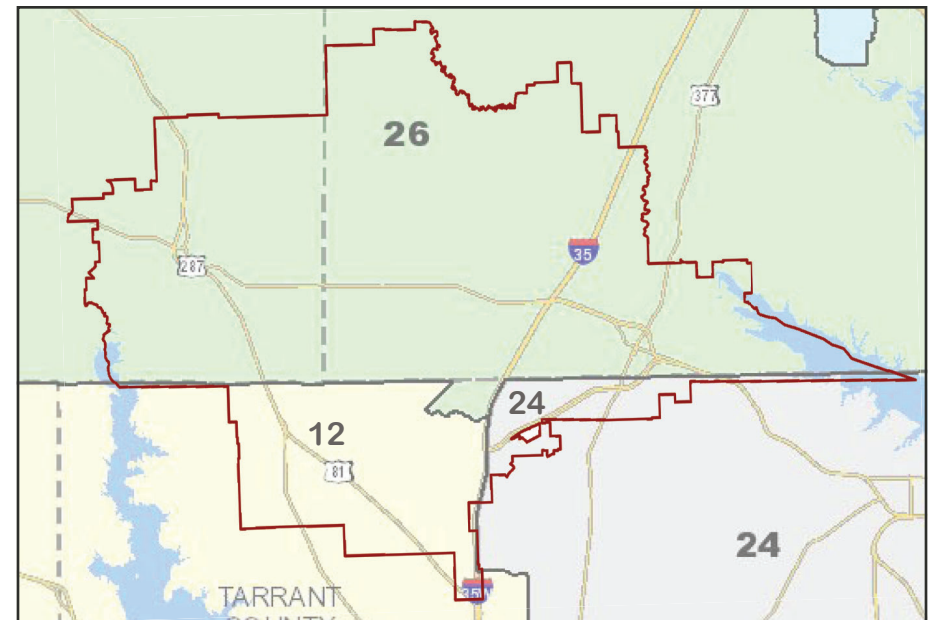

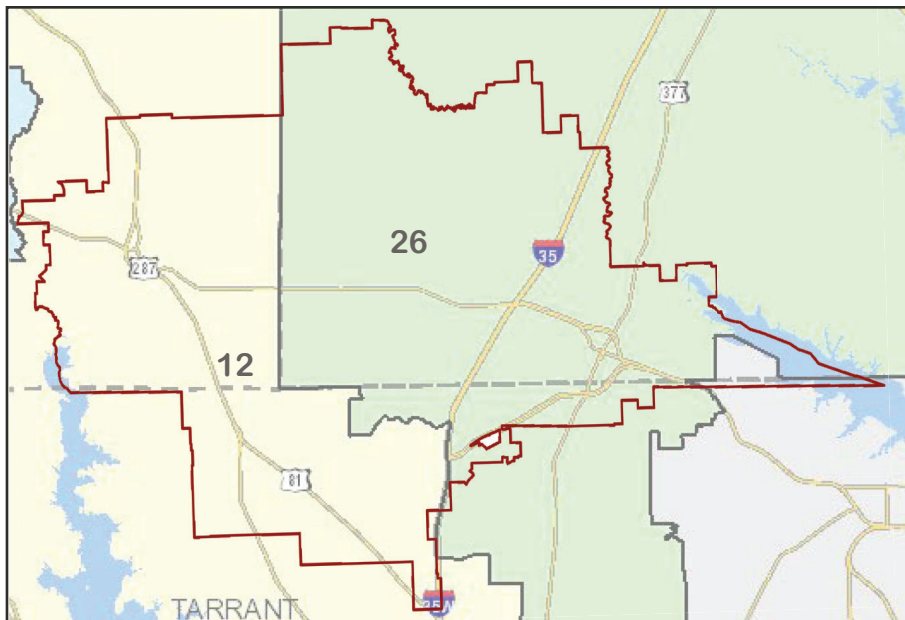

Northwest ISD and Redistricting 2021

US Congressional Map

2021 US Congressional Map*

US Congressional Redistricting Map*

Three US Congressional districts continue to cover Northwest ISD following redistricting changes. District 26 (Burgess) expands into Wise County and now includes all NISD portions of Denton and Wise counties. District 24 (Van Dуйne) expands from a small Southlake area to cover everything East of I-35 in the Tarrant County portion of the district. District 12 (Granger) no longer covers Wise County and represents the majority of Tarrant County West of I-35.

