Statement of Purpose

The purpose of Grade 12 Health is to expose students to real world challenges that they will currently be facing as well as challenges that they will be encountering in the near future. It's important because students have the opportunity to grow, learn and develop as healthy individuals. As a result of this curriculum, students will learn concepts, skills, and strategies about relationships, dealing with stress and anxiety, mental illness/suicide, alcohol, medicines and drugs. These topics will help students to deal with their health challenges effectively in their future.

Our Health Educational program is designed to mesh in-class instruction with actual hands-on orientation in activities driven to apply concepts and ideas to health and wellness activities. Not only will students to be able to learn through these hands-on activities the ‘how’ students will also learn the ‘why’ behind such health and wellness activities. This explanation and instruction of health and wellness issues is designed to allow our students to develop a broader understanding of their physical, emotional and mental wellness while, at the same time, provide them with practical knowledge and skills in order to take control of their own health and wellness.

Summary of the Course

Grade 12 Health is a required quarterly course designed for seniors. The course provides students with the skills needed to make decisions that will impact life today and in the future. The course will provide the students all necessary knowledge through five instructional units. The units will focus on relationships, dealing with stress and anxiety, mental illness/suicide, alcohol, medicines and drugs. Teachers are encouraged to use multiple forms of assessment to ensure students have acquired the necessary skills and benchmarks required by the NJSLS. Summative assessments should be done at the end of each lesson and unit. They can include lesson and chapter quizzes, portfolios, projects, and any other form of assessment that the teacher sees fit. Formative assessments should also be used throughout each lesson to check for understanding and gauge student skill levels. In order to address a wide variety of student skill levels, teachers should differentiate instruction to appropriately challenge all students in the class. Finally, modifications should be made that address students with Individualized Educational Plans (IEP), English Language Learners (ELL), and those requiring other modifications (504 plans). In order to demonstrate a cohesive and complete implementation plan the following general suggestions are provided:

- The use of various formative assessments is encouraged in order to provide an ongoing method of determining the current level of understanding the students have of the material presented.
- Homework, when assigned should be relevant and reflective of the current teaching taking place in the classroom.
- Organizational strategies should be in place that allow the students the ability to take the information gained in the classroom and put in in terms that are relevant to them.
- Instruction should be differentiated to allow students the best opportunity to learn.
- Assessments should be varied and assess topics of instruction delivered in class.
- Modifications to the curriculum should be included that address students with Individualized Educational Plans (IEP), English Language Learners (ELL), and those requiring other modifications (504 plans).

Unit 1: Managing Stress and Anxiety

Content Area: Sample Content Area
Course(s):
Time Period: Sample Time Period
Length: Sample Length
Status: Not Published

Summary of the Unit

The managing stress and anxiety unit discusses stress, anxiety and depression, and helps students understand how they can become resilient individuals. Stress, the reaction of the body and mind to everyday challenges and demands, is a natural part of life. It can have a positive or negative effects. Excessive or prolonged stress has a detrimental effect on physical, mental/emotional, and social health. The ability to identify personal stressors, and manage responses to unavoidable stressors can help individuals protect all aspects of their health. Anxiety - feelings of unease and worry - should be managed in healthy ways. Depression is a prolonged feeling of helplessness, hopelessness, and sadness. Teens with persistent anxiety or depression can benefit from professional help. Resiliency, the ability to adapt effectively and recover from difficulty, disappointment, or crisis, throughout the life span can be identified and developed.

Enduring Understandings

Students will examine causes of stress.

Analyze how stress can affect physical, mental/emotional, & social health.

The unit will teach students to identify personal causes of stress.

Identify symptoms of anxiety & depression.

Students will analyze how being resilient through life's changes can help one's own mental health.

Essential Questions

What causes stress?

How can stress be managed?

How will the trait of being resilient help one be successful dealing with life's changes?

HE.9-12.2.1.12.EH.1

Recognize one's personal traits, strengths, and limitations and identify how to develop skills to support a healthy lifestyle.

The decisions one makes can influence an individual's growth and development in all dimensions of wellness.

