

Peterson Schools team,

We're thrilled to welcome Peterson Schools to the Google for Education Reference School Program! Your school is doing exemplary things with Google tools and we're excited for you to join this select group and become the first Google Reference School in Spanish Speaking Latin America.

Google for Education Reference Schools are schools that demonstrate exemplary uses of Google technology in the classroom and foster an innovative learning environment, based on new learning methodologies. This pedagogical approach has a demonstrable impact on students' soft skills development such as problem solving, collaboration and teamwork, critical thinking and more.

I hope that you take the time to celebrate this good news. Congratulations once again and welcome to the community!

Fernanda,

On behalf of the Google for Education team
