Processes and procedures are pervasive in the district and schools to support the district's vision and mission.
2. Operational	The actions of the district effectively foster a culture of trust, collaboration, and shared responsibility for improving learning and teaching within the district and broader community. Processes and procedures are implemented to support the district's vision and mission.	V
3. Emerging	The actions of the district are inconsistent in fostering a culture of trust, collaboration, and shared responsibility for improving learning and teaching. Some effective processes and procedures are used to support the district's vision and mission.
4. Not Evident	The actions of the district do not foster a culture of trust, collaboration, and shared responsibility for improving learning and teaching. Few, if any, effective processes and procedures are used to support the district's vision and mission.

	that Pelham City Schools provides a safe, clean, positive environment; well-rounded education with expanded learning opportunities and civic participation; and communicates well with all families and the communities.
	Personnel: Based on survey data, personnel value stipends and recognition for their hard work. Classroom observations and survey responses indicate the need for using assessment data to inform teacher-directed instruction and small group differentiation. Staff members indicated the presence of student Chromebooks, interactive touch displays, and teacher laptops as vital in the education of their students. In addition, teachers identified the following PL needs: Differentiated Instruction, Increasing Rigor/Challenging Gifted Students, Writing, Reading Strategies, and Accommodating All Learners (including specialized training in special education/inclusion, behavior management, IEP writing, and autism). Small class sizes, the availability of interventionists, and the availability of technology were identified as an important factor in the retention of highly effective personnel as well as beneficial to the students. Parent involvement was the lowest rated domain in the survey. The personnel survey also indicated the need have full-time Literacy and Math coaches in schools on a regular basis.
	Climate: The climate star rating score has increased steadily over the past four years, with PES and PHS retaining their five star rating in SY19; PCMS scored a 4 star rating. According to the student survey results, students feel safe at school. They agreed more strongly that teachers and other adults treat students with respect and fairly as compared to how students treat one another.

What achievement data did you use?	Formative (universal screeners and benchmarks) and summative (ACCESS, EOG, EOC, GAA, GKIDS) assessment data was used to review strengths, weaknesses, and gaps in achievement. In addition, course grades, SAT/ACT scores, college credits, and the 4-yr and 5-yr cohort graduation rates were reviewed.

What does your achievement data tell you?	The formative data being collected aligns with the summative data; therefore, if we do a better job of using the formative assessment data to inform our instructionremediation and accelerationthen we should be able to increase our summative scores. Math especially in grades 4 and 5 continue to be a strength. However, as a district we must focus on increasing the levels of proficiency. The majority of our students continue to score as "Developing Learner." We must now focus on moving from "Developing" to "Proficient." We must also realize the the percentage of gifted students enrolled does not correlate with the percentage of "Distinguished Learners." The achievement data tells us that we must increase the rigor of our classes and move towards acceleration with the students who "do know." The achievement data also indicates that gaps continue to exist between our SWD and general education students as well as our black and white students. Literacy is our greatest concernclose to 40% of students are not reading on grade level in 3rd-7th grades. The percentage of students in grades 8-11 increases to approximately 20-25%; however, by then some have dropped out.

Student demographic data including race, gender, program participation (gifted, special education, migrant, ESOL) attendance, and discipline was used to identify strengths, weaknesses, and gaps. Since Pelham City Schools participates in CEP, all students are classified as "Economically Disadvantaged."

What does the demographic data tell you?	Our demographic data tells us that our gifted, special education, and black students are under-performing in the area of content mastery/achievement.
	Gaps between our SWD and regular education as well as gaps between black and white students exist in terms of achievement.

	and over half indicated they had only participated once or twice. Moving

IDEA - Special Education

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	The district implemented GOIEP during the 2017 school year to improve compliance and plans to continue the implementation of ASPIREwhich will increase student and parent participation in the IEP process. The graduation rate for SWDs has outperformed the state target over the last three years. Class schedules throughout the district include extended learning time for SWDs.
	The District Leadership/GLISI team includes administrators and classroom teachers from the sped department. Co-teaching teams at the high school are experienced and highly effective which has greatly impacted the graduation rate of SWDs.

