Minks Escape Ohio Farm

By Ali Mygrant

On the overnight hours of Tuesday, November 15, between 25 and 40 thousand minks were released from Lion Farms USA Mink Farm in Van Wert, Ohio. Currently, the Van Wert County Sheriff Department, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, and the Ohio Emergency Management Agency are working on catching the culprit. They have at least one known suspect at this time. They are said to have damaged a fence keeping the minks in the farm.

Minks are known to be dangerous and aggressive. They are typically 2 feet long and have dark colored fur. These semi-aquatic animals can be found in wet habitats and are often more active during dusk and pre-dawn hours. Minks commonly eat fish, ducks, chickens, rabbits, and many other animals. This poses a risk to local farmers and livestock.

Itaewon Tragedy

By Hannah Withers

On the night of October 29, 2022, a crowd crush occurred during Halloween festivities in the Itaewon neighborhood of Seoul, South Korea. As of November 13, 2022, 158 people were killed, and 196 were injured. Out of the 158 people 132 were South Koreans and 26 were foreign nationals. The victims were mostly young adults being in their 20s and 30s.

For hours, police had been receiving desperate calls about party goers trapped in a narrow alleyway. Only 137 officers were assigned to Itaewon, and at least 52 were detectives specializing in drug crime. There were as many as 100,000 civilians at the festival. The incident happened because of a single push. It was like a chain reaction. Twitter account "jkaesthetlc" tweeted, "Falling down screaming like dominoes." When the police arrived at the scene, they were shocked. They had trouble getting through the crowd, and the crowd kept pushing each other. The police had trouble getting people out and there weren't enough officials to help. Ana, a 24-year-old from Spain, told the BBC, "There were so many people that they needed normal people to do CPR."

South Korean authorities and lawmakers are investigating what went wrong, how officials missed early signs of trouble, and why it took so long to send help. During a Cabinet council meeting, President Yoon Suk Yeol acknowledged that South Korea lacks research on crowd management. A number of mid-ranking police and fire officials have been suspended from their jobs or are under investigation for possible criminal negligence. One police officer under investigation died by suicide.

Arrests Made in Ossian for Animal Abuse

By Karli Anderson

At least 100 roosters, hens and chicks were found on a property in Ossian a few weeks ago after a lengthy investigation by multiple agencies. The owner of the property has been arrested according to a Facebook post by the Wells County Sheriff's Office.

Lots of chickens were found in a dilapidated barn and conditions were so ugly. Some of the chickens were found with rough skin and with no feathers on their heads, chests, or legs.

First Snow

By Ameen lababneh

Do you enjoy looking at the outside of your house when everything is white and peaceful? Well, Indiana got some snow recently that gave us a tease for the upcoming winter.

Even though Bluffton saw its first snowfall, it was not the biggest in the country. For an example: on Nov. 17th, Buffalo had a big snowstorm that dumped over 4 feet of snow, and it led to the death of two people. This snowstorm affected other states other than N.Y., as it also hit some states in the Midwest, such as Michigan.

We also witnessed some snow in Indiana at that time of the month, but it was not as severe as it was in other states.

Although it seems like it is early, and it has warmed up, according to Weather.com, Indiana's first snow of the year usually happens in early November.

As we get deeper into winter, it's getting to be that time to put your heavy coat on and wear warm clothes because we're going to see more snow before the green grass returns.

Ranking in Some Big Dough

By Amarah Robles and Bailey Yates

Han Solo may be a hunk, but "Pan Solo" is a hunk of bread. Bakers recreate the iconic "Han Solo in Carbonite" out of bread. No, not Mr. Baker, Californian bakers used bread to make a six-foot tall sculpture. They dubbed the sculpture "Pan Solo."

After contracting COVID-19, one of the bakers lost her sense of taste and smell. This inconvenience makes food less enjoyable for the baker, so the bakers wanted "to find other joys in food." This was the sole inspiration behind Pan Solo.

Twitter Blue

By Darren Early

Every social media platform has a way of showing who is actually a verified user, meaning that they are truly who they say they are. For example, celebrities are verified on social media sites like Instagram and TikTok. Both of which feature a small, blue checkmark next to the person's username. Twitter, another social media site, has used this same feature for years. However, under Elon Musk's new ownership of Twitter, verification on social media may not be the same as it used to be.

