CAUTIONS

Lorain County Community College

CollegeCredit PLUS

Risks of Underperforming

- If students fail or withdraw from a college course, their school district may seek reimbursement of tuition costs from student/family.
- Future financial aid could be impacted
- Students may be placed on academic probation or dismissal by the college.
- Grades that students earn are permanently on their college transcript.

Risks of Underperforming

High school graduation could be jeopardized if student withdraws or fails a course needed for high school graduation

One College Course (3 Credits) = 1 High School Unit

What does being "college-ready" mean?

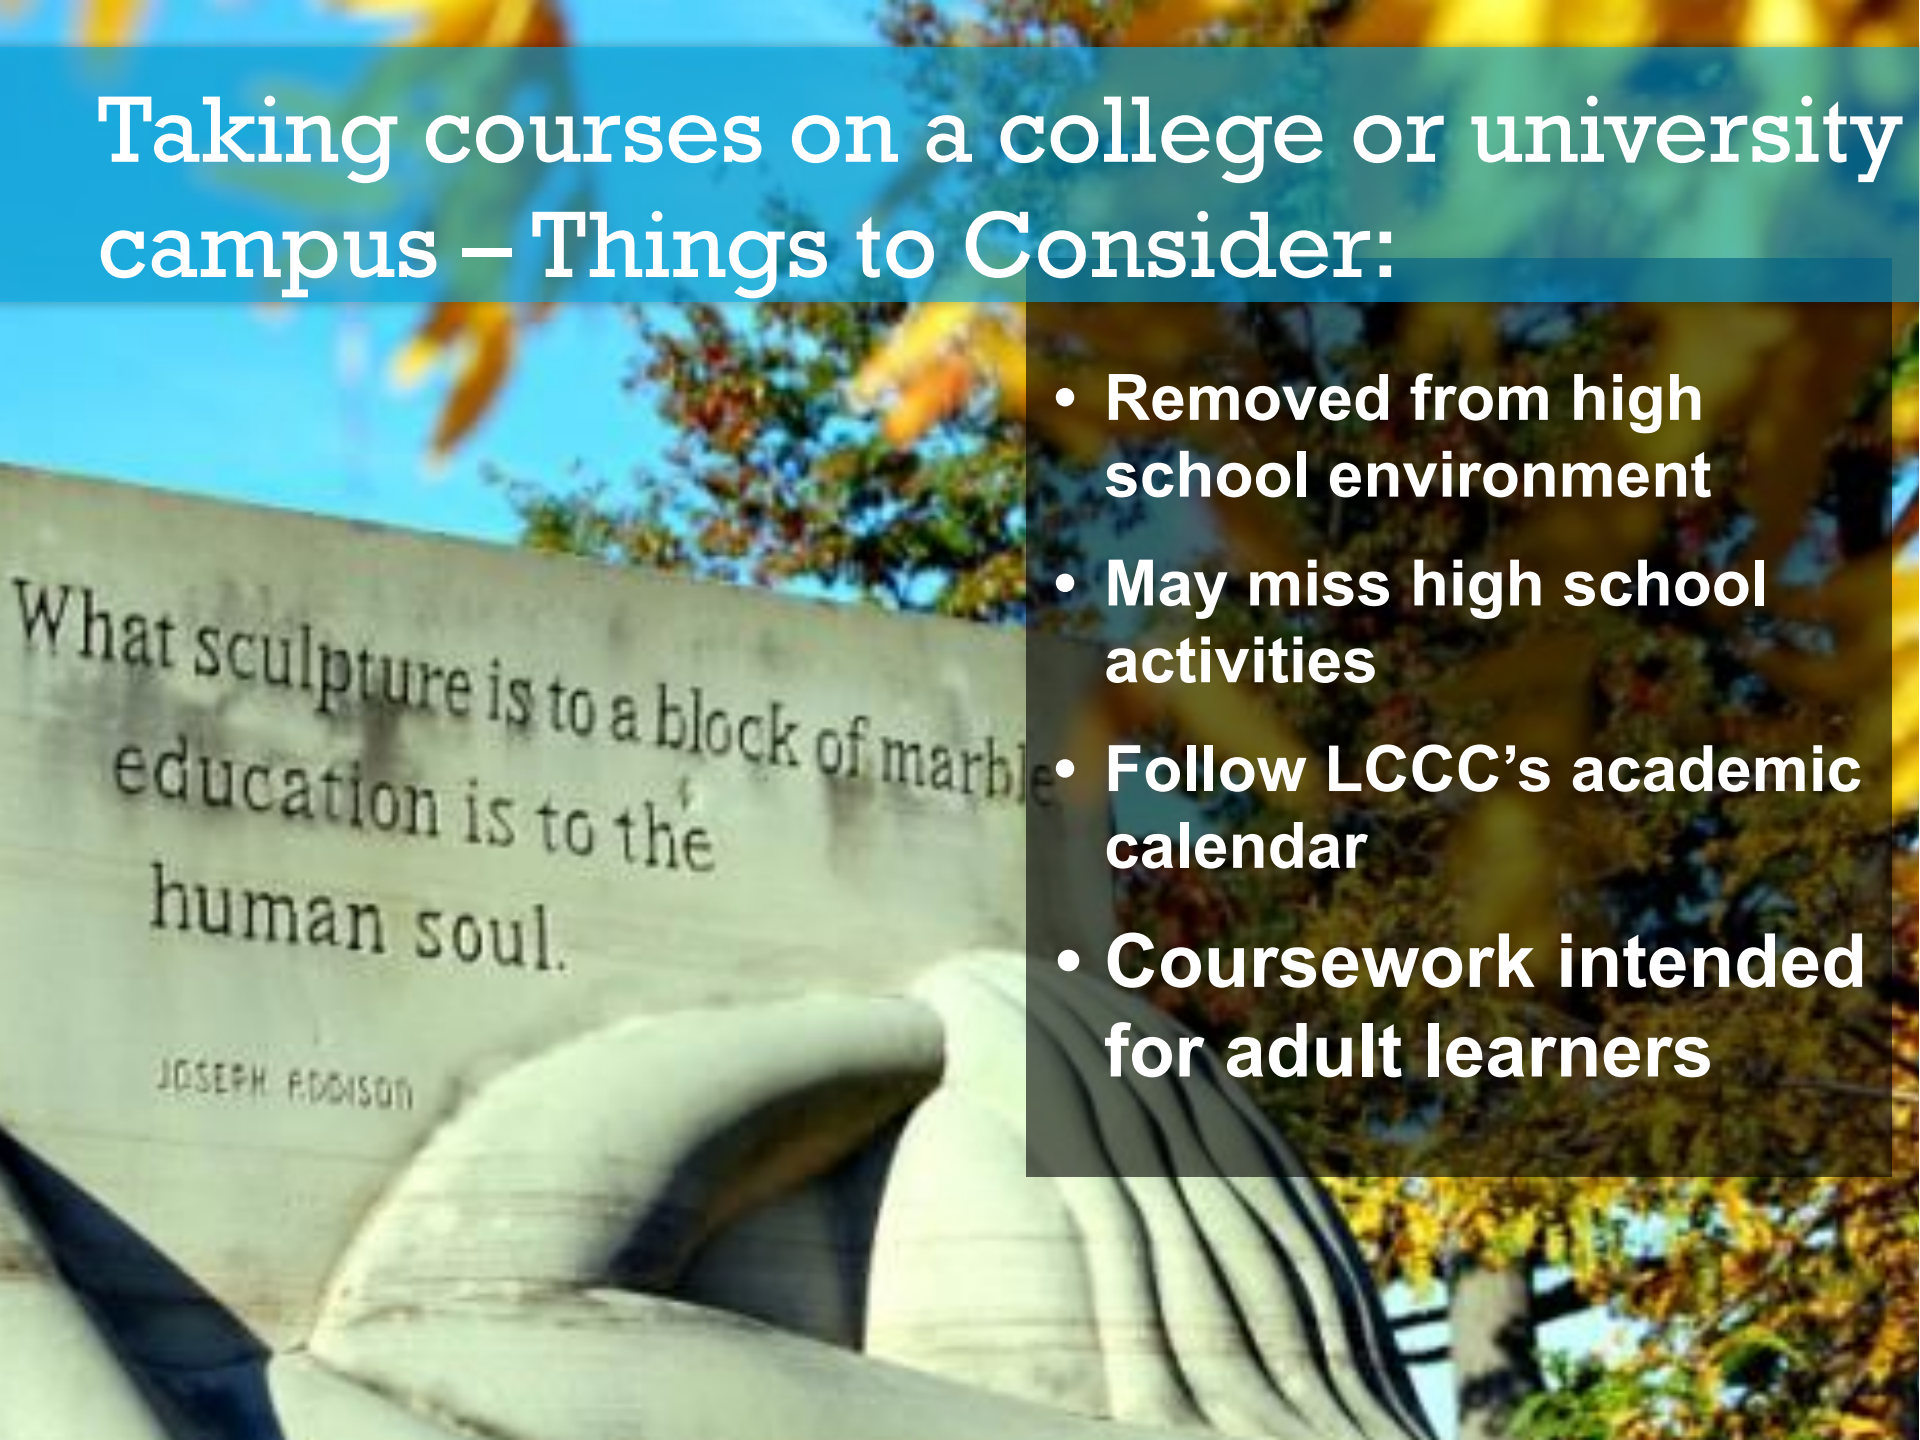

It's more than just a test score!

