Crestwood Students Make a Unique Connection to Antarctica

In early December, Dr. Richard Lee Jr. and primary school teacher Natalie Harr visited the Crestwood School buildings and held building-wide assemblies as well as visited individual classrooms to help students make connections to Dr. Lee and Miss Harr's upcoming research trip to Antarctica. While Dr. Lee and Miss Harr will be investigating the amazing ability of a small wingless fly to survive the long cold Antarctic winters, students investigated ways that insects here in Northeast Ohio are able to survive our own long, cold winters.

Science classes throughout the district decided to take a closer look at how several types of insects use goldenrod plants as a winter escape. Many students had never noticed those bulging tumor-like growths called galls that appear on the stems of goldenrod in the late fall. Bringing many gall samples into the classrooms gave students an opportunity to examine galls up close.

In the middle school, students took metric measurements and made drawings of the galls before cutting them open to expose the tiny residents inside. Students then used a dichotomous key to determine what type of organism they had discovered. The list included gall fly larvae, wasp parasites, moth larvae, and beetle larvae.

Miss Harr will connect with the school and community members through her blog at www.crestwoodexplorestheworld.org

The Facts on Bullying

Bullying is a hot topic in today's world both in and out of school. Incidence of bullying appears frequently in the daily news and, according to Bullying Statistics, causes about 160,000 student absences per day due to fears of being bullied. Crestwood Local Schools recently revised its board policies on bullying and adopted the Ohio Department of Education definition of bullying.

Bullying is any intentional written, verbal, or physical act, as well as any electronically transmitted act, that an individual exhibited toward another particular individual more than once and the behavior both causes mental or physical harm to the other individual and is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it creates and intimidating, threatening, or abusive educational environment for the other individual.

Superintendent's Letter . . .

Happy New Year to our students, parents, community, teachers and staff.

Mr. Joseph Iacano
Superintendent

As we enter 2012 at Crestwood Local Schools, I want to thank everyone who made 2011 an exciting, successful and excellent year. As a district, we strive to meet the needs of every child, every day. 2011 showed that we are succeeding. The district earned an Excellent rating from the Ohio Department of Education, one of only two districts in Portage County to meet all 26 state indicators. Our performance index (the summary of all test results) improved for the 6th consecutive year and our college entrance scores (ACT) were tied for second highest in Portage County. Additionally, I want to thank the community for renewing our permanent improvement levy in November, which provides critical funding to maintain our buildings.

Each of our schools showed that an excellent education is earned in many ways. Right now, Crestwood Primary School teacher Natalie Harr is connecting with her students from Antarctica as she helps students understand what it means to be a 21st century scientist. The Intermediate School now offers daily intervention and enrichment programs targeted to specific student needs. Crestwood Middle School students embarked on its first trip to Washington D.C. to learn about our nation's history, and Crestwood High School held its first 8th Grade Curriculum Night in 2011, helping students prepare for the academic and social transition from middle to high school.

2011 was a year full of accomplishments and we expect similar results in 2012. However, we know that the district will face challenges in the years ahead. Knowing that cuts in state and federal funding will continue, my administration and the school board are committed to spending taxpayer dollars responsibly while maintaining an excellent school district. Acknowledging this will require us to make difficult choices, and I hope that the community will join us in a conversation to determine the future of this district.

Together, we can maintain excellence at Crestwood Local Schools.

- Joe Iacano

Mrs. Curfman's kindergarten class had a fantastic time learning about the goldenrod fly found in the school yard. They were very excited to find the living larvae inside the gall.

Dr. Lee was on hand at all the buildings to help guide students to understand how galls form, explain where the eggs come from, challenge students to discover how the adult would find its way out in the springtime, and identify the variety of life found. Dr. Lee, and Miss Harr were joined by incoming board member Mr. Sorrick, who all were available to help students discover insect survival in the Northeast Ohio winter climate.

Miss Harr will be leaving for Antarctica Dec. 26 and will connect with the school and community members through a blog that can be found at www.crestwoodexplorestheworld.org. Harr's blog, lessons and activities will help students, parents and other districts understand what it means to be a scientist in the 21st century.

The entire project is funded through the National Science Foundation so the district will not incur any costs to send Harr to Antarctica.

National and State Trends Lead Crestwood to Discuss the Growing Danger of Opiate Use with Parents and Community

National, state and regional trends show an increase in addiction to opiates including the street drug, heroin. In years past, heroin has been primarily associated with inner cities and urban areas. More recently, however, there is growing evidence of heroin use in suburban and rural areas nationally as well as here in Portage County. The increased availability of prescription opiates, like Vicodin and OxyContin, appears to be fueling demand for the heroin.

