*reports concerning open/active investigations are generally not releasable

ARREST REPORTS:

Pending Cases:

The "Record of Arrest", as defined by §1-215 of the Connecticut General Statutes, becomes public information from the time of the arrest. Records pertaining to juvenile arrests are not releasable.

Closed Cases:

Records and documents associated with adjudicated cases are public information unless erased pursuant to law. The Subject of an erased record may obtain a copy upon satisfactory proof of identity. Records pertaining to juvenile arrests are not releasable.

ACCIDENT REPORTS:

Most reports concerning traffic accidents are available for disclosure to the general public upon completion of the investigation. In cases involving criminal arrests (i.e. DUI) stemming from the accident investigation, release may be limited to involved parties or their legal representatives during the pendency of the court proceedings (Reference §7-282 and 14-227i, C.G.S.). "Crash" reports may also be available online through BuyCrash.com

OTHER:

Records compiled in conjunction with closed cases/complaints not resulting in an arrest are available for public release unless otherwise exempted by law. Records pertaining to background checks, certain data/statistics pertaining to Department activity and other reports are generally available for public release as well.