Challenges	In Pelham City Schools, 13.5% of the student with disabilities population is intellectually disabled, almost double the state average. It is extremely difficult to hire certified special education teachers due to our rural location. A significant achievement gap exists between student with disabilities and other subgroups. In addition, our students with disabilities have a higher absenteeism rate than the all students subgroup. The district has limited post-secondary opportunities for students with disabilities.

NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

Title I - Part A - Improving Academic Achievement of Disadvantaged

Strengths	Standards-based classrooms are evident in all schools. Math scores have improved over the years, especially at grades 3-5; a trend we attribute to the math coaching and PL that has been available.

Challenges	Achievement gaps continue to exist with our Black and SWD subgroups, requiring the need for additional instructional supports in the forms of interventionists, paraprofessionals, computer-lab assistance, instructional technology software programs (Istation, USA Testprep, IXL, and Odysseyware), instructional technology hardware (computers, laptops, Ipads, interactive displays), after school tutoring, and summer school. The majority of our students are still not scoring at the proficient level. Almost half of our students are reading below grade level in grades 3-8. We have also struggled with increasing rigor for our higher achieving students due to the gaps with our lowest quartiles. Additional differentiated instruction is needed in the classroom. Current SY22 data indicates that these gaps have grown following COVID-19.

Title I, Part A - Foster Care

Strengths	The Foster Care Transportation Plan has been developed. Our Parent Involvement Coordinator also serves as the Foster Care Point of Contact. She will work with DFACS, the transportation director, Director of Teaching and Learning (Fed. Programs), school administrators, and counselors to ensure the least amount of disruption possible.

Challenges	Funding for foster care transportation and other needs are a challenge. There is only one school per grade span, so if students are placed in foster care, it may mean that students need to be transported to another district in order to minimize educational disruptions.

Title I, Part A - Parent and Family Engagement

Strengths	PCS employs a full-time Parent and Family Engagement Coordinator. She has excellent rapport with parents, community members, and school administrators and staff. Many parent involvement activities and workshops are offered throughout the year. Attendance is great for events involving student activities/performances such as Math Fest, Science Fair, Pastries for Parents, Grandparents Night, and lunch with students. There is a core group of volunteers who work in the school regularly.

Title I, Part A - Parent and Family Engagement

01 11
Challenges	Two-way communication continues to be a challenge in Pelham City Schools.
	Although parents of children in the younger grades come to events, it is difficult to encourage parents to come to workshops to help them in their child's education. Many teachers, especially in the upper grades, use Remind for parent notification; however, parents must self-select to sign up and often do not. More information needs to be provided to parents via the school and district websites. We would like to increase community and parent/family stakeholder input in the development/revision of documents. In an effort to do so, the Parent Involvement Coordinator is scheduling times to visit different businesses in the community that employ parents of our students. She will be available during their lunch/break to meet with and gather feedback from parents and community members.

Title I, Part C - Education of Migratory Children - Describe your LEA's strengths and challenges in meeting the unique educational needs of its migratory students, preschoolers, dropouts, and out-of-school youth. (Responses from an LEA served through the Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College [ABAC] consortium are needed in order to develop consortium services, including those LEAs without currently identified children. If no migrant children have been enrolled for the past three consecutive years, the LEA should state this to explain why strengths and challenges cannot be identified.)

Strengths	Pelham City Schools only had 5 migrant students enrolled during SY22. None of these students leave our district during the year. That means we are solely responsible for these students' education. All of these have above a 3.25 GPA at the end of SY22.

Challenges	In previous years, it has been difficult to find after-school tutors for those migrant students who are identified as Priority for Services (PFS).

