Virginia Hanson is now nursing at Yankton, and she's as nutty as ever.

Warren Boyd is in the Laughing Stock business and getting along fine, we might add.

Dorothy Haug was in the "Wacs", but she proved to be too wacky, so they threw her out and she landed in the "Waves" and we don't mean Ocean waves.

Vera Ness has all she can handle with Bud Jr. and little Vera -- and they are so cute, both with red hair and freckles!

Shirley and Merle are running a most prosperous gas station business on the outskirts of Walla Walla.

Donna Roach and Clancy have returned to Burbank where they are happily raising their family.

Donna Girard is teaching spinsters how to find their man. She finally found one herself -- leap year, you know.

Margaret Ann Kimmel is running for the second term as U. S. Senator from S. Dak.

Phyllis Quam still hasn't decided which man she will marry.

Wendell Wilken and Annette are living in California. Wendy is a deep-sea diver.

Jake Groethe is a member of the Harry James orchestra. He not only plays trombone but also is his leading vocalist.

Judy Thorson married her boss and then continued working to keep her eyes on him.

Betty Limoges has now acquired the job of floor walker in Peterson's Drug Store.

Patsy Lanning runs the gravel trucking business for Dellis, while he takes care of little Pat and Dellis.

Douglas Lawrence is the coach at Jefferson. -- The team has improved considerably.

Roger Erickson and Donna Faye are running an A & B Root Beer Stand in Mitchell and their 4 girls act as car-hops.

Dorothy Pesicka is a private secretary. She takes all her dictation sitting on her boss's lap.

Neil Bobenmoyer is an engineer; he and Margaret are raising little engineers.

Duane Austin has taken over his Day's hybrid seed corn and is now raising little ears.

Elizabeth Kalstad is in the Air Force and has a good job of sitting on the pilot's lap.

Ronnie Hoffman, we find, gives home permanents to all men with straight hair.

Lyle Johnson runs his own dairy farm on the outskirts of E.P. and is still waiting for the right girl to come along.

Doris Jean Schulz is now County Home Extension Agent, and one of the best the town ever had.

Elmer Twitchell has taken over Matson's Paint and Glass and he does a good job of painting the town.

Leland Timm is still a bachelor living on his prosperous farm near Richland.

Shirley Riehle is very busy nursing all the rich men back to good health. It seems as though she is extra nice to a doctor friend.

Mary Fennel, after finishing her 2 yr. course at the "U" is now private secretary for Attorney Craig Beck.

Raymond Lyle is still raising 4-H livestock on his father's farm.

Verdell Abraham and Betty Rae are living on a farm near Spink. Betty Rae quit teaching school since the arrival of Verdell Jr.

Wally Peterson has taken over his father's drugstore and is doing a prosperous business.

Margaret Ann Donnelly, after completing college at Ames has taken charge of the Home Economics Department at Elk Point High.

Class History

When we, the class of 1953, entered the first grade Miss Peterson was our teacher. We were such a large class that Miss Solglad was selected as an assistant to our teacher. We have often wondered why everyone wanted to sit by a cute little blonde boy in the first grade! Have you ever found the answer, Wally P.? Virginia H. used to fight with Pat L. on the way home from school just to be ornery! Is that why Pat came to school one day with a bandage around her head? In the first and second grades everyone worked hard to get "A" on his paper, so they would get a brownie stamped on it. Miss Swenson, our second grade teacher, was one of the best teachers we have ever had.

Well, we finally made it to the third grade, which proved to be much harder. Mrs. Parsons, our teacher, however, helped us to struggle through, and we made it to the fourth grade.

Miss Marianne Jensen, our fourth grade teacher, didn't let us grow fat and lazy; many of us can remember the bending over exercises to pick up our pencils after school. It was noted that Donn G. and Roger E. stayed in quite often for recess. Could it be that they just wanted to hold hands? Tom, have you bought Miss Jensen a new ruler, yet? That was quite a crack you put in it.

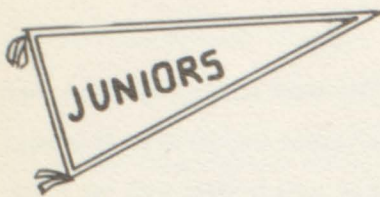

Miss Marlys Mortensen was our teacher in the fifth grade. Will we ever forget the big fight between Patty Wheelock and Miss M.?

