

Portability Vs. Conversion

Upon loss of eligibility or termination of employment, an employee and/or their dependents may elect to continue their employer-sponsored Basic or Voluntary Term Life Insurance by either porting or converting it.

For questions regarding porting or converting, contact Guardian® at 1 800 627 4200. The following information reflects the basic differences between porting and converting Guardian Life Insurance coverage.*

	Ported Policy	Converted Policy
Definition	Portability provision allows an employee/dependent to continue Basic or Voluntary Term Life Insurance upon loss of eligibility or termination of employment in these situations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Group policy discontinues the eligibility of a class of employees to which the employee belongs • Employee retires • Employee is terminated or changes jobs 	Conversion allows an employee/dependent to convert their Basic or Voluntary Term Life Insurance to an individual life insurance policy in these situations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Employment ends • Employee stops being a member of an eligible class of employees • Dependent loss of eligibility • The policy terminates
Type Of Policy	Group Term Life	Individual Whole Life
General Cost	Comparable to group rate	More expensive than group rate
Length of Coverage	Until age 70 with applied age reductions	Guaranteed for life
Dependents	Dependent Life coverage may be ported when insured at time of loss. AD&D may be ported at the same time as Life is ported.	Dependent Life coverage may be converted when insured at time of loss. No conversion of AD&D.