Language Instruction for English Learners and Immigrant Students

Describe your LEA's strengths & challenges in educating English Learner & Immigrant students based on trends and patterns in EL subgroup achievement and progress towards English proficiency. If the LEA does not receive Title III, Part A funds, describe the strengths and challenges of serving English learners in the LEA through state and local resources (the state funded ESOL Language Program).

• If the LEA receives Title III, Part A funds, describe the strengths and challenges of both the ESOL and Title III, Part A language instruction educational programs.

Strengths	ESOL teachers provide support to regular education teachers and training on WIDA standards in order to enhance their ability to provide language instruction in the regular classroom. During SY22, there were no ESOL students at Pelham High School.

Challenges	Scheduling pull-out and/or push-in services is a challenge because we have one ESOL teacher serving all elementary and middle school students.
	Communication with EL parents is a challenge. For the most part, our EL students perform well; however, we have poor attendance at EL parent meetings.

Title IX, Part A - McKinney-Vento Education for Homeless Children and Youth

Strengths	LEA does not regularly receive Title IX, Part A funds at this time; however, there is a homeless set-aside in Title I and additional homeless funds were made available through the CARES Act and ESSER. Pelham City Schools' Parent Involvement Coordinator also serves as the Homeless Liaison. The Homeless Liaison posts the required information regarding the conditions that may qualify a family for being classified as homeless and information is shared throughout the year at meetings, in newsletters, and on the district website.
	All employees receive training on homelessness at the beginning of each school year. In addition school registrars and bus drivers receive more in-depth training as they are on the forefront of meeting parents and/or observing living conditions and pick up, drop off locations. If a student returns the Homeless Questionnaire with a status of homelessness being selected or a staff members submits a referral, the homeless liaison follows up with the family. Once positively identified, the family is referred to community resources and offered assistance with purchasing school uniforms and/or school supplies using the set-aside. Teachers are also asked to identify needs students may have.

Challenges	LEA does not receive Title IX, Part A funds at this time; however, it is a challenge to identify homeless students. If identified, it can be difficult to assist homeless families in accessing resources and/or knowing what services are needed.

Title I,Part A - Equitable Access to Effective Educators

Strengths	Pelham City strives to provide all students with equitable access to effective educators by ensuring that a student is not assigned to an ineffective teacher two consecutive years. The district reviews TKES, EOG/EOC, certification, attendance, and years of experience in determining teacher effectiveness.
	In addition, Pelham Elementary School uses the same core reading and math program among all teachers in all grades to ensure that students are provided a consistent, viable curriculum. The reading program in grades 6-8 is also the same.
	Since there is only one school per grade span, the educators we do employ are equitably distributed.

Challenges	It is a challenge to recruit highly effective educators; therefore, we must
-	provide leadership and professional learning that can move an ineffective teacher to an effective teacher. Also, in middle and high school, there are some content areas that only have one teacher. The System Instructional Support Coordinator and academic coaches are instrumental in providing job-embedded professional learning to these educators that need "coaching up."

Challenges	Pelham City Schools will transfer 100% of Title IV-A funds to Title I-A.

Title V, Part B - Rural Education

Strengths	Pelham City Schools has access to software programs that can be used to engage, remediate, and accelerate students during the educational process.

Challenges	Recognizing that teachers are the most effective instructional resource, it is sometimes difficult to use instructional time for software. However, many of the programs can be used by teachers to supplement and/or engage students during their instruction or be used during independent small group rotations.

3.2 Identification and Prioritization of Overarching Needs

Use the results of 3.1 to identify the overarching needs of the LEA. Determine the priority order of the identified needs based on data, team member and stakeholder knowledge, and answers to questions in the table below. Be sure to address the major program challenges identified in 3.1. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Overarching Need # 1

Overarching Need	#1 Improve student proficiency in all content areas.
How severe is the need?	High
Is the need trending better or	Better worse over time?
Can Root Causes be Identified?	Yes

Additional Considerations	Literacy is the primary focus area; however, we need to move "Developing Learners" to proficient in all content areas. By increasing overall literacy, there should be a positive impact on all content areas.

