December

This year is going by so fast! We are learning so much and building great friendships here in Kindergarten. We have 2 more weeks of school and then will be half way through our year!

Holiday Breakfast

Our Holiday Breakfast will be the morning of December 15th. Keep an eye out for a sign up form to bring items in for the breakfast, from your child's teacher.

Here's What We're Learning This Month:

Reading- We will be learning how the illustrations or pictures in a text are related to the text. Students will also be able to identify the beginning, middle and end of a story.

Math-We are learning about the teen numbers. We will also be looking at a hundreds grid and will be able to identify different patterns we notice to help us understand counting.

Writing- We are going to start opinion writing. We will be able to create an opinion about something and explain our opinion.

Science- Students have been working on sorting different objects based on different characteristics. We will also be starting to learn about living and nonliving things.