A June 2011 study completed by the Ohio Substance Abuse Monitoring Network, showed an increase in the availability of heroin in all eight regions of Ohio. The study also showed that in Cincinnati, for example, new heroin users are likely to be 15 to 18 years old, white and often female. A recent death from heroin overdose in an affluent Cleveland suburb prompted that city's mayor to send a warning letter to residents. The map below, from a Plain Dealer article, shows data regarding deaths due to opiates in nearby suburban areas.

A meeting will be held Thursday, February 16 at 7 p.m. in the Crestwood High School Library

We are inviting parents and community members to learn more about this serious issue. A meeting will be held Thursday, February 16 at 7 p.m. in the Crestwood High School Library. Presenters will include representatives from the Portage County Drug Task Force, Portage County Sheriff, Mantua Police, Crestwood Local Schools, and Townhall II, a counseling center located in Kent, Ohio. Community leaders are invited to attend as well.

Crestwood, like many districts, has used drug dogs for periodic surprise searches at the high school and middle school for the past three years. These searches turned up no evidence of heroin or other opiates in the buildings or on the grounds. Nevertheless, as a school district we are committed to vigilance in working with local law enforcement and substance abuse experts to keep it out of our schools and to educate parents, students, and the community about the dangers.

Please look for additional information about this important meeting in the February edition of the Crestwood Comments.

Mobile Dentist Visits to Provide for Student Dental Needs February 23, 2012

We have again arranged for Smile Care Ohio-the mobile dentist, to come to Crestwood Local Schools on February 23, 2012. The dentist and dental hygienists will set up a mini dental clinic at the Primary building for grades K-5 and at the Middle School for students in grades 6-12. An additional clinic can be set up at the High School if enough students participate. Preventive treatment includes a dental screening, cleaning and fluoride treatment. X-rays and sealants to the chewing surfaces of the back teeth can also be offered. Smile Care Ohio will bill your insurance provider if you have one. Insurance such as Medicaid and Healthy Start/Healthy Families cover your child 100%. Smile Care Ohio can provide grants to subsidize fees for those who need financial assistance for all or part of the treatment. No child is turned away for inability to pay.

Students will be bringing home a registration form for this health service with the January report card. Forms are also available online or from the school nurse. Please complete and return it promptly to the school nurse.

It's important to note the bullying is not just kids being kids, and it presents itself in a number of forms. Bullying can be physical, verbal or emotional. Behaviors include repeated spreading of rumors, excluding others or ignoring them. It can be name calling, teasing or threatening on an ongoing basis. Or it can be physical, such as hitting, slapping or kicking. And, anyone can be a bully, just as anyone can be a victim. Victims themselves can become bullies in a different social group and bullies, when in a different environment can become victims.

It is important for adults and students to be aware of signs of bullying and report bullying problems to the school. Parents can help their children by being aware of what's happening in their student's life at school and encourage conversations about friends and relationships.

Symptoms of Bullying

- Avoiding situations, people or places
- Behavior changes, i.e. being withdrawn or overly aggressive, frequent crying, unwillingness to speak, or show signs of fear when asked about specific people or places
- Signs of injuries
- Sudden drop in grades
- Recurrent and unexplained physical symptoms such as stomach pains and fatigue

Contact the board office or a building principal if you're interested in receiving a copy of the bullying policy.

Summer Camp Scholarship Available CEA Helps Kids

Again this year, Crestwood Education Association is offering Summer Camp scholarships to Crestwood Middle School students. Any student interested in attending a summer camp is encouraged to submit an application for the scholarship. CEA realizes that there are many wonderful opportunities for summer camps available to middle school age students, yet the cost can sometimes make it difficult for families to send their children. CEA wants to help. Through CEA fundraising efforts, three $100 scholarships have been made available. Applications for all types of camps will be considered.

To apply, simply fill out the application, which can be found on the middle school page of www.crestwood.sparcc.org. Return the completed application to Kim Marfy at Crestwood Middle School in a sealed envelope by May 1, 2012. Applications can also be picked up at the Middle school office.

