Happy Holidays Eldorado Parents and Families!

Blue Sky Bridge is coming to all our Kindergarten and 3rd grade classes starting on January 11th! These lessons are to help teach our students about body safety, personal boundaries and respect, and bodily consent. For more information, check out the Blue Sky Bridge Parent Talk on Wednesday, December 7th 12:00-1:00pm. You can register here. They also provide some really amazing parent resources on their website: <https://blueskybridge.org/parent-resources/>

Playful Pig and Curious Raccoon taught me that:

Kindergarten Rules

- My body is special and I am in charge of it!
- I keep my hands to myself.
- I stay in my bubble.
- Some parts of my body are not for sharing.
- I tell grown ups if anything unsafe happens to my body.

Who are your 5 Trusted Adults?

Trusted Adult Worksheet

★ Family Discussion ★ SEE OTHER SITES! >>>

Buddy Fox, Curious Raccoon and Playful Pig say:

NO! NO! Means if anyone is asking you to do something that makes you feel uncomfortable, weird or sad, or hurts you, you have the right to say NO!

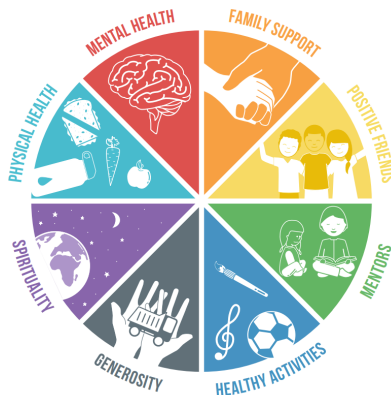

GO! GO! Means leave the situation if you can do so safely. If a situation gives you that sick or icky feeling in your stomach, trust your feelings!

TELL! TELL! Means, as soon as you can, tell a trusted adult. If that adult doesn't listen, go to another trusted adult and keep telling until someone listens and believes you. And remember, it is not your fault.

★ Family Discussion ★

Your child has learned a lot in the last three sessions with Blue Sky Bridge. As with anything, practice and continued communication is key for behaviors to become second nature. We hope that you implement the teaching rules, the "no secrets" policy and regularly review your child's trusted adults. A good practice is to provide scenarios or "what if" for your child. This will help your child to practice and become confident using the NO, GO, TELL plan.

Mrs. Macur and Mrs. Gonzales will continue to dive into the Sources of Strength Wheel with 4th grade- 5th grade and our 2nd-3rd grade students will be introduced to the wheel in the coming weeks. Have your students brainstorm at home what strengths they have been using lately and which ones are their favorites to tap into when they need strength.

Dear Parent Community,

As we enter into this holiday season, we wanted to take a moment to thank you for supporting Impact on Education. We are grateful for your dedication to Boulder Valley School District, and our foundation couldn't exist without you!

We invite you to learn more about the ways Impact on Education is here to support the students and staff at Boulder Valley School District.

Funds available for families impacted by the Marshall Fire

Each family impacted by the Marshall Fire (regardless of whether or not they qualify for McKinney-Vento benefits or Free & Reduced Lunch) is able to access Impact on Education funding to provide: free school meals, transportation expenses to/from school, free 1:1 virtual tutoring and after school care. If you know a student or family in need, please click below to share our form.

Five ways we're supporting the mental health of students and educators

Having school-based support is critical to helping students and staff navigate mental health struggles. From funding the hire of new Mental Health Advocates to professional development for School Age Care staff, we've made five key investments in mental health so far this year.