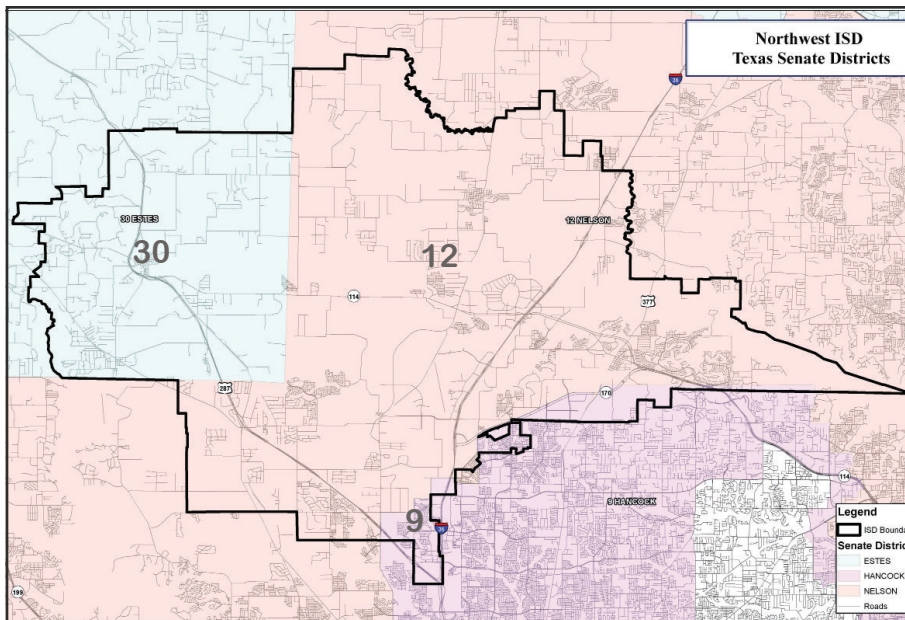

* Texas approved new redistricting maps based on the 2020 Census during the third special session of the 87th Legislature. Please note that maps are not drawn to scale and represent an approximate illustration of the changes made during redistricting.

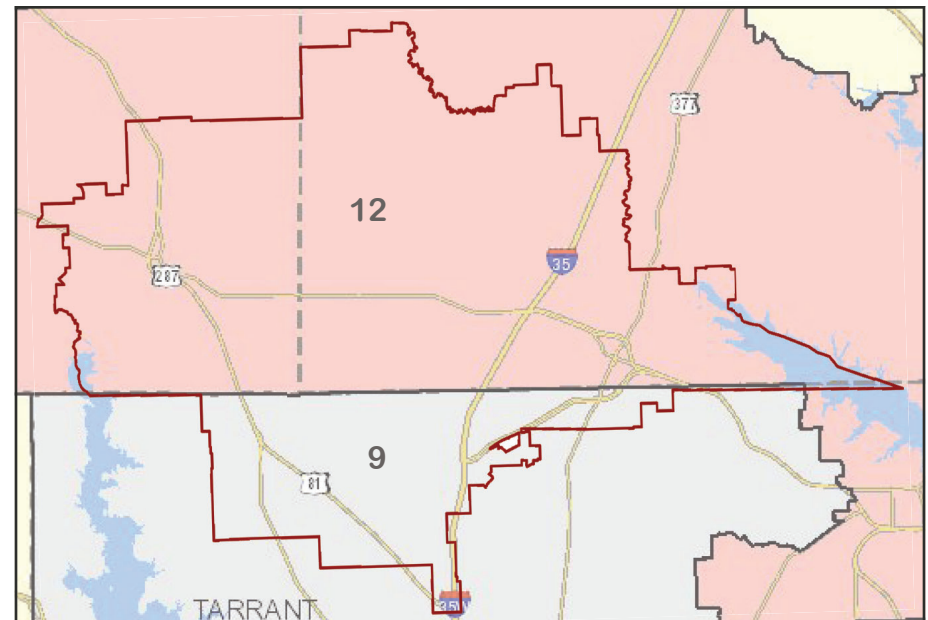

Northwest ISD and Redistricting 2021

Texas Senate Map

2021 Texas Senate Map*

Texas Senate Redistricting Map*

Northwest ISD now has only two senate district representatives instead of three. Following the changes made during redistricting, District 30 (Springer) is no longer in the NISD boundaries. District 12 (Nelson) expands to cover all portions of Denton and Wise counties in NISD. District 9 (Hancock) now covers the entire Tarrant County portion of the district.

