

Parent Bulletin Friday 30th September 2022

Dear Parents

The weather has turned this week and school was much colder. We have the heating going where we need it and please ensure your child has the right kind of coat and jumper (if they want one).

On Monday it is our Open Evening. I am grateful to all the students who are staying to help out and thank you to the parents who are supporting that. It will be a normal school day on Monday and we not be finishing early as some schools do.

I am concerned about occasions when problems that have occurred outside of school spill over into school and lead to other issues which we need to follow up. We always will when that happens and I urge parents to check carefully what their child is doing on social media. The best way to do this is by looking at your child's phone directly and you should check everything they have. If you are not sure whether something is a potential concern or not please ask us via safeguarding@slougheton.com and we will help you.

Have a good weekend.

Best wishes

Lost Property

We have a number of items in our lost property at the school, uniform, coats, footwear and PE Kit. We will dispose of all items left at the end of each term/half term if they have not been collected so please send them to Lost Property for collection.

This week's Collective Worship reflection is:

Dear God,

Please help us to make the most of our talents in life, and enable us to rise above people who are negative influences in our lives and ensure we are given clarity to help us deal with any troubles that we may face.

‘I have come in order that you might have life – life in all its fullness (John 10:10)