HE.9-12.2.1.12.EH.4

Analyze and adapt mental and emotional health messages and communication techniques to peers and other specific target audience (e.g., dimensions of health).

HE.9-12.2.1.12.EH.3	Describe strategies to appropriately respond to stressors in a variety of situations (e.g., academics, relationships, shootings, death, car accidents, illness).
HE.9-12.2.1.12.EH.2	Analyze factors that influence the emotional and social impact of mental health illness on the family.

Suggested Modifications for Special Education, ELL and Gifted Students

- Consistent with individual plans, when appropriate.
- Below-level learners can be provided with graphic organizers, vocabulary cards, study guides, printed notes, and leveled readers. Projects can be modified or leveled as needed.
- Restructure lesson using UDL principals (http://www.cast.org/our-work/about-udl.html#.VXmoXcfD_UA); Structure lessons around questions that are authentic, relate to students' interests, social/family background and knowledge of their community.
- Provide students with multiple choices for how they can represent their understandings (e.g. multisensory techniques-auditory/visual aids; pictures, illustrations, graphs, charts, data tables, multimedia, modeling).
- Provide opportunities for students to connect with people of similar backgrounds (e.g. conversations via digital tool such as SKYPE, experts from the community helping with a project, journal articles, and biographies).
- Provide multiple grouping opportunities for students to share their ideas and to encourage work among various backgrounds and cultures (e.g. multiple representation and multimodal experiences).
- Engage students with a variety of Science and Engineering practices to provide students with multiple entry points and multiple ways to demonstrate their understandings.
- Use project-based science learning to connect science with observable phenomena; Structure the learning around explaining or solving a social or community-based issue.
- Provide ELL students with multiple literacy strategies including websites with various language options.
- Collaborate with after-school programs or clubs to extend learning opportunities.

Suggested Modifications for Special Education, ELL and Gifted Students

Consistent with individual plans, when appropriate.

Below-level learners can be provided with graphic organizers, vocabulary cards, study guides, printed notes, and leveled readers. Projects can be modified or leveled as needed.

Restructure lesson using UDL principals (<http://www.cast.org/our-work/about-udl.html#.VXmoXcfD-UA>); Structure lessons around questions that are authentic, relate to students' interests, social/family background and knowledge of their community.

Provide students with multiple choices for how they can represent their understandings (e.g. multisensory techniques-auditory/visual aids; pictures, illustrations, graphs, charts, data tables, multimedia, modeling).

Provide opportunities for students to connect with people of similar backgrounds (e.g. conversations via digital tool such as SKYPE, experts from the community helping with a project, journal articles, and biographies).

Provide multiple grouping opportunities for students to share their ideas and to encourage work among various backgrounds and cultures (e.g. multiple representation and multimodal experiences).

Engage students with a variety of Science and Engineering practices to provide students with multiple entry points and multiple ways to demonstrate their understandings.

Use project-based science learning to connect science with observable phenomena; Structure the learning around explaining or solving a social or community-based issue.

Provide ELL students with multiple literacy strategies including websites with various language options.

Collaborate with after-school programs or clubs to extend learning opportunities.

Unit 5: Medicines and Drugs

Content Area: Sample Content Area
Course(s):
Time Period: Sample Time Period
Length: Sample Length
Status: Published

Summary of the Unit

Students will analyze drugs including both medicines and illegal drugs. They will consider how to use medicines safely and how to avoid the use of illegal drugs.

Enduring Understandings

Students will understand that medicines are considered in four categories.

Students will realize that misusing medicines and using illegal drugs are high risk behaviors.

Students will comprehend that medicines/supplements, and other drugs have a variety of harmful effects on the human body and influence the ability to make decisions related to personal wellness and the wellness of others.

Students will realize the effects of drugs can have physical, mental, social and legal consequences.

Essential Questions

Why do people choose to use alcohol, tobacco, medicines/supplements, and other drugs when they are aware of the detrimental effects?

How do I make informed decisions in the face of pressures from the media and peers?

How does a person become addicted to drugs?

What are some strategies to prevent the use of drugs or other addictive substances?