3.3 Root Cause Analysis

Select the top 2-4 overarching needs from 3.2. Conduct a separate root cause analysis (RCA) for each need. Any RCA tools and resources can be used, but suggestions are available as part of the Identifying Need webinar. After describing the RCA process, complete a table for each selected overarching need.

	district leadership team was asked to work with their school leadership teams to solicit feedback from all teachers and other stakeholders. Representatives from all school levels were included in the team meetings. In addition, personnel from other departments including school nutrition, technology, maintenance, transportation, and parent groups were included in order to form an inclusive group with varied perspectives. Input from stakeholders was gathered through surveys. The Parent Involvement Coordinator also set up meetings within local businesses to solicit feedback from employees who are parents of students in Pelham City Schools or those employees who are community members. In addition, information regarding the CNA and District Improvement Plan was presented at a a virtual spring meeting and feedback was requested. Finally, the documents were posted on the district website for public comment. Updates were communicated to the district school will review data gathered on teacher experience (from gapsc.org) and effectiveness (TKES), along with low achieving student needs and minority status. After reviewing this data, low achieving students and minority students are assigned effective teachers (all students are classified as economically disadvantaged due to participation in CEP). When all classroom assignments are made, principals will evaluate the school-wide teacher experience/low-achieving student needs/minority status. If an imbalance exists, the principal will revise the assignments to make sure all students have teachers with teaching experience and/or additional instructional support.

	2. Out-of-field Teachers: Pelham City Schools seeks to hire only in-field teachers who meet the system's professional qualifications. When out of field teachers are hired, school administration reviews student rosters to ensure the low-achieving and minority students are not assigned to the teacher at a disproportionate rate.
	3. Inexperienced teachers: Each school in Pelham City Schools works to spread new or inexperienced teachers across grade levels or content areas. Schools ensure that large groups of inexperienced teachers are not placed in the same grade or content area. School administration examines roster data to ensure that low-achieving or minority students are not assigned to multiple inexperienced teachers in one year or for 2 years in a row.

	In an effort to build leadership capacity, each school operates a school each school leadership team. These individuals participate in the Georgia Leadership Institute for School Improvement (GLISI). Other opportunities exist for teachers and leaders to take additional coursework to enhance their skill sets to include LAPP and UPPI.

Schools develop a professional learning calendar in which all staff members will have an opportunity to participate in evidence-based professional learning. District leaders and principals will research and document evidence prior to scheduling professional development. Most PL is offered in-house by PCS employees. However, consultants and/or vendors may be contracted with to provide product-specific PL (especially for curricular and/or software programs).
In addition to school and/or district PL, individualized PL is offered based on professional learning goals and/or plans. TAPS data, focus walk summaries, student achievement, attendance, and discipline data will be reviewed to determine whether PL efforts are resulting in improvements in teacher and student performance.

At the end of each pathway, students take an End of Pathway Assessment which may allow them to earn an industry certification. 	PBIS was fully implemented in SY19. Two schools were recognized as faculty at all three schools received PBIS classroom at the beginning of SY20 development is ongoing and evidence based. Discipline data from the first semester of SY20 indicates an improvement in exclusionary discipline practices, although the middle school still presents an above average number of ISS and OSS days. Due to the ongoing pandemic, schools will not change status again this year, despite Pelham City Middle's consistent efforts to improve discipline procedures and the resulting data that shows progress.

4.5 IDEA

Required Questions

IDEA Performance Goals:

Describe how the district will meet the following IDEA performance goals: IDEA Performance Goal 1: Improve graduation rate outcomes for students with disabilities.