- Consider emotional and social transition and college expectations.
- Consider time management and organizational skills.

High School and College:

How are they different?

Lorain County Community College

CollegeCredit PLUS

High School and College: Differences

Testing

High School:

Tests are sometimes given weekly or at the end of chapters in textbook.

College:

Tests are generally fewer in number and cover more material.

High School and College: Differences

Study Time

High School

Required homework ranges from 1-3 hours per day

College

Standard rule of 2-3 hours of homework for every hour spent in class
(3-5 hours per day)

High School and College: Differences

Knowledge Acquisition

High School

Information provided mostly in-class. Out-of-class research is minimal.

College

Coursework will generally require more independent thinking, longer writing assignments and out-of-class research.

High School and College: Differences

Grades

High School	College
Numerous quizzes, tests and homework assignments.	Fewer tests and fewer, if any, homework assignments will be used to determine final grades.

High School and College: Differences

Parent Role

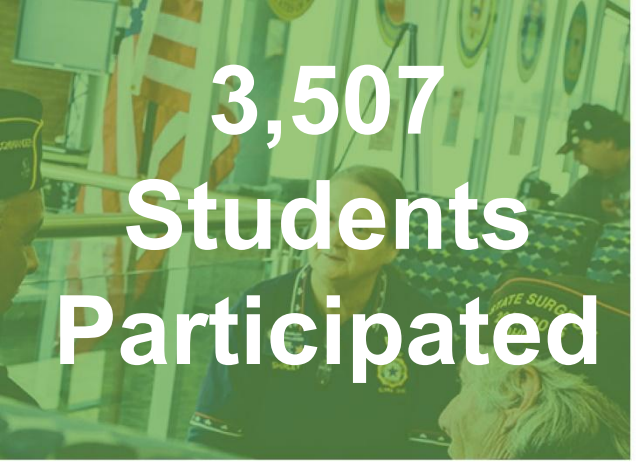

High School	College
Parents are strong advocates working closely with counselors and teachers	Parent serves as a mentor and support for the student. College views student as independent decision-maker. (FERPA)
