FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

Education done right can be messy.

Sometimes it means adapting every year to meet students' changing needs, or setting aside a plan to take advantage of unexpected opportunities or to overcome setbacks. Sometimes it means challenging young people to step outside their comfort zones, which is where they grow as thinkers. These things take time and can be messy, but are small prices to pay to be as effective as we can with every student.

In October, I joined our Ocean Studies class on a trip to the Penobscot town landing. Every step was well planned, but circumstances changed, and we responded to those changes.

It started pouring rain, but we didn't mind. By the time we got there, the rain had stopped. The boat wouldn't start, so we decided to walk through the woods to a place where we could gather near water. At first, we couldn't find the path, but then some students did. We couldn't seine and count plankton as planned, but a visiting scientist talked about the site and had the students test the water's salinity. Megan Flenniken, the teacher, has students make journal entries as field scientists do, recording the date, time, and place, and writing about and drawing what they observed. Real science happened.

This trip did not go according to plan. A classroom lesson would have been neater. But because the teacher and students were willing to face conditions beyond their control, the trip was a more valuable experience.

I was reminded of three truths: good teachers plan, but they also adapt; when our students are engaged and trusted, they can handle anything; and good education can be messy.

We produce this Annual Report to thank all the people — our alumni, family members, and friends of the school, as well as many businesses and organizations — who supported GSA last year. Without your support, GSA could not be the sort of school that stretches beyond these walls, which sometimes can be messy. Thank you for making a difference in the lives of our students.

FROM THE BOARD CHAIR

The Board of Trustees is pleased to announce Katrina Parson as its first honorary trustee. This distinction is awarded to an individual who has demonstrated exemplary service over multiple terms, shown consistent philanthropic support, and demonstrated continued interest in the institution. Katrina's exceptional service embodies that definition. A plaque with her photograph will be displayed in the Academy Commons building.

In June, we recognized two outgoing trustees, Margaret Hannah and Brian van Emmerik, who both completed three consecutive three-year terms. Margaret and Brian served on multiple committees throughout their tenure, most notably Margaret on Buildings and Grounds and Brian as treasurer and on the Committee on Trustees. Although they are no longer trustees, their commitment to GSA is demonstrated by their willingness to continue to serve on various ad hoc committees.

The Board of Trustees also has welcomed three new members: Brendon Reay, Zoe Robbins Tenney '93, and, as a seasonal trustee, James Crawford. Each brings new skills, expertise, and energy to the board. Brendon teaches Greek and Roman mythology as an adjunct instructor at the University of Maine, works as an investment consultant, and recently moved to Maine. Zoe grew up on the peninsula, graduated from GSA, left for college, and returned as a nurse practitioner to work and raise her family in Sedgwick. She has served on several boards, including those of Blue Hill Memorial Hospital and The Bay School, and chairs the Sedgwick Budget Committee. Jim has spent his life in banking and the energy industry. He lives half the year in Richmond, Va., and the other half in Blue Hill. He was the board chair at Colby College and continues to serve on that board. His connections to our seasonal community will help to strengthen the relationship between the summer and year-round communities.

The strength of GSA's board comes from its members, past and present, who dedicate themselves to ensuring the school's financial stability so that it can best serve all of its students. We welcome our new trustees, say "thank you" to those who are term-limited, and are excited to honor our first honorary trustee.

Sincerely,
Samantha Politte

PAVING THE WAY: 2018 Class Gift

As its parting gift to GSA, the Class of 2018 donated funds toward reconstruction of the semicircular path at the foot of the Academy Building walkway. The class sourced new stone pavers from Maine, and M.E. Astbury & Son, Inc. planned and executed the site work, donating part of the labor to help fund the project.

A committee of 13 seniors coordinated classmates' brainstorming and voting on the gift idea and helped manage the process. Committee members Isla Brownlow, Vũ Đô, and Nellie Haldane presented the gift to GSA during Commencement on behalf of the class, noting that the original walkway was a gift from the Class of 1928.

THE EAGLES HAVE LANDED!