Musk recently added a new feature to Twitter. Musk named this new feature Twitter Blue, a subscription service. Not only does this subscription grant the subscriber the same verified check mark that influencers and celebrities have, it also grants the subscriber custom app icons, themes, bookmark folders, and even the option to undo a tweet. Twitter's new subscription service immediately caught the attention of the internet and caused chaos.

Some are in favor of Twitter Blue for the benefits, while many others hate the service due to the lack of verification. One man even argued how he could make a Twitter account pretending to be a brand's customer service page, purchase Twitter Blue to seem like the real deal, and reply to people's tweets to trick them. While the controversy of Twitter Blue still comes up in conversations, the site is still up and running with seemingly little issues. So who knows, maybe Twitter Blue isn't as bad as everyone thought.

Don't Be In De-Nial

By Bailey Yates and Amarah Robles

The Irish Star has recently revealed that he will be dropping his third studio album in early 2023. This album will be coming out around three years after his most recent album, Heartbreak Weather. He plans to go on tour after the album release. The title of this album is yet to be released.

TRNSMT recently shared that Niall will be performing at their festival on July 7th. Also, Niall announced he will be a coach on The Voice for its upcoming season.

On a related note, former bandmate Louis Tomlinson has just dropped his second solo album, Faith In The Future. He hit number one in the UK just before breaking his arm. Faith In The Future debuted at number two on "Billboard's Top Album sales" as 37,500 copies were sold in the US in the week ending November 17.

Additionally, former One Direction star, Harry Styles, has recently broken up with longtime girlfriend Olivia Wilde. She was the director of the latest movie he starred in. The controversy surrounding the movie release is reported to be a reason for their "not so amicable" breakup.

Kanye Loses Deals

By Karli Anderson

Kanye West has lost over $1 billion after companies canceled deals with him. In an Instagram post the artist pointed out that he had lost film contracts, sports contracts, and music contracts.

After losing millions, Kanye spoke out. "Let's see the contracts," Kanye said. He then added, "I've been beat to a pulp and there's still no accountability."

Balenciaga, Gap, Vougé, and CAA (Creative Artists Agency) all dropped Kanye after his controversial antics earlier this month. Kanye then apologized for the hurtful comments he has made towards the Jewish religion.

Takeoff Killed

By Avery Hunt

Takeoff, a worldwide known rapper, dies at the age of 28 in Houston Texas at 2:30 am. He and his friends were playing a dice game at a bowling alley and Billard Hall when things got out of hand with another player. He was shot in the head and chest, he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Shooting at the University of Virginia

By Ali Mygrant

Three football players at the University of Virginia were shot and killed on November 13th. Two other students are currently being treated at the UVA Medical Center. Christopher Darnell Jones Jr. has been taken into custody and is currently facing three charges of second-degree murder and three counts of using a handgun in the commission of a felony.

The students had traveled to Washington D.C. for a field trip, when Jones pulled out his concealed weapon as they were exiting the charter bus. Christopher Jones has had previous charges with misdemeanor concealed weapons, but never reported it to the school.

A memorial was held for the victims, Devin Chandler, Lavel Davis Jr., and D'Sean Perry, in the John Paul Jones Arena at UVA. More than 9,000 family and friends gathered to pay their respects.

Drunk Semi-Truck Driver in Warsaw

By Lydia Athan

On Saturday, November 13, multiple drivers called authorities to report a large semi-truck swerving in between lanes. Seconds before a collision, the truck failed to halt at a red light. The semi then collided with a St. Ignatius College Prep school bus. The collision caused the bus to flip on its side.

One student was ejected from the crash. Two other critically injured students were immediately transported to a hospital in Fort Wayne by ambulance. The critically injured students are now in stable condition. Though three were critically injured. All other students were either stable or released from the hospital Monday.

Victor Santos, the semi-truck driver, has since been charged with more than two dozen counts of drunk driving and criminal recklessness.

YBK+ Explained

By Bailey Yates

Are you wondering what that QR code was from the last issue? That code is a link to YBK+.

Yearbook+ is a resource for students to add their own personal photos to a digital accessory of the yearbook. It allows students to upload photos via a QR code. This QR link will be in the actual yearbook and can take students to their uploaded pictures.

