

SAINT JOSEPH PREP

Dr. David Watts

Social Studies Department Chair

david.watts@saintjosephprep.org

617-254-8383 x1616

U. S. History

Grade 11

Honors

This course is a survey of American history, society and government. Through a chronological study, students will examine the formation of America beginning with the earliest explorers and the indigenous peoples of the North American continent to the present. The aims are to cultivate a keen interest in the details and dimensions of United States history, to clarify the American character and to broaden the student's knowledge of American life. Cultivating a deeper appreciation of the diverse people that have helped shape our country, and the reading, analysis and interpretation of primary source documents, maps, data and political cartoons are a key feature of this course.

College Prep

This course is a survey of American history, society and government. Through a chronological study, students will examine the formation of America beginning with the earliest explorers and the indigenous peoples of the North American continent to the present. The aims are to cultivate a keen interest in the details and dimensions of United States history, to clarify the American character and to broaden the student's knowledge of American life. Cultivating a deeper appreciation of the diverse people that have helped shape our country, and the reading, analysis and interpretation of primary source documents, maps, data and political cartoons are a key feature of this course.