The Den

“The Den” (room 101) is a safe place for social emotional learning and personal growth.

Activities:

- Small group lessons based on student needs survey data.
 - Anger management
 - 4 year high school plans
- Mediations
- Stress relief activities
- Food pantry
- “Table Talks”

The Den

Table Talks

Table Talks are informal small group conversations that support the Common Core Anchor Standards for Speaking and Listening. These conversations are opportunities for students to gather informally during Silent Reading or lunch and talk about topics that interest them...no texting, no social media, just human to human. Recent topics have included Body Neutrality, Beauty Standards, and Dress Codes.

Special acknowledgement to Ken Knollenberg, former BOE member for donations made to The Den from his estate and The Temple City School's Foundation for their generous "start-up" donation last year.

PBIS Recreation Room

“Rec Room” a place where students can relax, play and hang-out with friends under the safe supervision of a staff member.