This means students can have more pictures in the yearbook other than their school photo. This feature also adds opportunities for students' student life photos to be more accurate.

Be sure to ask a yearbook staff member if you have any questions!

Senior Spotlight

By Darren Early

Everyone knows that seniors are the top of the school. We've gone through four years of high school, know all of the teachers, and have become the best at our sports. Seniors literally run this school, so why don't we get any recognition? This year, we're going to change that. All seniors have a tab in their chromebooks to fill out some information. Along with filling out information, seniors will also be asked to upload a few either baby pictures or decent-looking pictures of themselves. Seniors!! Fill out your senior spotlights!!

Eminem Enters Rock and Roll Hall of Fame

By Avery Hunt

I know what you are thinking, how can one of the best rappers of all time get inducted to the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame? Believe it or not Eminem is not the only rapper to be inducted. The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame encompasses many genres of music from Dolly Parton to Green Day. Eminem was inducted by Dr. Dre, November 5 2022. He was in the category "performers" along with Duran Duran, and Lionel Richie

GTA 6 Footage Leaked

By Aldon Zoll

Grand Theft Auto 6 is the upcoming installment of the GTA series created by Rockstar Games. The new video game from the series will be released around 2023 or 2025.

However, new videos of the video game in development were leaked by a hacker in September 2022. This revealed the gameplay of the video game so far.

Although the game is still in development, mechanics of the game such as driving, combat, and walking that were revealed in Rockstar's development of the game so far. The gameplay also revealed two of the main protagonists. From the website GTA Base the characters' names are Lucia and Jason. This will be the first time in the GTA series that it will have the first playable female protagonist in the game.

Furthermore, any information that is connected to the previous video games from the series is not confirmed nor denied from sources. This includes any connection to older characters from the series appearing in GTA 6 has not been revealed yet.

Bop or Flop: Round Two

By Darren Early

Time for round two everyone! Last time, Bluffton High School voted the hit song "Bad Habit" as an official bop. This time around, we wanted to do a bit of a throwback to all of our childhoods. Released in 2008, on Lady Gaga's debut album "The Fame", "Just Dance" was voted a bop or flop by Bluffton High School students.

"Just Dance" is arguably one of Lady Gaga's most well known songs. Some may even venture out to say that the song was such a hit that it inspired the popular video game franchise, "Just Dance", which released its first game of the series just a year after the song. Nonetheless, Gaga's song, along with many others from her first album, skyrocketed her music career from the beginning. Now, Lady Gaga is one of the most popular musical artists in the world, with hundreds of us having her songs engraved into our childhood memories.

On our Instagram page, we asked for Bluffton High School's thoughts on the hit song. Within a day, we had all the results we needed. As expected, the student body voted Gaga's song as an official bop. 74% of voters deemed this song as a bop, with some even saying that it's their favorite song from the early 2000's. The other 26% of voters must not like to get their groove on I guess.

Black Panther: Wakanda Forever

By Ameen Lababneh

After five years of waiting, Marvel released its long-awaited sequel to The Black Panther with the new movie, Black Panther: Wakanda Forever.

Since Chadwick Boseman passed away in 2020, the Marvel Cinematic Universe has not been the same. Some fans were sad because Black Panther, as well as Chadwick Boseman, meant a lot to them. Most Marvel fans were thrilled about the release of Wakanda Forever because the continuation of the movie was unexpected after the passing of Boseman.

Because of the anticipation surrounding the long-awaited sequel, fans all over the world were very excited to watch the movie. So far, the movie has received great reviews.

I highly encourage Marvel fans and casual viewers alike to watch.

Eggcellent New Name for Football

By Amarah Robles, Bailey Yates, and Lauren Mann

Have you ever wondered why Americans call it soccer, yet Europeans call it football? We call it soccer to avoid confusion with the popular sport (American) football. Soccer is played with feet and a ball. The name "football" just comes naturally. In comparison, American football is played with hands and an egg-shaped ball. Don't like the name handegg? Name something else shaped like a football. Eggsactly!