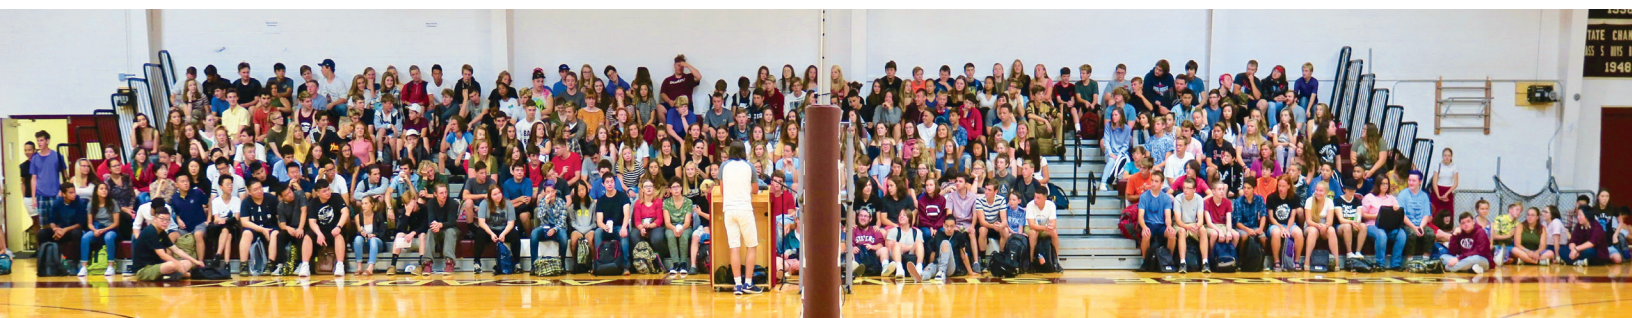

Eighty-five new members of the GSA community attended 9th-grade orientation on campus on August 29. The Class of 2022 includes students from 14 different municipalities in Maine and China: Beijing, Blue Hill, Brooklin, Brooksville, Castine, Cranberry Isles, Deer Isle, Ellsworth, Fletchers Landing, Penobscot, Orland, Sedgwick, Stonington, and Surry.

Students met our faculty at an assembly, then split into groups for their first advisory meeting of the year. Dan Kane addressed the class and shared these true words, a sentiment we all share: "You all bring so much to GSA, different interests, skills, and backgrounds. We're happy to have you with us!"

Those groups then convened on the front lawn for fun, challenging ice-breaking and team-building activities. After lunch, they ran through an abbreviated school day so they could find their classrooms and meet their teachers.

The next day, all of our Eagles were back on campus for the first full day of school. This included returning students and nearly twenty new 10th, 11th, and 12th graders from area towns and from the Dominican Republic, Timor-Leste, Jamaica, China, and South Korea. We wish them all the best, whether they are in their first, second, third, or final year here at GSA.

JOE PARSON DEDICATED TO GSA BASEBALL, BLEACHERS DEDICATED TO JOE PARSON

Joe Parson, friend and supporter of GSA baseball, was honored at a dedication of new bleachers given by family and friends in his memory. The ceremony was held at the varsity field before a home game against MDI High School on May 17.

Of the ceremony, Joe's son Nick recently said, "The dedication of the new bleachers last spring was incredibly moving for myself and my dad's friends and family. He and I had a strong bond through baseball that only grew as the years went on. That field was the last place that my dad ever saw a game, so to be there on those bleachers watching the GSA team with so many people who meant so much to my dad made for a wonderful day. I hope many others in the community have similar experiences there for years to come."

"This gift from the Parson family and friends in the community," said Head of School Tim Seeley, "is a lovely way to remember Joe Parson, as it will enable people for years to come to watch a high school baseball game in a beautiful setting."

Joe was a friend to many in the Blue Hill and Brooklin communities, where he spent summers his entire life prior to moving to Blue Hill full-time in 2007.

STATE OF THE ARTS

Management and Union Reach Deal, Fall in Love

GSA's production of The Pajama Game took the stage at The Grand in Ellsworth in November. Based on the book "7-1/2 Cents," the musical, about labor disputes and love at an Iowa pajama factory, featured classic songs like "Hernando's Hideaway" and "Steam Heat."

Congratulations to the staff, cast, crew, and musicians, and all the parents and other volunteers who helped out, on a very entertaining show.

That's Some Band

The GSA Jazz Band performed for an enthusiastic crowd at the Blue Hill Fair on Sept 1, the 25th year of such performances, under Steve Orlofsky's direction. The fair marks for many the end of summer, but for the musicians, it marked the beginning of the school year. The set list touched on several jazz genres with songs like "Green Onions," "Cissy Strut," and "You Are the Sunshine of My Life."

Musical Notes

Three GSA musicians were selected to perform at the All-State Jazz Festival at South Portland High School Jan. 3-5. Elana Williamson '19 will play vibes in the All-State Honors Jazz Band for the second year in a row. Edward Conte '19 will play drums in the rhythm section for the All-State Jazz Choir. Gabe Hall '22 will play trumpet in the All-State Jazz Band. Congratulations on your successful auditions. Have a great time at the festival!

Haystack

More than two dozen GSA students spent three days at the Haystack Mountain School of Crafts in September exploring their creativity in six arts workshops with professional artists as guides. GSA was well represented, which shows our students' dedication to studio arts. Art teacher and chaperone Mariel Duym explored metalwork while at Haystack.