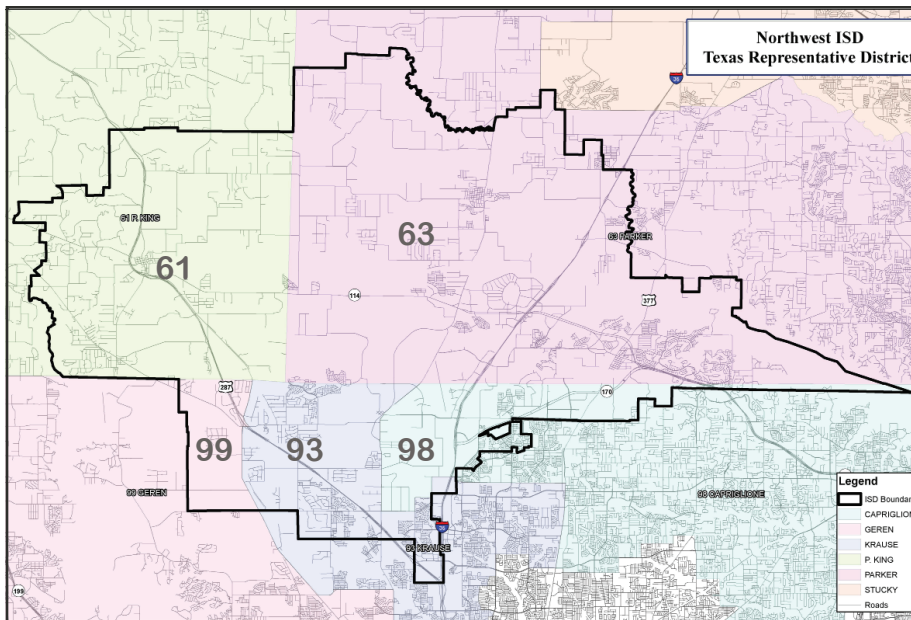

* Texas approved new redistricting maps based on the 2020 Census during the third special session of the 87th Legislature. Please note that maps are not drawn to scale and represent an approximate illustration of the changes made during redistricting.

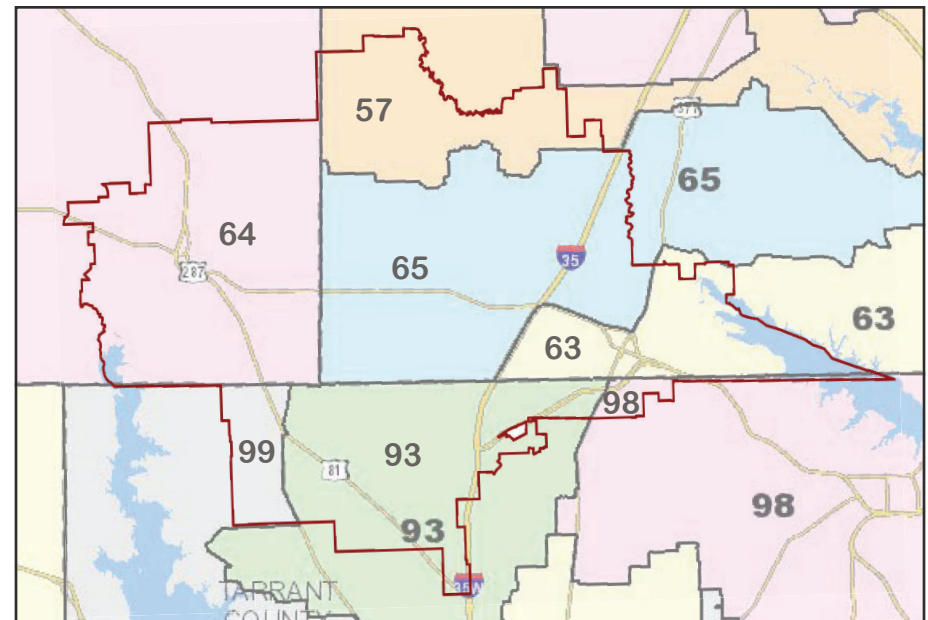

Northwest ISD and Redistricting 2021

Texas House Map

2021 Texas House Map*

Texas House Redistricting Map*

Northwest ISD gains two districts on the House side, increasing from five to seven representatives. District 63 (Parker) is now represented by Districts 57, 65, and 63. District 93 (Krause) extends East, covering Bus. Hwy 287 to FM 377 in Tarrant County. District 98 (Caprighlione) is now a small corner East of FM 377 in Tarrant County. District 64 (Stucky) expands to cover what was District 61 (King), which is no longer in NISD boundaries. District 99 (Geren) remains unchanged.