Our sixth grade teacher was our beloved Mrs. Leopold. Is it believable that when Warren was told by Mrs. Leopold to stand up in front of the room and laugh, that he couldn't? This was also the year when the romance between Don H. and Donna R. started. I wonder, why Wally O. moved away. Could it be that he wanted to leave before Doris Jean, Mickey, and Judy settled their argument over him?

As we entered Junior High, our heads were held high. At last we had reached the golden stairs that we had longed to climb since the beginning of school. Now we thought it would be different because we knew we would get to be in the study hall with the high school.

In the seventh grade, our teachers were Miss Frances Lee and Miss Anna Waugh. This was the year for eraser throwing and spit balls and because of the racket we made, we weren't allowed to use the study hall any more, and most of us thought the world was coming to an end. Oh, and this year, we had the most delightful couples! Virginia, Margaret, and Mary were continuously fighting over Ronnie Hoffman, and he would have to duck out of their sight every night after school to keep from getting clawed. Donna Roach was still carrying on her romance with Don H., and Margaret Donnelly was still madly in love with Johnny Rasmussen.

Finally we reached the eighth grade and our teachers this year were Miss Helen Harty and Miss Anna Waugh. We all wanted to reach high school the next year, so we all worked very hard and were really angels, at least we thought we were. By the end of this year we had grown tired of climbing those golden stairs.

Day*

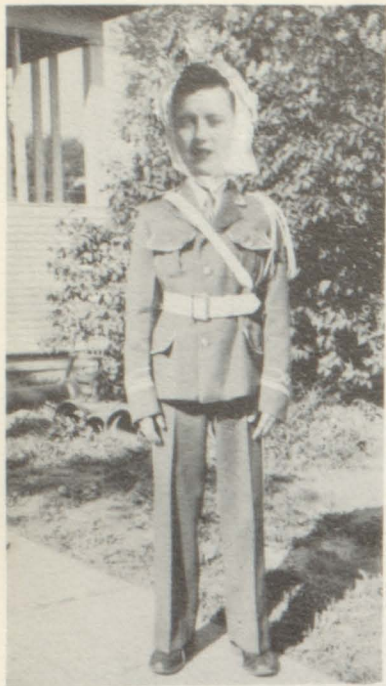

The Elk Day festivities of 1952 were opened on October 16, with the coronation ceremony. The ceremony began with some musical numbers by the band. The feeling of suspense was at its highest when the coronation march began, and it was revealed that Donna Girard would reign as Queen of Elk Day and Douglas Lawrence as King. The procession opened with the flower girls, Julie Thomas and Charyl Anderson who scattered rose petals. Next in the procession were the King and Queen, followed by Pat Callahan and Joe Parsons, as train-bearers. Bobby Raynor and Craig McNerny carried the crowns. Next, the Senior attendants, Margaret Ann Kimmel, Mary Fennel, Merle De Buhr, and Ronald Hoffman entered. As the King and Queen were proceeding to their thrones, the class attendants marched up to the stage. They were: Avis Beavers and Lois Shedd from the Junior class; Kay Hoffman of the Sophomore class; and Carole Donnelly of the Freshman class. Wendell Wilkins, as Master of Ceremonies, crowned the new King and Queen.

The program consisted of various musical selections by the Girls Glee Club, with solos by Shirley Benjamin. Following the coronation ceremony a pep meeting was held at the Dupont Lot on Main Street where the big "bonfire" was set off.

The following day which was Elk Day began with a pep meeting in the school "gymn." The students were then entertained at a movie presented by the State Theater. At 2:00 P. M. the gala Homecoming parade was marching through Main Street, and proved to be very entertaining to a great number of our friends. We were happy to see a large number of former students on Elk Day. The float that ranked first in the parade was that of the Junior class. The Pointers met the Lennox Pheasants at 7:45 at the local field. The team showed its fine ability with a 33 to 7 victory. After the game the Elk Day Dance was held in the high school auditorium. Music was furnished by the Varsity Band, and many alumni and friends of our school were present. At the close of the big day of the year, the Grand March was led by the King and Queen. The 1952 Elk Day festivities proved to be the most successful for a number of years.
