Book Summary (abbreviated, bulleted list)	Potentially Objectionable Content (list all categories and at least one example, referenced with a page or chapter number)
Forget Me Not by debut author Ellie Terry is a coming-of-age novel narrated in both verse and prose. It tells the story of Calliope June, an intelligent, strong-willed girl with Tourette syndrome, who has to move again with her mom. She starts seventh grade in a new town and the other kids quickly notice that she makes faces or noises when she doesn't want to -- the symptoms of her neurological disorder. A popular Asian-American boy struggles to stand up for Callie as another girl picks on her. There's some teasing, but ultimately this is a beautiful character-driven story about self-acceptance, connection, and friendship.	None

ABOUT THE CLASS

Rationale for the Literature Selection (in addition to standards): (To be completed by the teacher or team)

This book will be used for a unit of novels in verse in which students will practice skills such as determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings (RL 6.4). Students will analyze how a particular scene or stanza fits into the overall structure of a text and how it contributes to the development of the theme, setting and plot (RL 6.5). Students will also analyze how point of view develops across a text (RL 6.6). Additionally, students will compare the text to different genres, including memoirs, short stories and poems, in terms of how the texts address themes about the struggle to embrace our differences (RL 6.9).