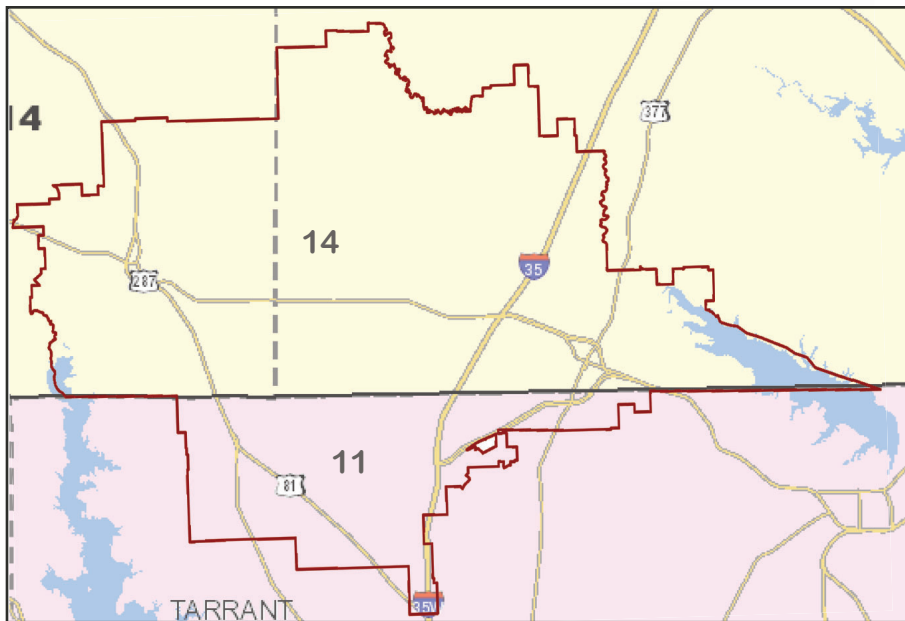

* Texas approved new redistricting maps based on the 2020 Census during the third special session of the 87th Legislature. Please note that maps are not drawn to scale and represent an approximate illustration of the changes made during redistricting.

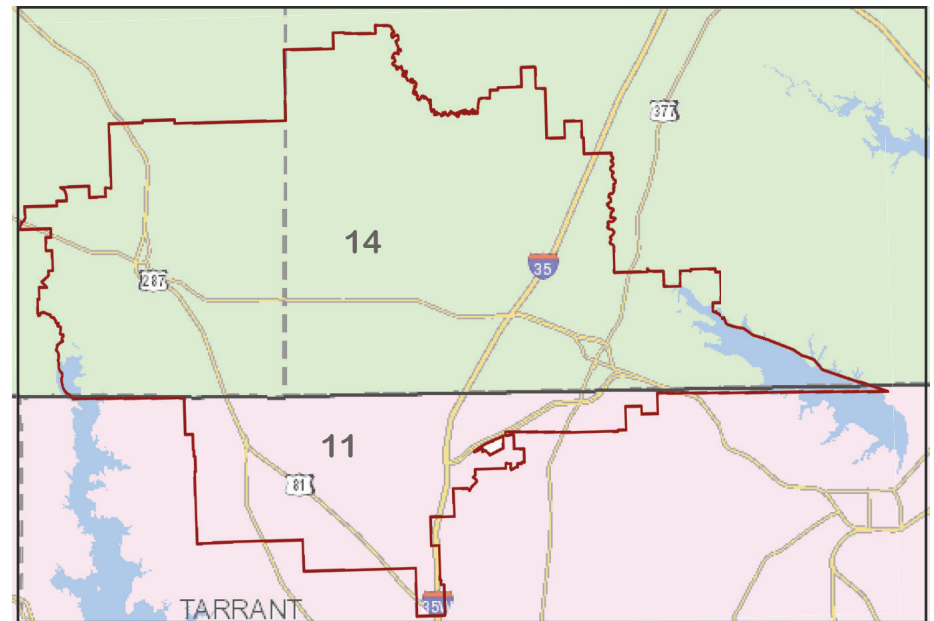

Northwest ISD and Redistricting 2021

Texas State Board of Education Map

2021 Texas SBOE Map*

Texas SBOE Redistricting Map*

Northwest ISD continues to be represented by two State Board of Education districts – Districts 14 (Melton-Malone) and 11 (Hardy). While these two districts did see changes during redistricting, the portions in Northwest ISD remain unchanged.

* Texas approved new redistricting maps based on the 2020 Census during the third special session of the 87th Legislature. Please note that maps are not drawn to scale and represent an approximate illustration of the changes made during redistricting.