According to CBS, the name handegg has been debated on for decades. After chatting with Bailey Yates and Lauren Mann, another striking fact was brought up about Handegg. The name "football" has very masculine connotations. Lauren mentioned that football players would hate the name "handegg." Bailey then added that handegg is abbreviated to H-E. H-E spells he would make the name cooler for the guys. Now that the handegg season is officially over for the Tigers, we can properly change the name on all legal documents.

MrBeast Videos

By Griffin Linderwell

MrBeast recently became the fourth most subscribed YouTuber. With 113 million subscribers, he is known by a lot of people, but does he deserve this attention?

Primarily, MrBeast creates content that challenges regular people to win a big prize that is usually a large sum of money. He also owns two businesses Feastables and Beast Burger. Feastables is a chocolate company, and Beast Burger is a fast food restaurant.

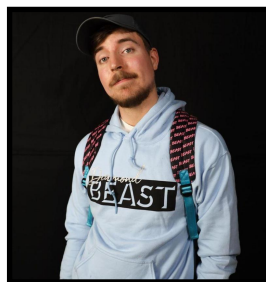

However, people have criticized

MrBeast for being an arrogant showoff who provides cheap entertainment.

However, MrBeast has done multiple projects to help the environment.

He has raised $24 million to plant trees and $33 million to remove trash from the ocean.

In conclusion, even though people have criticized MrBeast for being a showoff he has done multiple things to help people and the environment. So I think that he has earned the attention he has. But I also think some people are weird and give him too much attention.

God of War: Ragnarok Review

By Aldon Zoll

In the newest God of War installment to the series, God of War Ragnarök, has the hype it was hoping for. The original God of War games players could not do as much as the newer game. In God of War Ragnarok, players can wear and equip more stuff than the original games. Items such as swords, axes, and armor can be acquired through gameplay progression.

Gamers can modify the weapons as well as the armors with many modifications that can make them much stronger. In the older games the player would have had to slay enemies to make the weapons better and stronger. There are also relics that hold special powers for axes and spears that can be used to make Kratos stronger. All information is according to The Verge.

Reflections on My First American Thanksgiving

By Annika Schulz

In Germany, we do not celebrate Thanksgiving, so this year was my first Thanksgiving. It was full of new experiences.

My favorite part about the food was our smoked turkey. My host mom also made some beans with bacon, and they were fantastic. However, Mr. Vanderkolk's recommended sweet potato casserole was disgusting.

Because I have three host siblings, their grandparents made us decorate some gingerbread houses. I only did the front side, because it took over an hour to do. I lost my interest.

After all the food, we played some games: darts, Jenga, and other games. Even though I was really bad, it was still funny just playing with everybody. Other than the games, we just sat and talked.

Overall, I think it's more overrated than I first thought because I thought we would have way more food options and more family activities. That could all be from expectations seen on TV and movies.

Eagles Take Control of NFL

By Griffin Linderwell

Recently in football action, action there have been some amazing football games. The first highlight is the Eagles and Commanders game. On Monday November 14th the Eagles lost there 8 game win streak to the Commanders who were 4-5.

The Eagles then came back strong and won in a close game to the Colts with the final score being 17 to 16. Last week the Eagles faced the Packers in another close game. In that game starting quarterback Aaron Rodgers got hurt which lead to back-up quarterback Jordon Love to play. With only a couple weeks left in the NFL some teams need to start winning.

Looking at home team of Indian, the Colts look like they aren't going to make the playoffs. With a rough start and their head coach getting fired the Colts have a record of 4-7-1. In order for them to make the playoffs they would have to win the rest of there games.

With the regular season almost over we will see what teams make the playoffs. The next question after that is who will win the SuperBowl.

Purdue Tops Indiana for the Old Oaken Bucket, Clenches Big 10 West Title

By Lauren Mann

On Saturday, November 26, the annual Old Oaken Bucket game was played against the rivalry schools Purdue and Indiana. The two teams played their first game against each other in 1891, but the Old Oaken Bucket wasn't added to the fun until 1925.

The bucket is special because there is a chain on it, and every year the winning team adds a link to the chain. Indiana would add an "I" and Purdue would add a "P". Also, something else interesting is, each year they alternate where the game is played.

Purdue won on Saturday at Bloomington with a score of 30-16 and leads the overall series with a record of 75 Purdue wins, 42 Indiana wins, and 6 ties between the two teams. This win has led to the Boilers keeping the bucket for three years in a row now.

