VI. Principal Update

Notes: Late Start - Teachers' College developer came and spent 40 minutes working on responses to writing. Hardest to teach virtually writing and math; every staff member who was been here for less than 4 years had one-on-one to help develop their writing.

The other 40 minutes has been working on Math Bridges. It takes about 2 hours of prep each day to prepare for Bridges. Math Specialist led them through lessons and how to analyze their students level.
