Course Description

American Government is an introduction to the structure and processes of the United States political system. Additionally, students will gain an understanding of the nature of the party system, the roll of interest groups, due process of law, legal rights, and legal responsibilities. Comparative studies of governmental systems in nations other than the United States will also be introduced.

General Education Co mpetency Area (This section is required for General Education Courses)

This course fulfills the Idaho State General Education competency area of: American Government

AND/OR

This course meets a CWI Institutionally Designated Core competency area of (CWID or Global Perspectives)

Academic Objectives:

This section is required for all classes. Please check appropriate boxes for your course, as outlined by your department:

[2 Learn to Learn. Students learn that as important as content knowledge is, shaping one's future requires the development of skill in discerning, applying, analyzing, synthesizing and evaluating knowledge in diverse contexts. The educational experience at CWI prepares students for a world in which they are likely to change occupations and face unpredictable life events. We strive to develop courses and learning experiences that give students the tools to confidently thrive in a complex, information-saturated, diverse, and dynamic world.

C] Make Connections. Students learn success in today's interconnected world requires deliberate engagement and comfort with multiple perspectives, cultures, and contexts. In navigating difference and diversity in the natural and social worlds, students connect ideas, forms of knowledge, and practices to create a richer understanding of themselves as personally and socially responsible citizens.

CI Solve Problems. Students identify problems, analyze and implement solutions, and interpret and reflect on outcomes to develop skills to individually and collaboratively face challenges and create opportunities.

[2 Reason Ethically. Students learn that ethical ideas and moral conduct maybe understood from many perspectives: as products of historical, cultural, and religious forces, as reflections of human nature, and as personally held attitudes and beliefs. Students learn to articulate ethical self-awareness, ethical issue recognition, and varieties of ethical perspectives to evaluate, create, and live consciously according to their own personal moral values.

Co urse Schedule

- Monday through Friday
- Classes are 45 minutes long ● Room #50

Course Objectives and Outcomes

1. identify and explain the formation, function, players, organizations, and institutions that make up the American system of government
2. understand the importance of political participation and civic duty
3. Apply terms relevant to the content appropriately and accurately

Outcomes Assessment

TESTS AND QUIZ SCORES 75%

SIGNATURE ASSIGNMENT AND OTHER COMPONENTS 25%

At the end of units a unit test will be administered. Unit tests are worth approximately 100 points. All unit tests will be announced approximately one week in advance- Learning targets will be given to the students prior to beginning a new unit. These targets will establish a clear set of expectations as to what the students must know.

*Test Retakes: If a student is not satisfied with his/her test results, a retake can be administered. Before a retake can be taken, the student must demonstrate that all prior work has been completed to the satisfaction of the teacher. Work can include: daily assignments, study guides, notes, etc. ..

Test retakes will be administered 2 to 3 days after the initial test was taken. The student will be given the score from the retake not the original test.

Quizzes will be administered during most class periods. Quizzes can be pop-quizzes and on some occasions will be announced in advance. The quiz questions will be from material that was covered in the previous class period. In most cases, quizzes are worth 5-10 pts. No retakes on quizzes will be given.

Signature Assignments

As part of the Political Science curriculum, each student will be required to complete a signature assignment. This assignment will involve critical thinking skills that are important in becoming an effective, independent thinking citizen. Students will be asked to analyze, evaluate, and apply information relevant to the 2020 election issues, developments, and outcomes. An Election Journal will be kept in which the student will keep their responses to weekly critical thinking questions.
