October 7th, 2022

Dear RMS-CES Families,

We have had a fantastic homecoming week with students being respectful and responsible engaging in the dress up days for homecoming week. In my opinion, homecoming week is about coming together and celebrating who we are as a community. Thank you to all of our parents for having conversations ahead of time with your children about dress up days to ensure that homecoming week was a success. As we enter the end of October I would like to put a reminder that we do not allow costumes at the Middle School as they can be a significant distraction to the learning process. Thank you for understanding and please reach out if you have any questions.

Our fall conferences are coming up on Tuesday, October 18th from 3:30-7:30pm. Teachers have emailed invitations with a link to make an appointment to all families. You should receive your email by the end of the day today if you haven't already received it. Due to time constraints, we are limited to one 10 minute conference per student. Please take a moment to secure your conference time. Let me know if you have any questions.

Please know that every week I make a video for students encouraging students in their growth both as a person and a learner. My previous videos have highlighted taking care of yourself to accomplish your goals, the importance of using manners to show value to others that we interact with and making sure we intentionally choose positive interaction to grow our relationships with others. My focus for next week's video is going to be on the importance of arriving to classes prepared and on time.

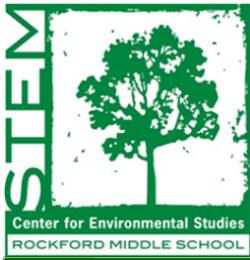

With our school having a focus of being a center for environmental studies I would encourage you to have conversations with your child of all the amazing changes that fall brings and the beauty that fall brings.

Wishing you a fantastic weekend!

HOMECOMING WEEK HIGHLIGHTS

Partnership with our communities and families, Rockford Area School District provides challenging opportunities to engage, inspire, and educate globally.

CLASSROOM HIGHLIGHTS

8TH GRADE LANGUAGE ARTS-MS. HENDRICKSON

This week, students began building a solid foundation to analyze literature throughout the year. In our Introduction to Literature Unit, we first read Jacqueline Woodson's book, *Each Kindness, in which teams connected their prior knowledge of story elements to important literary terms. Next, we reviewed genres of literature, studied Academic Vocabulary, the concept of Conflict and the beloved Plot Diagram before analyzing the short story, "The Elevator". Armed with a framework of knowledge, LA8 students are ready to dig into all kinds of literature, both in and out of the classroom!

5TH GRADE LANGUAGE ARTS-MS. MATEYKA

Fifth grade readers had an exciting past week that began with a field trip to Baker Park/Lake Rebecca. Many students enjoyed the experience with a variety of items, whether it be the prey/predator game, or observing animal pelts and skulls, or working together to complete a cooperative activity with their naturalist. The rest of the week focused on becoming familiar with book drawings and book talks. Students enjoyed their read to self time, whether it be in their book nooks or if they were chosen to have a chair for the day. Fifth grade readers are reading a lot and finishing books towards their "Magic 40!"

6TH GRADE LANGUAGE ARTS-MS. KORZENDORFER

Sixth graders spent time discussing and reflecting on their time together at Deep Portage as well as all of their favorite fall activities. Rock climbing, canoeing, and Charlie-to-base topped the charts for best experiences at Deep Portage. While Halloween, baking, and dirt biking were the top choices for their fall favorites.--

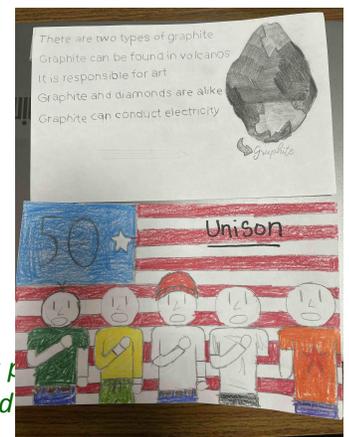

7TH GRADE LANGUAGE ARTS-MS. UDALLA

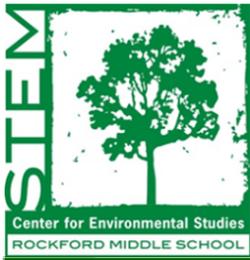

It has been a great start to 7th grade Language Arts. The year started with a review of literature genres and the benefits of reading 20 minutes a night. Seventh grade students have certainly shown their love for reading with frequent visits to the media center, many books being checked out from the class library, and their excitement when getting a new sticker upon finishing a book. Please check their folders to see how much they are reading! It's awesome!

We also started "Book Tasting Friday." Every Friday we "taste a portion" of a new book.

Students look forward to hearing a chapter of a new book each Friday. This little taste has encouraged many students to check-out the Friday books and finish reading them. Students are enjoying the read aloud of the novel "Starfish" by Lisa Fipps. Not only has this novel given us many opportunities to practice making inferences and finding textual evidence to support our inferences, but it also touches on many issues that are relevant to middle school students. Along with inferencing, there has also been a great focus on vocabulary. Each week students will focus on one or two Latin or Greek roots and prefixes and suffixes. We started the year with three roots - uni, lect, and graph, as well as the prefixes ir- and non-. Students created drawings of many of the words that contain one of the roots or the prefixes. The drawings are added to our word wall inside the classroom. The goal is to have a classroom full of roots which means hundreds of new and familiar words added to each students' vocabulary!