Something else exciting for Purdue Football is that this win earned them a spot in the Big Ten Championship game, which will be held on Saturday (12/3) in Indy. They will be playing Michigan, who was in the championship game last year also. This was historic for the Boilermakers because it will be their first competing in the Big Ten Championship.

The NBA Season Tips Off

By Jude Baumgartner

The 2022-2023 NBA season just started. The games tipped off on October 18. At the top of the league are the Celtics in the East and the Jazz in the West. Some of the big stars are currently injured; they are LeBron James, Ja Morant, Jimmy Butler, and James Harden. This 2022-2023 season is already about a quarter of the way done.

With the Celtics barely losing in the Finals last year they are looking for a championship this year. Last year's NBA Champions, the Golden State Warriors have fell to 11th. Paolo Banchero is leading the way for the Rookie of the Year candidate. Pacers's rookie Benedict Mathern is close behind. The Pacers are currently 11-8.

Indiana, Purdue Rise to Top of NCAA Basketball

By Ben Maggard

With the start of November begins the college basketball season. Most of the AP top 25 teams have had success in the beginning of the year but some have been disappointed. There also have been some teams that have surprised me.

While North Carolina started out as the number one team they have not played up to the expectations early on. They fell to Iowa State in a close score of 65-70. They also fell in a heartbreaker to Alabama in four overtimes 103-101 for their second straight loss.

A surprising team so far this year has been Purdue. While they may be decent every year, I expected this to be a down year for the Boilermakers. Purdue dominated Gonzaga and Duke to propel them to a rank of 5 this week.

Another team that is performing well this year is the Indiana Hoosiers. They are undefeated so far this season with a record of 7-0. Some good wins so far for the Hoosiers are against North Carolina and Xavier.

The Indiana-Purdue matchup this year will be one for the ages.

Lady Tiger Sharks Begin Their Season

By Lydia Athan

The Lady Tiger Sharks kicked off their season at the Norwell Invitational. At a great starting point, many of the girls were close to their personal best times.

On November 15, the Lady Tiger Sharks fell short against Huntington North. Every girl competed and a couple girls received a time that was near their personal best from the season prior. The top finisher of the night was senior Annika Linderwell. Annika took first place in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle. Other event winners of the night consisted of Zoey Schmidt in the 100 yard freestyle, and the 200 yard freestyle relay of Zoey Schmidt, Olivia Priester, Emma Frauigher, and Annika Linderwell.

The ladies also competed fiercely against the Jay County Patriots Tuesday night but fell short. Many girls shaved off some time in their individual events. The top finishers of the night were Zoey Schmidt and Olivia Priester.

The Sharks competed yesterday against Blackhawk Christian, Bishop Luers, and Muncie Burris. Check the Bluffton Lady Tigersharks' twitter account to see the results of last night's meet.

The ladies will be back in action Tuesday night at 5:30 against Adams Central.

Boys Swimming Opens with Win over Jay County

By Canaan Troyer

Boy's swimming kicks off their season with a win against Jay County. Diver Elijah Robles took first place in diving at the beginning of the meet and victory continued to follow throughout the meet. The team was down a couple of swimmers and it did not affect them. It was a close match throughout but Bluffton pulled through in the end.

Wrestling Opens at Super Duals

By Gavin Thomas

The Bluffton wrestling team opened its season by hosting its annual Super Duals. The Tigers hosted five other teams as each school competed against each other for five matches each.

BHS won three of its matches and lost two. The Tigers defeated Leo, Wes-Del, and Whitko while they lost to Central Noble and Fremont.

Senior Levi Kahn, junior Juan Cruz, and sophomore Levi Johns all went undefeated on the day.

Girls Basketball Starts out Strong

By Ben Maggard

The Lady Tigers have played well so far this season. They have a winning record of 3-2 as of November 29.

In the first game the Tigers lost a tough one to Bishop Dwenger 38-29. Then five days later the Lady Tigers bounced back and won a close game against Mississinewa 50-48. The Tigers then improved their record to 2-1 with a good win against Madison-Grant by nine points. Then on November 22 the Lady Tigers dominated New Haven with an impressive score of 63-28. Finally the Tigers fell in a tough game to the South Adams Starfires.