Crestwood Teacher Advances Career to Georgia

By Kira Edic & Emma Cline

After five years of teaching in the district, mathematics teacher, Teresa Moon, is leaving Crestwood High School Dec 20. She will be moving to Georgia to become an Instructional Support Specialist for math and science at ten different military schools. Her office will be at Fort Benning, a military base near Columbus, Georgia, but she will be commuting between other army bases in Alabama. Her responsibilities include holding workshops for teachers that will help them advance in their careers, and studying test scores to decide what areas students need more assistance in. She will also be in charge setting up special activities such as a full week of Earth Day fun.

Moon expressed that leaving Crestwood, is "like leaving a part of her life behind." She truly loves the students and staff who have encouraged her to be who she is today. Moon says that she will miss everyone who has made a difference in her life at Crestwood High School. Both the students and staff of Crestwood High School wish Moon all the best as she moves on to the next phase of her educational career.

The Crestwood Chronicle, a student newspaper published by Crestwood High School, is now officially online! Middle School Gym Transformed to a Winter “Musical” Wonderland

The Crestwood Middle School Instrumental Music Department presented their annual 7th and 8th Grade Bands Winter Concert, December 9, 2011, in the CMS gym. Student announcers introduced each piece with facts about composers, history, and musical elements learned while working on their concert pieces. The concert bands, numbering 110 students are under the direction of Mrs. Judith Guegold. CMS Jazz Band directed by Mrs. Wiandt, assisted by Mrs. Guegold, has 45 members of combined 7th and 8th grade band members.

The concert opened with the CMS 7th Grade Band followed by the 7th and 8th grade Jazz band, and concluded with the 8th grade band featuring a trumpet solo by Sam Oliphant.

The audience, filled with parents, grandparents, and friends, thoroughly enjoyed the performance. Comments included remarks of maturity of sound and excellence of performance.

All three bands will perform at the December 21 school holiday assembly with Nate Lind performing the Frosty solo.

Middle School Leadership Sponsored Food Drive & Book Drive

The Middle School Leadership group sponsored a food drive for the 4 Cs and a book drive for Safer Futures in December. Students were able to donate more than 1,200 items for the food drive and more than 700 books. Thank you to the middle school students and families for their generous contributions to the community.

Clean Hands for Everyone!

Students from Mrs. Englehart's fourth grade class show their "clean" hands after a handwashing class taught by Mrs. Abruzino, School Nurse. Students applied glo-in-the-dark "germ" cream and then washed to see if they could get the germs off. They did!

Fundraising to benefit CIS

Crestwood Intermediate PTO has partnered with Schwan's this school year to raise money for the school. Every month a Schwan's truck will be available in the CIS parking lot from 3 p.m. - 6 p.m. to distribute orders already placed or to fill on-site orders from available merchandise. After those three hours, the sales are totaled and CIS receives a percentage of the sales. If you're already a Schwan's customer, you can help by choosing to pick up your items at the school on our sale dates listed below. You can choose to pre-order or stop in and see what sounds good that day. Orders placed online must be submitted two days prior to sale date to ensure product availability. Simply go to www.schwansfundraising.com and follow the steps provided then mark your calendar to pick-up your order at our school. All payments made to Schwan's truck driver on day of sale event.

CIS PTO thanks you for your support and wishes you a very Happy New Year!

Stay Safe While Playing Outside this Winter

Soon the ground will be covered in snow providing for new outside play activities. Please encourage children to be safe by reminding them of these important safety tips for sledding, snow skiing and snow boarding.

- Keep away from motor vehicles.
- Young children should always be supervised by an adult. Older children's need for adult supervision depends on their maturity and skill. If not with an adult, they should at least be accompanied by a friend
- Sled feet first or sitting up, instead of lying down head-first, to prevent head injuries.
- Wear a helmet even when sledding.
- Never ski or snowboard alone.
- Equipment should fit. Skiers should wear safety bindings that are adjusted at least every year. Snowboarders should wear gloves with built-in wrist guards. Helmets, eye protection or goggles should also be used.
- Slopes should fit the ability and experience of the skier or snowboarder. Avoid crowded slopes.
- Avoid areas with trees and other obstacles.
- Snowmobiling and 4 Wheeling
- The AAP recommends that children under age 16 not operate snowmobiles and that children under age 6 never ride on snowmobiles.
- Do not use these vehicles to pull a sled or skier.
- Wear goggles and a safety helmet approved for use on motorized vehicles like motorcycles.
- Travel at safe speeds.
- Never use alcohol or other drugs before or while operating the vehicle.
- Never snowmobile or 4-wheel alone or at night.
- Stay on marked trails, away from roads, water, railroads and pedestrian.
