

Intro to Music Technology and Recording

Previous music experience not required!
1 semester elective

The Opportunities

In a technology-driven world, this course is designed to provide students hands-on experiences in recording and producing music. With access to state-of-the-art recording equipment, students in this class learn professional recording techniques and compositional methods all while mixing and editing on industry standard software, "ProTools." This experience gives students an advantage entering a college-level program and the skills needed to begin pursuing post high school recording careers.