What specific post-secondary outcome activities (school completion, school age transition, and post-secondary transition) are you implementing in your LEA to improve graduation rates? Include:Description of your district's proceduresSpecific professional learning activitiesPlan to monitor implementation with fidelity In 2021, the 4-year graduation rate for students with disabilities for Pelham City Schools was 76.92%. The State Target for the 2021 school year was 74.46%.; therefore, the district exceeded the State Target .In 2020, the 4-year graduation rate for students with disabilities for Pelham City Schools was 66.67%. In 2019, the 4-year graduation rate State Target was 64.64% and the 4-year graduation rate for the district was 68.75%. The students with disabilities subgroup met the improvement target for 2019. The students with disabilities subgroup missed the 5-year graduation rate target by .71 percentage points (76.90% Target/ 76.19% Rate). In 2018, the State target was 67.67%, and the 4-year graduation rate for Pelham City Schools was 63.64%. However, the 5-year graduation rate was 76.19. The district met the target in 2018 for the Drop Out Rate. The State Target was 5.60% and the District Rate was 4.3%. In 2017, students with disabilities met the subgroup target, but not the state performance target. In 2014, 2015, and 2016 the district graduation rate outperformed the State graduation rate.

As a district, we are working toward improving our graduation and reducing our dropout rate. When students are scheduled for classes at Pelham High School, they are looked at individually. Their credits are analyzed and decisions are made on how to best serve them and keep them in school on the way to graduation. This is done for all of our students not just those with disabilities. We truly have an individualized plan for all of our students. Teachers are involved in monthly departmental professional learning experiences at the school level as well as district lead professional learning experiences to help reach all of our students. Teachers are trained in co-teaching strategies. Periodic focus walks and observations are conducted, by administrators and central office leaders, to make sure these strategies are being utilized by the teachers with fidelity. Meetings are held with parents of students in danger of dropping out to collectively map out a plan to help the student complete requirements for graduation.

A strong effort was made to educate parents of GAA students about the requirements needed to obtain a regular education diploma for their child. In addition to IEP meetings, individual meetings with parents and students were held to answer questions and devise a plan for obtaining a regular education diploma. For those students that entered the ninth grade prior to the 2020-2021 school year, that plan will remain in place. However, An alternate diploma will be earned by students who entered the ninth grade during or after the 2021 school year. The option to receive a regular education diploma is no longer available for students with cognitive disabilities that take the GAA. Parents and students will be educated about the differences between the two at the beginning of the school year.

Improvement Plan. Pelham City Schools actively seeks input, feedback, and participation from internal and external stakeholders. The district host Community Work Sessions two to three times a year. During these sessions, we identify strengths, weaknesses, accomplishments and threats within our school system and community. Two District Leadership Teams (GLISI Team and Principal Directors Team) meet monthly. Special education has an active role and is well represented in all leadership teams meetings and community events. The District collaborates with outside organizations and agencies that support improving outcomes for students with disabilities. These groups include Vocational Rehabilitation, Easter Seals, Mitchell-Baker Service Center, Southern Regional Technical College, Georgia Pines, Chamber of Commerce (local), Albany State University, and several local businesses. In 2019, the district implemented the PBIS and ASPIRE initiatives to support graduation outcomes for students with disabilities. A positive learning environment and self-advocacy are vital to students with disabilities. The initial PBIS implementation went very well at all three schools. School level administrators have effectively led the implementation of the program, especially at the high school. At the beginning of the 2022 school year, the district strengthen the PBIS program by implementing Capturing Kids Hearts. This district-wide initiative focuses on relationship building and social-emotional training for teachers and staff to address student needs within the PBIS framework. We will continue to expand the ASPIRE program throughout the district. During the 2021 school year, all special needs teachers completed at least one ASPIRE IEP meeting. During the 2022 school year, fifty-five ASPIRE meetings were completed throughout the district. Tanya Clark serves as the ASPIRE expert for the district and provide guidance and support to all of the special needs teachers. Debra Forzberg, Exceptional Students Parent Mentor, supports this initiative by helping parents understand the importance of ASPIRE as it relates to self-advocacy and improving student outcomes. She also help parents play a more active role in this process. The district has many supports in place to improve student achievement and graduation rates. • Extended learning time during the school day for students to receive additional academic support, • The use of standards based instruction throughout the district. • Focus walks and Impact checks • Ongoing job embedded professional learning related to co-teaching, differentiation, poverty training, and classroom management • Data collection through universal screeners for both math and ELA three times a year, • Discipline data will be tracked by Bernadette Bennett, parent mentor, throughout the school year. She will also work with Lead teachers and school level administrators to increase swd attendance.

