

Martin Delabano '67

Martin (Mr. D) Delabano graduated from St. John's in third grade (St. John's only went through third grade in 1967), and yes, St. John's had a Graduation back then as well. He attended Skyline High School where he graduated from the Arts Cluster. He then received his BFA from East Texas State University and then graduated from University of New Mexico with his MA in Sculpture. For seven years after graduating, Mr. Delabano worked in an iron foundry until he got the call from St. John's to teach. He is a practicing artist and just completed a gallery show in San Antonio, Texas!

Mark Huffman '05

After graduating from St. John's in 2005, Mark attended Greenhill School and Wake Forest University. Mark served as a Teach for America corps member and taught middle school math in Huntsville, Alabama before returning to Wake Forest for law school. Today Mark works as a litigation attorney at Munsch Hardt, a Texas-based commercial law firm. He lives in Dallas with his wife, Amanda (a St. John's first grade teacher), and his son, Oliver (a future Lion). Mark is excited to join the inaugural Alumni Board and looks forward to welcoming his fellow alumni back to campus.

Aidan Kirksey '07

Aidan's St. John's journey began in Pre-K. After St. Johns he attended high school at St. Mark's School of Texas, followed by Trinity University where he received his BS in Accounting and Master of Public Accounting. He now lives in East Dallas with his wife Lauren and works for Lincoln Property Company as an Assistant Controller in their commercial real estate group.

Allison Parks '11

After graduating from St. John's, Allison attended The Hockaday School and Texas A&M University. She lives in Dallas and works as a Landscape Architect at Kimley-Horn, designing everything from residential amenity centers and pool decks to city parks and office plazas. Allison is excited to be a part of the new Alumni Board, and she hopes to reconnect with old friends, meet new faces, and continue the advancement of the St. John's community.

Meg Raymond Smith '04

Meg was a proud member of the Red-Hot Peppers at St. John's! She went on to attend ESD (Episcopal School of Dallas) for high school and UVA for college where she studied finance and management. She has settled back in Dallas after six years in San Francisco. She's an Associate Partner at McKinsey & Company and lives in Lakewood with her husband Wyatt and their son Ford.

Marthe Turlington '02

After graduating from St. John's, Marthe attended Greenhill School and the University of Kansas. She earned a BS in Elementary Education and an MS in Early Childhood Special Education from KU. She taught Pre-K at St. Paul's Episcopal Day School in Kansas City, MO, and Pre-K and first grade at Oak Hill Academy in Dallas. In August 2021, she returned to St. John's and is the Primary and Lower School Learning Specialist.