• After school program at the high school that support the needs of the whole child by providing a snack during the remediation activity,

• An ongoing effort by all teachers to build a positive trusting relationship with our students with disabilities

• The Unique Learning System provides a more challenging curriculum for GAA students throughout the district. The curriculum also supports the acquisition of life skills that are vital to the success of our students with significant cognitive impairments.

• The district will address learning loss for all students by using ESSR funds to reduce class size and expand intervention programs.

The district leadership team meets monthly and identifies areas to improve on within the district. This meeting allows all three schools to have a voice in the future of our students. Our district has adopted the attitude that graduation rests with all educators and not just the high school teachers. This creates buy-in from the teachers and administrators to do what is needed for our students to succeed. The district supports the high schools after school program called NEST. This forty-five minute time period is for student remediation and credit recovery. All students have the opportunity to participate in this program and many have graduated as a result of this time. Graduation rates are monitored at the school level by building level administrators and by the District Leadership team. Improving graduation outcomes are discussed at district and school leadership meetings. Identifying students at risk of dropping out of school begins in middle school. Students who are identified as being at risk of becoming a dropout are targeted for additional support. A graduation plan is developed for that student and parental contact intensifies. At risk students are encouraged to participate in extra-curricular activities in an effort to keep them engaged. Transition plans are developed for all students with disabilities prior to age 16 or before entering 9thgrade. These plans are reviewed and updated annually. Students with disabilities who are considering college or technical school have the opportunity to participate in SAT/ACT test prep at the high school. All intellectually disabled students who participate in the GAA are given applications for the Mitchell Baker training center. At the beginning of each school year, Susie Pollock, special education teacher, sets up a meeting in August with Vocational Rehabilitation. Due to COVID, no services were provided during the 2021 school year. Services resumed during the 2022 school year. We will continue to seek opportunities through Vocational Rehab. Pelham High School will implement Project Search during the 2023 school year. The application process was completed during the 2022 school year. Cathe Hoskins will serve as coordinator/instructor for the program. Project Search will improve post-secondary outcomes for students with disabilities. Debra Forzberg, parent mentor, will support this program by tracking and communicating with all of our graduating students with disabilities within two weeks after graduation. She will communicate with these students on a bi-monthly basis to address any needs that they might have as they transition into work, college, or a service agency. She will also serve as a resource for these students and their parents.

professional learning. All students based on needs are offered a continuum of services throughout their school career.
IEP's are reviewed yearly to ensure that students with disabilities are receiving the needed services. The referral process is instilled in all staff through professional learning and mentoring. All updates to the protocols are assimilated to staff via email, in person training, or staff development training.
The Director of Special Education works closely with GLRS and RESA to gain information on what is needed to provide Students with Disabilities an appropriate education. The Director is responsible for disseminating that information to teachers and support staff. IEP's are reviewed periodically to ensure that services identified in the IEP match the services indicated in the student information system and classroom.
Data is obtained from periodic classroom testing, system testing and state testing to determine if students are reaching the goals set for them based on their needs. Need for further evaluation or reevaluation is reviewed a interventions identified, but the goal was not met. While the percentage of students scoring at Proficiency and Above remained largely the same from a district-view, there was great volatility in Milestones EOG/EOC performance at individual grade levels/departments and classrooms. The ability to maintain performance will be celebrated, but the district will continue to focus on teacher development and student interventions and supports to increase EOC/EOG Proficiency and Above performance by 2%. Due to an influx of new teaching staff in SY23, the district will focus on new teacher development and mentoring, as well as content and pedagogical growth.
